A Typology of Numeral Systems in South Asian Languages Kumari Mamta, 2024-04-10 This book takes a journey into the fascinating world of numerical systems in South Asian languages offering a unique exploration of the intricate patterns, cultural nuances and historical significance embedded within the numerical frameworks of the given languages. It blends the discovery of new facts with the reinterpretation of existing ones while developing a methodology for investigating number systems that can be applied to languages around the world. It is a groundbreaking study that unveils the complex linguistic patterns and socio cultural significance of numerical systems in South Asian languages offering valuable insights for researchers, linguists, anthropologists and language enthusiasts alike. By bridging the gap between linguistics, anthropology, cultural studies and mathematics, this book encourages interdisciplinary dialogue and collaboration by examining numeral systems from multiple angles.

Empirische Dimension

Altorientalischer Forschungen Gebhard J. Selz, Klaus Wagensohn, 2011 This volume's 23 contributions from senior and younger researchers working with the Ancient Near Eastern heritage are based on the hypothesis of a general empiric attitude of Ancient Mesopotamian scholarship The articles try to elucidate these underlying principles making use of various sorts of modern theories and methods The book covers a broader range of topics astronomy politics agriculture and irrigation linguistics architecture medicine and others Plurality and Classifiers across Languages in China Dan Xu,2012-12-19

Plural marking numeral classifiers and reduplication constitute the main means of quantification marking in the domain of grammar The contributions in this book focus on the typological correlation between the three different strategies for quantification as well as on some general issues A better understanding of the quantification strategies in the languages of China will enrich our comprehension of human language and thought The book is expected to have an impact on the study of linguistic typology language contact and patterns of the evolution The Languages and Linguistics of Mainland

Frederico dos Santos,2025-08-19 This books offers a novel account of the nature of numbers firmly grounded in results from numerical cognition and the philosophy of mathematics Drawing on empirical data on the human experience of what we call numbers the author shows that numbers do not exist as abstract objects but that the idea that they do is a useful cognitive tool Contrary to the platonist view according to which arithmetic is true of a realm of abstract entities the nominalistic account presented in this book shows arithmetic to be true of descriptions of structural properties of techniques such as counting and calculating procedures This book is of interest to both philosophers and cognitive scientists who want to have a deeper understanding of what numbers are Language in Time and Space Brigitte L.M. Bauer,Georges-Jean

Pinault,2011-03-01 The honoree of this Festschrift has for many years now marked modern trends in diachronic and synchronic linguistics by his own publications and by stimulating those of numerous others This collection of articles presents data oriented studies that integrate modern and traditional approaches in the field thus reflecting the honoree s contribution to contemporary linguistics The articles relate to comparative data from early Indo European languages and a variety of other languages and discuss the theoretical implications of phenomena such as linguistic universals reconstruction and language classification      Tocharian Studies Václav Blažek, 2014-01-01 Kniha je souborem studi v novan ch tocharsk etymologii a gramatice a obsahuje i dva ivotopisn a bibliografick portr ty dvou osobnost tocharistiky Wernera Wintera a Pavla Pouchy      Classifier Structures in Mandarin Chinese Niina Ning Zhang, 2013-05-28 This monograph addresses fundamental syntactic issues of classifier constructions based on a thorough study of a typical classifier language Mandarin Chinese It shows that the contrast between count and mass is not binary Instead there are two independently attested features Numerability the ability of a noun to combine with a numeral directly and Delimitability the ability of a noun to be modified by a delimitive modifier such as size shape or boundary modifier Although all nouns in Chinese are non count nouns there is still a mass non mass contrast with mass nouns selected by individuating classifiers and non mass nouns selected by individual classifiers Some languages have the counterparts of Chinese individuating classifiers only some languages have the counterparts of Chinese individual classifiers only and some other languages have no counterpart of either individual or individuating classifiers of Chinese The book also reports that unit plurality can be expressed by reduplicative classifiers in the language Moreover for the constituency of a numeral expression an individual individuating or kind classifier combines with the noun first and then the numeral is integrated but a partitive or collective classifier like a measure word combines with the numeral first before the noun is integrated into the whole nominal structure Furthermore the book identifies the syntactic positions of various uses of classifiers in the language A classifier is at a functional head position that has a dependency with a numeral or a position that has a dependency with a generic or existential quantifier or a position that represents the singular plural contrast or a position that licenses a delimitive modifier when the classifier occurs in a compound      A Grammar of Nuosu Matthias Gerner, 2013-10-14 This is the first modern grammar of Nuosu written in English Nuosu belongs to a little known section of Tibeto Burman The 2 5 Million ethnic Nuosu are part of the Yi nationality and live in Sichuan China This grammar informs Tibeto Burman linguists typologists scholars of language contact and foreign learners of Nuosu      The Oxford Handbook of Word Classes Eva van Lier, 2023 This handbook explores multiple facets of the study of word classes also known as parts of speech or lexical categories The contributions showcase the importance of word classes for the whole discipline of linguistics while also highlighting the many ongoing debates in the areas and outlining fruitful avenues for future research      A Typological Approach to Grammaticalization and Lexicalization Janet Zhiqun Xing, 2020-01-20 Based on comparative analyses of diachronic data the articles in this volume address both theoretical and methodological issues in the study of grammaticalization and lexicalization in both Eastern and Western languages The central question raised and discussed in this volume is how if any typological properties of the two genetically unrelated language families interact with the processes of grammaticalization and lexicalization      The History of English in a Social Context Dieter Kastovsky, Arthur Mettinger, 2011-07-20 TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS is a series of books that open new perspectives in our understanding of language The series publishes state of the art work on core areas of linguistics across

