Marrying Kind:

The Marrying Kind? Mary Bernstein, Verta Taylor, 2013-05-16 As the fight for same sex marriage rages across the United States and lesbian and gay couples rush to marriage license counters the goal of marriage is still fiercely questioned within the LGBT movement Rarely has an objective so central to a social movement's political agenda been so controversial within the movement itself While antigay forces work to restrict marriage to one man and one woman lesbian and gay activists are passionately arguing about the desirability viability and social consequences of same sex marriage The Marrying Kind is the first book to draw on empirical research to examine these debates and how they are affecting marriage equality campaigns The essays in this volume analyze the rhetoric strategies and makeup of the LGBT social movement organizations pushing for same sex marriage and address the dire predictions of some LGBT commentators that same sex marriage will spell the end of queer identity and community Case studies from California Connecticut Massachusetts New Jersey Oklahoma Vermont and Canada illuminate the complicated politics of same sex marriage making clear that the current disagreements among LGBT activists over whether marriage is conforming or transformative are far too simplistic Instead the impact of the marriage equality movement is complex and often contradictory neither fully assimilationist nor fully oppositional Contributors Ellen Ann Andersen U of Vermont Mary C Burke U of Vermont Adam Isaiah Green U of Toronto Melanie Heath McMaster U Ontario Kathleen E Hull U of Minnesota Katrina Kimport U of California San Francisco Jeffrey Kosbie Katie Oliviero U of Colorado Boulder Kristine A Olsen Timothy A Ortyl Arlene Stein Rutgers U Amy L Stone Trinity U Nella Van Dyke U of California Merced

Love Love Love Terry Godwin, 2007-10-25 Love Love Love is a book written for folk who enjoy reading rhyming poetry which is romantic humorous reminds as of the wonders of Mother Nature and gently reminds us to think of those less fortunate than ourselves Being a romantic many of my poems aim to attract the interest of the fair and gentle sex How to enjoy a happy Marriage A beautiful woman Some enchanted evening My heart is in a whirl are some of the poems that put romance in the air When invited to give public readings I am reminded to bring along a good supply of my humorous poetry Old chestnuts are Look at my forehead Grounds for divorce The candle always get good laughs Most poets write about mother nature sometime Some of my poems covering this wonderful and awesome subject are Our garden of England Spring is in the air and The peril of the sea My previous books Love and Marriage Come fly with me and Anna's poems of love life and humour have been well received by the public so I continue to write in that vein Thank you for your continued support and interest Terry Godwin Terry Godwin was Born in West London and now resides with his wonderful wife Muriel who has put up with him for nearly fifty years he has two married sons After retirement he took up writing seriously he also chairs the Rainham Poetry Group and presents a monthly programme of poetry reading Called The Medway hour of poetry

The Torch of Love Terry Godwin, 2013-09-26 Thank you for encouraging me to publish The Torch of Love by the support that you have given me in my last book The Dating Game The emphasis is again on rhyming romantic poetry interlaced with humour and some poems which will make us think a bit I have sneaked in a few poems which always seem to be well appreciated by my audiences at my public readings The aim of my writing is always to create an air of romance and humour If you would like more humour why not visit my website www.thelaughingpoet.co.uk You will get plenty of laughs there Just as I was in the process of sending my book to the publishers my wonderful wife and I were caught up in a horrific car accident in which my wife passed away I am therefore publishing this in her memory The poem I wrote to cover that occasion was one of the most difficult poems that I have had to write in my life Wishing you all the best of luck good health happiness And good reading

The Marrying Kind Judy Christenberry, 2007 From the moment Jonathan Davis rang Diane Black s doorbell mistaking her for his blind date she knew the sexy developer couldn t be more different from her He squired around gorgeous flirty dim witted Dallas socialites not modest investment bankers like her Still the man made her heart flutter under her pin striped suit as it hadn t in years John was many things a millionaire a player a catch But he d never be a husband For him marriage equaled mistake Diane might be the quintessential forever kind of woman but he was confident he could avoid that trap That is until he kissed her And then of course there was the matter of the baby

Personal Identity and the European Court of Human Rights Jill Marshall,2022-05-25 In this new and burgeoning field in legal and human rights thought this edited collection explores by reference to applied philosophy and case law how the European Court of Human Rights ECtHR has developed and presented a right to personal identity largely through interpretation of Article 8 of the European Convention on Human Rights Divided into three parts the collection interrogates firstly the construction of personal identity rights at the ECtHR secondly whose identity rights are protected and thirdly the limits of identity rights The collection is the first in the Routledge Studies in Law and Humanity series Contributions from nine leading and emerging legal scholars from the UK Ireland and continental Europe explore how the right has developed rights to identity and marriage LGBTI persons with disabilities religious and cultural issues and critical perspectives on the social construction and framing of the right The collection is primarily aimed at scholars and advanced students particularly of human rights law and its theory Jurisprudence and Philosophy of Law and those interested in ECtHR jurisprudence and those interested in the connection between theories of inclusion belonging and rights including human rights lawyers

Contesting Bodies and Nation in Canadian History Patrizia Gentile, Jane Nicholas, 2013-12-06 From fur coats to nude paintings and from sports to beauty contests the body has been central to the literal and figurative fashioning of ourselves as individuals and as a nation In this first collection on the history of the body in Canada an interdisciplinary group of scholars explores the multiple ways the body has served as a site of contestation in Canadian history in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Showcasing a variety of methodological approaches Contesting Bodies and Nation in Canadian History includes essays on many themes that engage with the larger historical relationship between the body and nation medicine and health fashion and consumer culture citizenship and work and more The contributors reflect on the intersections of bodies with the concept of nationhood as well as how understandings of the body are historically contingent The volume is capped off with a critical introductory chapter by the editors on the history of bodies and the development of the body as a category of analysis

“Keep ‘Em in the East” Richard Koszarski, 2021-07-20 The year 1955 was a watershed one for New York’s film industry Elia Kazan’s On the Waterfront took home eight Oscars and more quietly Stanley Kubrick released the low budget classic Killer’s Kiss A wave of films that changed how American movies were made soon followed led by directors such as Sidney Lumet William Friedkin Francis Ford Coppola and Martin Scorsese Yet this resurgence could not have occurred without a deeply rooted tradition of local film production Richard Koszarski chronicles the compelling and often surprising origins of New York’s postwar film renaissance looking beyond such classics as Naked City Kiss of Death and Portrait of Jennie He examines the social cultural and economic forces that shaped New York filmmaking from city politics to union regulations and shows how decades of low budget independent production taught local filmmakers how to capture the city’s grit liveliness and allure He reveals the importance of race films all Black productions intended for segregated African American audiences that not only helped keep the film business afloat but also nurtured a core group of writers directors designers and technicians Detailed production histories of On the Waterfront and Killer’s Kiss films that appear here in a completely new light illustrate the distinctive characteristics of New York cinema Drawing on a vast array of research including studio libraries censorship records union archives and interviews with participants Keep Em in the East rewrites a crucial chapter in the history of American cinema
