Martinis Girls And Guns 50 Years Of 007:

Martinis, Girls and Guns Martin Sterling, 2003 Some Kind of Hero Matthew Field, Ajay Chowdhury, George Lazenby, 2015-10-12 For over 50 years Albert R Broccoli's Eon Productions has navigated the ups and downs of the volatile British film industry enduring both critical wrath and acclaim in equal measure for its now legendary James Bond series Latterly this family run business has been crowned with box office gold and recognised by motion picture academies around the world However it has not always been plain sailing Changing financial regimes forced 007 to relocate to France and Mexico changing fashions and politics led to box office disappointments and changing studio regimes and business disputes all but killed the franchise And the rise of competing action heroes has constantly questioned Bond's place in popular culture But against all odds the filmmakers continue to wring new life from the series and 2012 s Skyfall saw both huge critical and commercial success crowning 007 as the undisputed king of the action genre Some Kind of Hero recounts this remarkable story from its origins in the early 60s right through to the present day and draws on hundreds of unpublished interviews with the cast and crew of this iconic series For His Eyes Only Lisa Funnell, 2015-10-20 The release of Skyfall in 2012 marked the fiftieth anniversary of the James Bond film franchise It earned over one billion dollars in the worldwide box office and won two Academy Awards Amid popular and critical acclaim some have questioned the representation of women in the film From an aging M to the limited role of the Bond Girl and the characterization of Miss Moneypenny as a defunct field agent Skyfall develops the legacy of Bond at the expense of women Since Casino Royale 2006 and its seguels Quantum of Solace 2008 and Skyfall constitute a reboot of the franchise it is time to question whether there is a place for women in the new world of James Bond and what role they will play in the future of series This volume answers these questions by examining the role that women have historically played in the franchise which greatly contributed to the international success of the films This academic study constitutes the first book length anthology on femininity and feminism in the Bond series It covers all twenty three Eon productions as well as the spoof Casino Royale 1967 considering a range of factors that have shaped the depiction of women in the franchise including female characterization in Ian Fleming's novels the vision of producer Albert R Broccoli and other creative personnel the influence of feminism and broader trends in British and American film and television The volume provides a timely look at women in the Bond franchise and offers new scholarly perspectives on the subject Licence to Thrill James Chapman, 2024-04-18 In this new edition of Licence To Thrill James Chapman builds upon the success of his classic work regarded as the definitive scholarly study of the history of the James Bond film series from the first picture Dr No 1962 to the present He considers the origins of the films in the spy thrillers of Ian Fleming and examines the production histories of the films in the contexts of the British and international film industries This edition includes a new introduction and chapters on Quantum of Solace 2008 Skyfall 2012 Spectre 2015 and No Time to Die 2021 Chapman explores how the films have changed over time in response to developments in the wider film culture and society at large He charts the ever evolving Bond formula analysing the films representations of nationhood class and gender in a constantly shifting cinematic and ideological landscape 2001, Film Martinis, Girls and Guns Martin Sterling, Gary Mejor Del
