Literary Communication as Dialogue Roger D. Sell,2020-11-15 As traced by Roger D Sell literary communication is a process of community making As long as literary authors and those responding to them respect each other s human autonomy literature flourishes as an enjoyable though often challenging mode of interaction that is truly dialogical in spirit This gives rise to author respondent communities whose members represent existential commonalities blended together with historical differences These heterogeneous literary communities have a larger social significance in that they have long served as counterweights to the hegemonic tendencies of modernity and more recently to postmodernity s well intentioned but restrictive politics of identity In post postmodern times their ethos is increasingly one of pleasurable egalitarianism The despondent anti hedonism of the twentieth century intelligentsia can now seem rather dated Some of the papers selected for this volume develop Sell s ideas in mainly theoretical terms But most of them offer detailed criticism of particular anglophone writers ranging from Shakespeare Ben Jonson and other poets and dramatists of the early modern period through Wordsworth and Coleridge to Dickens Pinter and Rushdie A Commentary on Martial, Epigrams Book 9 Christer

Henriksén,2012-08-09 Henriksén offers the first extensive commentary on Book 9 of the Epigrams of M Valerius Martialis The book consists of an introduction discussing the date characteristics structure and themes of Book 9 followed by a detailed commentary on each of the 105 poems which places them in their literary social and historical context Martial Epigrams

Ancient Roman Sports, A-Z David Matz, 2019-10-31 Chariot races Gladiatorial combat Fishing Hunting Swimming The ancient Romans enjoyed these sports sometimes with fanatical enthusiasm This reference book contains more than 100 entries covering sporting events and activities of the era and the Romans who sponsored competed in and attended them Charioteer Appuleius Diocles in a career spanning 24 years competed in 4 257 races winning an astounding 1 462 of them Alypius the young friend of St Augustine was both drawn to and repulsed by gladiatorial battles and struggled to shake his mania for the spectacle of blood sport Brief abstracts of the entries are included for quick reference along with an expansive glossary and biographical notes on the ancient authors cited

A Social Archaeology of Roman and Late Antique Egypt Ellen Swift, Jo Stoner, April Pudsey, 2021-11-11 Artefact evidence has the unique power to illuminate many aspects of life that are rarely explored in written sources yet this potential has been underexploited in research on Roman and Late Antique Egypt This book presents the first in depth study that uses everyday artefacts as its principal source of evidence to transform our understanding of the society and culture of Egypt during these periods It represents a fundamental reference work for scholars with much new and essential information on a wide range of artefacts many of which are found not only in Egypt but also in the wider Roman and late antique world By taking a social archaeology approach it sets out a new interpretation of daily life and aspects of social relations in Roman and Late Antique Egypt contributing substantial insights into everyday practices and their social meanings in the past Artefacts from University College London s Petrie Museum of Egyptian Archaeology are the principal source of evidence most of these objects have not been the subject of any previous research The book integrates the close study of artefact features with other sources of evidence including papyri and visual material Part one explores the social functions of dress objects while part two explores the domestic realm and everyday experience An important theme is the life course and how both dress related artefacts and ordinary functional objects construct age and gender related status and facilitate appropriate social relations and activities There is also a particular focus on wider social experience in the domestic context as well as broader consideration of economic and social changes across the period

Imitation and Contamination of the Classics in the Comedies of Ben

Jonson Tom Harrison, 2022-10-12 This book focuses on the influence of classical authors on Ben Jonson's dramaturgy with particular emphasis on the Greek and Roman playwrights and satirists. It illuminates the interdependence of the aspects of Jonson's creative personality by considering how classical performance elements including the Aristophanic Great Idea chorus Terentian Plautine performative strategies and performative elements from literary satire manifest themselves in the structuring and staging of his plays. This fascinating exploration contributes to the performative turn in early modern studies by reframing Jonson's classicism as essential to his dramaturgy as well as his erudition. The book is also a case study for how the early modern education system's emphasis on imitative contaminative practices prepared its students many of whom became professional playwrights for writing for a theatre that had a similar emphasis on recycling and recombining performative tropes and structures.

Reformed Ethics : Volume 2 (Reformed Ethics) Herman Bavinck, 2021-12-07 Herman Bavinck's four volume Reformed Dogmatics is one of the most important theological works of the twentieth century. The English translation was edited by leading Bavinck expert John Bolt who now brings forth a recently discovered manuscript from Bavinck that is being published for the first time. Serving as a companion to Reformed Dogmatics, Reformed Ethics offers readers Bavinck's mature reflections on ethical issues. This book, the second of three planned volumes, covers the duties of the Christian life and includes Bavinck's exposition of the Ten Commandments.

Fores et Fenestrae: A Computational Study of Doors and Windows in Roman Domestic Space Lucia Michielin, 2021-06-10 The role doors and windows play in shaping the life and structure of Roman private dwellings has been underestimated; they are structures that connect not only rooms but houses to the outside world and they relate to privacy, security, and light in domestic spaces. This volume analyses these structures as an essential part of daily life.

Sounding the Bookshelf 1501 Tim Shephard, Oliver Doyle, Ciara O'Flaherty, Annabelle Page, Laura Ștefănescu, 2025-08-06 Sounding the Bookshelf 1501 explores how everyday texts in Renaissance Italy engaged with music, sound, and hearing. Of the 358 known editions printed in 1501, only a few contained formal music notation or specialist theory. Yet a surprising wealth of musical knowledge emerges from religious texts, classical commentaries, lifestyle guides, poetry, and more. These sources, rarely penned by professional musicians, reflect the broader cultural presence of music in early 16th-century life, touching on themes like music's moral influence, its role in education, and its scientific understanding. Drawing from an ambitious cross-disciplinary survey, this groundbreaking study repositions everyday references to music as vital to understanding Renaissance musical culture. It challenges scholars to look beyond elite and theoretical traditions and instead engage with the rich, often overlooked world of non-specialist musical discourse. Set against the backdrop of 1501, a landmark year when Ottaviano Petrucci revolutionized music printing, this book offers a compelling snapshot of how music was understood and discussed by ordinary readers in Renaissance Italy. By sounding out these diverse voices, the project reimagines the contours of music history and opens new avenues for
