Powe, 2014-04-30 Marshall McLuhan and Northrop Frye are two of Canada's central cultural figures colleagues and rivals whose careers unfolded in curious harmony even as their intellectual engagement was antagonistic Poet novelist essayist and philosopher B W Powe who studied with both of these formidable and influential intellectuals presents an exploration of their lives and work in Marshall McLuhan and Northrop Frye Apocalypse and Alchemy Powe considers the existence of a unique visionary tradition of Canadian humanism and argues that McLuhan and Frye represent fraught but complementary approaches to the study of literature and to the broader engagement with culture Examining their eloquent but often acid responses to each other Powe exposes the scholarly controversies and personal conflicts that erupted between them and notably the great commonalities in their writing and biographies Using interviews letters notebooks and their published texts Powe offers a new alchemy of their thought in which he combines the philosophical hallmarks of McLuhan's The medium is the message and Frye's the great code The Medium and the Light Michael McLuhan, 2010-03-01 Say the name Marshall McLuhan and you think of the great discover's explorations of the media But throughout his life McLuhan never stopped reflecting profoundly on the nature of God and worship and on the traditions of the Church Often other intellectuals and artists would ask him incredulously Are you really a Catholic He would answer Yes I am a Catholic the worst kind a convert leaving them more baffled than before Here like a golden thread lining his public utterances on the media are McLuhan s brilliant probes into the nature of conversion the church's understanding of media the shape of tomorrow's church religion and youth and the God making machines of the modern world This fascinating collection gathered from his many and scattered remarks essays and other writings shows the deeply Christian side of a man widely considered the most important thinker of our time a man whose insights into media and culture have revolutionized the field of media study and the way we see the world The Medium is the Massage Marshall McLuhan, Quentin Fiore, 2001 First published in 1967 this text is now more relevant than ever ascLuhan's foresights about the impact of new media is actualized atnprecedented speeds via the Internet It portrays technologies as anxtension of man illustrating how our senses are massaged and ourreceptions altered as these devices become integral parts of our lives McLuhan in Space Richard Cavell, 2002-01-01 Demonstrates how McLuhan extended insights derived from advances in physics and artistic experimentation into a theory of acoustic space which he then used to challenge the assumptions of visual space that had been produced through print culture Media, Structures, and Power Robert E. Babe, 2011-01-01 Containing introductions and contributions by other prominent scholars this volume situates Babe s work within contemporary scholarship and underscores the extent to which he is one of Canada's most prescient thinkers

Digital McLuhan Paul Levinson, 2003-09-02 Marshall McLuhan died on the last day of 1980 on the doorstep of the personal computer revolution Yet McLuhan's ideas anticipated a world of media in motion and its impact on our lives on the dawn of the new millennium Paul Levinson examines why McLuhan's theories about media are more important to us today than when they were first written and why the Wired generation is now turning to McLuhan's work to understand the global village in the digital age Marshall McLuhan: Theoretical elaborations Gary Genosko, 2005 This collection contains key critical essays and assessments of the writings of Canadian communications thinker Marshall McLuhan selected from the voluminous output of the past forty years McLuhan's famous aphorisms and uncanny ability to sense megatrends are once again in circulation across and beyond the disciplines Since his untimely death in 1980 McLuhan's ideas have been rediscovered and redeployed with urgency in the age of information and cybernation Together the three volumes organise and present some forty years of indispensable critical works for readers and researchers of the McLuhan legacy The set includes critical introductions to each section by the editor Forthcoming titles in this series include Walter Benjamin 0 415 32533 1 December 2004 3 vols Theodor Adorno 0 415 30464 4 April 2005 4 vols and Jean François Lyotard 0 415 33819 0 2005 3 vols The Toronto School of Communication Theory Rita Watson, Menahem Blondheim, 2008-02-23 While never formally recognized as a school of thought in its time the work of a number of University of Toronto scholars over several decades most notably Harold Adams Innis and Marshall McLuhan formulated a number of original attempts to conceptualize communication as a phenomenon and launched radical and innovative conjectures about its consequences This landmark collection of essays re assesses the existence and re evaluates the contribution of the so called Toronto School of Communication While the theories of Innis and McLuhan are notoriously resistant to neat encapsulation some general themes have emerged in scholarly attempts to situate them within the discipline of communications studies that they helped to define Three such themes focus on the effects and consequences of communications emphasis on communications as a process rather than as structure and a sharp focus on the technology of communication or the medium are the most fundamental in characterizing the unique perspective of the Toronto School This collection not only represents a crucial step in defining the Toronto School it also provides close analysis of the ideas of its individual members Canada's 1960s Bryan D. Palmer, 2009-01-01 Focusing on the major movements and personalities of the time as well as the lasting influence of the period Canada's 1960s examines the legacy of this rebellious decade s impact on contemporary notions of Canadian identity
