Marriage Of East And West:

The Marriage of East and West Bede Griffiths, 1983 This rejacketed reprint is being published to coincide with Fr Bede's visit to England in the spring It is a sequel to his autobiography The Golden String and describes the impact of India upon his theology and spirituality He describes Christianity as an Eastern religion that headed West

The Marriage of East and West Bede Griffiths, 1982 Marriage: East and West David Robert Mace, Vera Mace, 1960 The Marriage of East and West in View of a Spirituality for Contemporary Man Thomas Mathew Kuriathara, 2005

"The Marriage of East and West" in View of a Spirituality for Contemporary Man Thomas Mathew Kuriathara, 2005 Ossi Wessi Donald Backman, Aida Sakalauskaite, 2009-10-02 Ossi Wessi includes the proceedings of the fourteenth annual Interdisciplinary German Studies Conference at the University of California Berkeley 2006 which explored issues surrounding the Berlin Wall both pre and post reunification in language literature and visual media The collected articles discuss the situation of the Berlin Wall describing its portrayal as both a dividing and uniting boundary and often discussing the continued existence of the Wall in the minds of Germany's citizens The multi disciplinary range of approaches contained in this volume reveals how diverse the portrayals of the history of the Wall have been as well as how controversial the division of Germany remains today Topics covered in this collection include Wende Literature and film linguistic changes and attitudes since 1989 the complicated history of the Neo Nazis and the visual arts Although Ossi Wessi is by no means a comprehensive reference work each of its essays serve as a though provoking springboard for further research The East-West Dimension David Krus,

The Helsinki Process and East West Relations United States. Congress. Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe, 1985 Fertility and the Male Life Cycle in the Era of Fertility Decline Caroline Bledsoe, Susana Lerner, Jane Guyer, 2000-02-10 This volume challenges the orthodox position on two of the main themes in fertility transition studies the inevitable link between fewer children and quality of life and the focus on women as the sole important objects of study In an era of unprecedented fertility decline there is increasing concern about the lessening worldwide role that men play in the upbringing of children The immense worldwide variation in the timing and sequencing of a man's life course events the rise and fall in personal fortunes and the weight of society's hierarchies all combine to affect the number of children a man fathers when he fathers them the number of partners he fathers them with and the kind of support and recognition he bestows on them The cross disciplinary approach favoured here including ethnographies national surveys and historical texts avoids the narrow focus of many fertility studies texts By providing detailed studies on a variety of countries ranging from Germany to Papua New Guinea the contributors build an accurate picture of the global situation while two Overview chapters give a wider perspective and the Introduction synthesizes the themes identified and conclusions reached The Helsinki Process and East West Relations, 1985

Similarity in Difference Christer Lundh, Satomi Kurosu, 2014-12-05 A study of marriage in preindustrial Europe and Asia that goes beyond the Malthusian East West dichotomy to find variation within regions and commonality across regions Since Malthus an East West dichotomy has been used to characterize marriage behavior in Asia and Europe Marriages in Asia were said to be early and universal in Europe late and non universal In Europe marriages were supposed to be the result of individual choices but in Asia decided by families and communities This book challenges this binary taxonomy of marriage patterns and family systems Drawing on richer and more nuanced data the authors compare the interpretations based on aggregate demographic patterns with studies of individual actions in local populations Doing so they are able to analyze simultaneously the influence on marriage decisions of individual demographic features socioeconomic status and composition of the household and local conditions and the interactions of these variables They find differences between East and West but also variation within regions and commonality across regions The book studies local populations in Sweden Belgium Italy Japan and China Rather than a simple comparison of aggregate marriage patterns it examines marriage outcomes and determinants of local populations in different countries using similar data and methods The authors first present the results of comparative analyses of first marriage and remarriage and then offer chapters each of which is devoted to the results from a specific country Similarity in Difference is the third in a prizewinning series on the demographic history of Eurasia following Life under Pressure 2004 and Prudence and Pressure 2009 both published by the MIT Press

Remarriage and Stepfamilies in East Central Europe, 1600-1900 Gabriella Erdélyi, András Péter Szabó, 2023-01-27 Due to high adult mortality and the custom of remarriage stepfamilies were a common phenomenon in pre industrial Europe Focusing on East Central Europe a neglected area of Western historiography this book draws essential comparisons in terms of remarriage patterns and stepfamily life between East Central Europe and Northwestern Europe How did the specific economic military political legal religious and cultural profile of the region affect remarriage patterns and stepfamily types How did the greater propensity of widowed parents to remarry in some of the East Central European communities compared to Western ones shape the children s lives And how did the routine divorce before Orthodox courts by ordinary men and women shape relationships among children and adults belonging to blended families By drawing on quantitative as well as qualitative approaches the book offers an historical demographical narrative of the frequency of stepfamilies in a comparative framework and also assesses the impact of stepparents on the mortality and career prospects of their stepchildren The ethnic and religious diversity of East Central Europe also allows for distinctions and comparisons to be made within the region Remarriage and Stepfamilies in East Central Europe 1600 1900 will appeal to researchers and students alike interested in the history of family marriage and society in East Central Europe

