The Making of Visual News Thierry Gervais, Gaëlle Morel, 2020-09-23 The Making of Visual News sets out to show how photography has changed the way we read report and sell the news It investigates how photographs first became news images at the end of the nineteenth century and how magazines in the USA the UK France and Germany have put them to use ever since Drawing on a wide selection of images author Thierry Gervais in collaboration with Gaëlle Morel analyses news photographs in the context of their original presentation in print Highly illustrated the book contains 85 full colour magazine layouts and spreads offering the reader a view of how photographs were and are used in print publications including Life Picture Post the Berliner Illustrierte Zeitung and VU It examines how photographs were employed to attract new readers throughout the twentieth century arguing that photography was the main tool by which news editors sought to communicate the news and attract a broader readership Looking beyond the roles of photographer and journalist this study also highlights the contributions of picture editors and artistic directors by commissioning photographs and incorporating images into magazine layouts these figures played critical but often overlooked roles in the construction of visual news even as they crafted unique styles for their publications Charting changes in technology and reportage as well as broader social and political histories The Making of Visual News offers new insight into the history of photojournalism making this an essential resource for students and scholars of photojournalism and the history of photography media and culture
