Research And Development And School Change Learning Research And Development:

Research and Development and School Change : a Symposium of the Learning Research and Development Center, University of Pittsb, 1978 Research and Development and School Change Robert Glaser, 2020-11-27 First published in 1983 The essays in this book are based on papers presented at a symposium held in March 1976 at the Learning and Development Center LRDC University of Pittsburgh It was planned to serve three purposes to pay tribute to retiring chairman Ralph W Tyler to mark the dedication of LRDC s new buiding and to provide an opportunity for those involved in research and development to reflect further on its implications for school change Implementation of the Educational Research, Development, Dissemination, and Improvement Act United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Subcommittee on Select Education and Civil Rights, 1995 The House Subcommittee met to consider the progress that had been made toward the implementation of the restructuring of the Office of Educational Research and Improvement OERI and the fulfillment of its original mission the equalization of educational opportunities for disadvantaged children A report on implementation efforts was presented by Sharon P Robinson Assistant Secretary of OERI The passage of the Education Research Development Dissemination and Improvement Act Title IX of the Goals 2000 Educate America Act reaffirms the Federal government s commitment to reform through research rather than ideology Progress in making OERI a consumer driven organization is detailed with systemic change efforts listed chronologically Among the most important of the challenges facing OERI is the construction of five new institutes for research and dissemination among which are the Office of Reform Assistance and Dissemination and The National Library of Education The remarks of Sharon Robinson were followed by discussion and the supporting statements by Edmund W Gordon James McPartland and Beverly J Walker SLD

Hearing on H.R. 856, the Educational Research, Development and Dissemination Excellence Act United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Subcommittee on Select Education and Civil Rights, 1993 The hearing transcribed in this report is focused on the imperative of having a federal educational research and development strategy As part of this strategy a discussion concerning an innovative approach to dissemination and professional development also took place The report contains testimony from 1 G Carl Ball Committee on the Federal Role in Education Research National Research Council National Academy of Sciences and Andrew C Porter Committee on the Federal Role in Education Research National Research Council National Academy of Sciences Wisconsin Center for Education Research 2 A Alfred Taubman Chairman Michigan Partnership for New Education Michigan State University 3 Judith Lanier President Michigan Partnership for New Education accompanied by Elnora Crutchfield Assistant Principal for the Seventh Grade Holmes Middle School Flint Michigan 4 Carlton E Brown Dean School of Liberal Arts and Education Hampton University Hampton Virginia and 5 the American Educational Research Association s Hispanic Research and Bilingual Education Special Interest Groups TMK Research and Education Reform National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and it rests They help us to approach projects of understanding or initiating educational change more deeply reflectively and realistically Educational change and reform have rarely had so much prominence within public policy in so many different places Educational change is ubiquitous It figures large in Presidential and Prime Ministerial speeches It is at or near the top of many National policy agendas Everywhere educational change is not only a policy priority but also major public news Yet action to bring about educational change usually exceeds people s understanding of how to do so effectively Otto E. Lansing School District Board of Education, 455 MICH 285 (1997) ,1997 106020 Research in Education ,1973 The Elementary School Journal ,1982 School Reform, Corporate Style Dorothy Shipp,2006 Like other big city school systems Chicago s has been repeatedly reformed over the last century Yet its schools have fallen far short of citizens expectations and left a gap between the performances of white and minority students Many blame the educational establishment for resisting change Other critics argue that reform occurs too often still others claim it comes not often enough Dorothy Shipp reappraises the tumultuous history of educational progress in Chicago revealing that the persistent lack of improvement is due not to the extent but rather the type of reform Throughout the twentieth century managerial reorganizations initiated by the business community repeatedly altered the governance structure of schools as well as the relationships of teachers to children and parents but brought little improvement while other more promising reform models were either resisted or crowded out Shipp chronicles how Chicago s corporate actors led abetted or restrained nearly every attempt to transform the city s school system then asks whether schools might be better reformed by others To show why city schools have failed urban children so badly she traces Chicago s reform history over four political eras revealing how corporate power was instrumental in designing and revamping the system Her narrative encompasses the formative era of 1880 1930 when teachers unions moderated business plans previously unexplored business activism from 1930 to 1980 when civil rights dominated school reform and the decentralization of the 1980s She also covers the uneasy cooperation among business associations in the 1990s to install the mayor as head of the school system a governing regime now challenged by privatization advocates Business people may be too wedded to a stunted view of educators to forge a productive partnership for change Unionized teachers bridle at the second class status accorded them by managers If reform is to reach deeply into classrooms Shipps concludes it might well require a new coalition of teachers unions and parents to create a fresh agenda that supersedes corporate interests This study clearly shows that in Chicago as elsewhere urban schooling is intertwined with politics and power By reviewing more than a century of corporate efforts to make education work Shipps makes a strong case that it s high time to look elsewhere perhaps to educators themselves for new leadership