Studies in Byzantine, Islamic and Near Eastern Silk Weaving Anna Muthesius, 2006-12-31 This volume complements Anna Muthesius two earlier ground breaking volumes in the field of silk as material culture Studies in Byzantine and Islamic Silk Weaving and Studies in Silk in Byzantium The publication highlights the fact that similar patterns of selection were at work in the acquisition of silks by secular and ecclesiastical bodies These patterns of selection were governed not only by fashions of the time but by access to international trade routes leading to the Great Silk Road linking the Near East to the Mediterranean The surviving silks prove that Mediterranean Near Eastern silk trade flourished continuously and for centuries prior to the thirteenth century contrary to what has previously widely been assumed It also highlights the crucial role of the Caucasian silk routes in accessing the Great Silk Road in the early period and the contribution of Georgian and Armenian silk weaving after the thirteenth century Above all the book demonstrates how important it is to assess the impact of Near Eastern silk manufacture and distribution in relation to Byzantine and Islamic Mediterranean silk production and trade The Routledge History Handbook of Central and Eastern Europe in the Twentieth Century Włodzimierz Borodziej,Stanislav Holubec,Joachim von Puttkamer,2020-04-21 Challenges of Modernity offers a broad account of the social and economic history of Central and Eastern Europe in the twentieth century and asks critical questions about the structure and experience of modernity in different contexts and periods This volume focuses on central questions such as How did the various aspects of modernity manifest themselves in the region and what were their limits How was the multifaceted transition from a mainly agrarian to an industrial and post industrial society experienced and perceived by historical subjects Did Central and Eastern Europe in fact approximate its dream of modernity in the twentieth century despite all the reversals detours and third way visions Structured chronologically and taking a comparative approach a range of international contributors combine a focus on the overarching problems of the region with a discussion of individual countries and societies offering the reader a comprehensive nuanced survey of the social and economic history of this complex region in the recent past The first in a four volume set on Central and Eastern Europe in the twentieth century it is the go to resource for those interested in the challenges of modernity faced by this dynamic region Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1961 Includes Part 1 Number 1 2 Books and Pamphlets Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals January December A Cultural History of Marriage in the Medieval Age Joanne M. Ferraro,Frederik Pedersen,2021-11-18 Marriage in Europe became a central pillar of society during the medieval period Theologians lawyers and secular and church leaders agreed on a unique outline of the institution and its legal framework the essential features of which remained in force until the 1980s The medieval Western European definition of marriage was unique before the legal consequences of marriage came into being the parties had to promise to engage in sexual union only with one partner and to remain in the marriage until one of the parties died This requirement had profound implications for inheritance rules and for the organization of the family economy it was explained and justified in a multitude of theological discussions and legal decisions across all faiths on the European continent Normative texts built on the foundations of the scriptures of several religious traditions provided an impressive intellectual framework around marriage In addition developments in iconography including sculpture and painting projected the dominant model of marriage while social demographic and cultural changes encouraged its adoption This volume traces the medieval discussion of marriage in practice law theology and iconography It provides an examination of the wider political and economic context of marriage and offers an overview of the ebb and flow of society's ideas about how expressions of human sexuality fit within the confines of a clearly defined social structure and ideology. A Cultural History of Marriage in the Medieval Age presents an overview of the period with essays on Courtship and Ritual Religion State and Law Kinship and Social Networks the Family Economy Love and Sex the Breaking of Vows and Representations of Marriage. Routledge Library Editions: Rural History Various, 2021-07-14 The volumes in this set originally published between 1969 and 1990 draw together research by leading academics in the area of the rural history and provide an examination of related key issues. The volumes examine social change in rural communities approaching the industrial revolution whilst also providing an overview of the history of rural populations in England France Germany Mexico and the United States. This set will be of particular interest to students of history business and economics. The Land and the People of Nineteenth-Century Cork James S. Donnelly Jr, 2017-07-06 First published in 1975 Using estate records local newspapers and parliamentary papers this book focuses upon two central and interrelated subjects the rural economy and the land question from the perspective of Cork Ireland's southernmost country. The author examines the chief responses of Cork landlords tenant farmers and labourers to the enormous difficulties besetting them after 1815. He shows how the great famine of the late 1840s was in many ways an economic and social watershed because it rapidly accelerated certain previous trends and reversed the direction of others. He also rejects the conventional view of the land war of the 1880s arguing that in Cork it was essentially a revolution of rising expectations in which tenant farmers struggled to preserve their substantial material gains since 1850 by using the weapons of agrarian trade unionism civil disobedience and unprecedented violence. This title will be of interest to students of rural history and historical geography. Encyclopedia of Sex and Gender Carol R. Ember, Melvin Ember, 2003-12-31 The central aim of this encyclopedia is to give the reader a comparative perspective on issues involving conceptions of gender gender differences gender roles relationships between the genders and sexuality. The encyclopedia is divided into two volumes Topics and Cultures. The combination of topical overviews and varying cultural portraits is what makes this encyclopedia a unique reference work for students researchers and teachers interested in gender studies and cross cultural variation in sex and gender. It deserves a place in the library of every university and every social science and health department. Constantinople and the West in Medieval French Literature Rima Devereaux, 2012 Medieval France saw Constantinople as something of a quintessential ideal city. Aspects of Byzantine life were imitated in and assimilated to the West in a movement of political and cultural renewal but the Byzantine capital was also celebrated as the locus of a categorical and inimitable difference. This book analyses the debate between renewal and utopia in Western attitudes to Constantinople as it evolved through the twelfth and thirteenth centuries in a series of vernacular Old French Occitan and

Franco Italian texts including the Plerinage de Charlemagne Girart de Roussillon Partonopeus de Blois the poetry of Rutebeuf and the chronicles by Geoffroy de Villehardouin and Robert de Clari both known as the Conquête de Constantinople. It establishes how the texts representation of the West's relationship with Constantinople enacts this debate between renewal and utopia demonstrates that analysis of this relationship can contribute to a discussion on the generic status of the texts themselves and shows that the texts both react to the socio cultural context in which they were produced and fulfil a role within that context.