The Diachrony of Classification Systems William B. McGregor, Søren Wichmann, 2018-05-14

Classification is a popular topic in typological descriptive and theoretical linguistics This volume is the first to deal specifically with the diachrony of linguistic systems of classification It comprises original papers that examine the ways in which linguistic classification systems arise change and dissipate in both natural circumstances and in circumstances of attrition The role of diffusion in such processes is explored as well as the question of what can be diffused The volume is not restricted to nominal systems of classification but also includes papers dealing with the less well known phenomenon of verbal classification Languages from a wide spread of world regions are examined including Africa Amazonia Australia Eurasia Oceania and Mesoamerica The volume will be of interest to linguistic typologists descriptive linguists historical linguists and grammaticalization theorists

Historical Linguistics 2011 Ritsuko Kikusawa, Lawrence A. Reid, 2013-11-14

This volume of selected papers from the 20th International Conference on Historical Linguistics Osaka Japan July 2011 presents a set of stimulating and ground breaking studies on a wide range of languages and language families As the scope of studies that can be characterized as Historical Linguistics has expanded ICHL conferences have likewise seen a broadening of topics presented and this conference was no exception reflected by the inclusion in this volume of a plenary presentation on the grammaticalization of expressions of negation and gendered kinship in American Sign Language Three other papers propose new views of the role of grammaticalization in English Chinese and Niger Congo languages Four of the papers discuss specific problems that arise in the comparison and reconstruction of linguistic features in a range of languages from Asia Europe and South America The last six studies deal with innovative approaches to the historical development of suppletion in Romance languages possessive classifiers in Austronesian universal quantifiers in Germanic adjectival sequences in English exaptation in Celtic and Early English and drift in Ancient Egyptian

Nominal Classification in Asia and Oceania Marc Allasonnière-Tang, Marcin Kilarski, 2023-12-01

Linguists have long been interested in systems of nominal classification due to their diverse functions as well as cognitive and cultural correlates Among others ongoing research has focused on semantic functional and morphosyntactic properties of complex systems such as co occurring gender and numeral classifiers Such approaches have typically focused on the languages of north western South

America and Papua New Guinea This volume proposes to fill in a gap in existing research by focusing on Asia based on case studies from languages belonging to a wide range of families i e Austroasiatic Austronesian Dravidian Hmong Mien Indo European Mongolic Sino Tibetan and Tai Kadai as well as the language isolate Nivkh Gender and classifiers in these languages are approached within several different perspectives i e functional typological and diachronic thus revealing complex patterns in their lexical and pragmatic functions as well as origin development and loss Describing and analysing such properties is a unique and innovative contribution of the volume

The Cambridge Handbook of Linguistic Typology Alexandra Y. Aikhenvald, R. M. W. Dixon, 2017-03-30 Linguistic typology identifies both how languages vary and what they all have in common This Handbook provides a state of the art survey of the aims and methods of linguistic typology and the conclusions we can draw from them Part I covers phonological typology morphological typology sociolinguistic typology and the relationships between typology historical linguistics and grammaticalization It also addresses typological features of mixed languages creole languages sign languages and secret languages Part II features contributions on the typology of morphological processes noun categorization devices negation frustrative modality logophoricity switch reference and motion events Finally Part III focuses on typological profiles of the mainland South Asia area Australia Quechuan and Aymaran Eskimo Aleut Iroquoian the Kampa subgroup of Arawak Omotic Semitic Dravidian the Oceanic subgroup of Austronesian and the Awyu Ndumut family in West Papua Uniting the expertise of a stellar selection of scholars this Handbook highlights linguistic typology as a major discipline within the field of linguistics

Datives and Other Cases Daniel Hole, André Meinunger, Werner Abraham, 2006-04-19 This volume provides a state of the art account of research into datives and other morphological cases The contributors among them leading scholars in the field present fresh insights into traditional issues such as the dichotomy between lexical and structural case and open up fascinating new areas of research A recurrent feature of the majority of contributions is their combined syntax semantics perspective Germanic varieties Serbian Albanian and other Balkan languages alongside Chinese Japanese Tagalog are discussed from various theoretical angles such as mainstream generativism lexical functional grammar and functional typology Despite the broad range of facts spanning the distance between acquisition data and dialectology the papers are connected by a renewed interest in form function correspondencies This volume will be welcomed by theoretical linguists and typologists with an interest in argument and event structure linguists studying the case systems of individual languages and researchers in search for up to date discussion of Germanic datives

California Indian Languages Victor Golla, 2022-02 Nowhere was the linguistic diversity of the New World more extreme than in California where an extraordinary variety of village dwelling peoples spoke seventy eight mutually unintelligible languages This comprehensive illustrated handbook a major synthesis of more than 150 years of documentation and study reviews what we now know about California s indigenous languages Victor Golla outlines the basic structural features of more than two dozen language types and cites all the major sources both published and unpublished for the documentation of these languages from the earliest vocabularies collected by explorers and missionaries to the data amassed during the twentieth century by Alfred Kroeber and his colleagues to the extraordinary work of John P Harrington and C Hart Merriam Golla also devotes chapters to the role of language in reconstructing prehistory and to the intertwining of language and culture in pre contact California societies making this work the first of its kind an essential reference on California s remarkable Indian languages
