Montello, 2006 Explaining the key elements of scientific philosophy and basic research concepts this text discusses all parts of the research process including generating research ideas data analysis and the use of geographic information techniques Fostering Transformative Research in the Geographical Sciences National Academies of Sciences,

Engineering, and Medicine, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Earth Sciences and Resources, Geographical Sciences Committee, Committee on Identifying Transformative Research in the Geographical Sciences, 2019-04-22 The central purpose of all research is to create new knowledge In the geographical sciences this is driven by a desire to create new knowledge about the relations between space place and the anthropogenic and non anthropogenic features and processes of the Earth But some research goes beyond these modest aims and creates new opportunities for further research or affects the process of knowledge acquisition more broadly or changes the way other researchers in a domain think about the world and go about their business Due to its positive impacts transformative research can be regarded as inherently having greater value than more conventional research and funding agencies clearly regard transformative research as something to be encouraged and funded through special programs Assessments of transformative research funding initiatives are few and provide a mixed picture of their effectiveness The challenge is whether transformative research can be identified at the time it is proposed rather than after it has been conducted communicated and its influence on the discipline has become clear Fostering Transformative Research in the Geographical Sciences reviews how transformative research has emerged in the past what its early markers were and makes recommendations for how it can be nurtured in the future Geography as a

Fundamental Research Discipline Edward Augustus Ackerman, 1958 Researching Human Geography Anna Davies, Keith Hoggart, Loretta Lees, 2014-04-04 Researching Human Geography is an essential new text for any geography student about to embark on a research project An understanding of how different theories of knowledge have influenced research methodologies is crucial in planning and designing effective research this book makes this link clear and explores how various philosophical positions from positivism to post structuralism have become associated with particular methodologies The book gives an overview of a wide range of methods and data collection both quantitative and qualitative and explores their strengths and weaknesses for different kinds of research Researching Human Geography also looks at the various techniques available for the analysis of data which is presented as an integral and ongoing part of the research process Clearly written with extensive use of examples from previous research to show methodology in action this new text is an invaluable addition to both the theory and method of research in human geography Research in Geography ,1955
