Queen Mary And The Cruiser The Curacoa Disaster:

Queen Mary and the Cruiser David Arthur Thomas, Patrick Holmes, 1997 An account of the sinking in 1942 of HM cruiser Curacoa by the Cunard passenger liner Queen Mary which examines how a series of severe errors resulted in the deaths of 338 men and features eye witness testimony track charts and previously unpublished photographs Queen

Mary and the Cruiser David Arthur Thomas, Patrick Holmes, 1997 The tragic sinking of HM cruiser Curacoa off Bloody Foreland in 1942 was a disaster of stunning proportions The Cunard liner Queen Mary sliced through the cruiser in broad daylight and 338 men died most of them within minutes all of them victims of a series of errors The full detailed story of this drama is co authored by the naval historian David A Thomas and one of the survivors Patrick Holmes Together they have painstakingly reconstructed a minute by minute record of the miscalculations contradictions and errors preceding the disaster The story is enhanced by dramatic eye witness accounts and by the moving anecdotes of the survivors Those who survived the tragedy were left branded with dreadful memories which they could never erase from their minds It took eminent sea officers judges and Law Lords long years of debate and dispute over the finer points of maritime law to adjudicate the clash of the captains who only had fleeting moments of impending tragedy before making their fateful decisions Public Record Office files and other documents have been analysed with meticulous care The result is a tragic and yet splendid story which will be welcomed as an epic to rank with the best told stories of disaster at sea Ghosts of the

Queen Mary Brian Clune, Bob Davis, 2018-10-20 Learn the stories behind this luxurious and haunted ocean liner Includes photos For thirty one years the RMS Queen Mary sailed the North Atlantic It helped defeat Hitler and was the ship of choice for the world s rich and famous Now in retirement in the Port of Long Beach the Stateliest Ship Afloat plays host to tourists travelers and more than six hundred spirits that roam her halls and passageways These choice decks remain the floating home of a few regulars including the oft glimpsed White Lady as well as Little Jackie John Henry and of course Grumpy Join paranormal investigators Brian Clune and Bob Davis as they take you to the hot spots of activity from port to starboard and relate tales from the dockside about the spirits that haunt the grandest liner ever built The Age of Cunard Daniel Allen Butler, 2004 For a century and a half the single most important sea lane in the world was the transatlantic route linking the Old World with the New For three hundred years sailing ships sufficed to carry cargoes and people but the demands of Steam Age business and commerce demanded more regularity Just as the steam engine had allowed railroads to replace the unpredictability of stagecoaches on land with dependable schedules steamships promised to bring this reliability to crossing the Atlantic This is where the story of the Cunard Line began The greatest influence Cunard would ever have on world events would be the leading role during the last half of the 19th century when the great migration of millions of emigrants transformed the populations of Europe the United States and Canada Wars devastation came to the Cunard Line with WW1 and WW2 as the power of the German submarine fleet built with one purpose in mind to sever the North Atlantic shipping lanes threatened Great Britain's very existence. By 1963 more people chose to travel by airplane than by steamship and it was the beginning of the end. Sir Winston Churchill observed, 'You came into great things by the accident of sea power. By an accident of air power you will probably cease to exist.' Sabotage Brian Izzard, 2012-04-15. On 9 January 1972 the mighty Queen Elizabeth then the largest liner in the world caught fire in Hong Kong harbor. Watched by millions around the world she burned live on television including on Britain's children's program Blue Peter.

Battles and Honours of the Royal Navy David A. Thomas, 1998-12-17. An invaluable and up to date reference book listing every battle honour awarded to ships of the Royal Navy. Although the honours go back to the Spanish Armada in 1588 surprisingly the system was not officially sanctioned until 1954.

Churchill's Greatest Fear Richard Doherty, 2015-11-30. The Battle of the Atlantic Churchill's term was arguably the pivotal campaign of the Second World War it was certainly the longest starting with the sinking of RMS Athenia on 3 September 1939 and ending with the torpedoing of SS Avon Dale on 7 May 1945. This superbly researched work covers all the major aspects of The Battle balancing the initial advantages of Admiral Doenitz's U Boat force the introduction of the convoy system the role of the opposing surface fleets and air forces relative strengths and the all important technical developments. Intelligence particularly the Bletchley Park intercepts played an increasingly important part in the final outcome. The author concludes that May 1943 was the moment when the Allies seized the initiative and despite desperate German efforts never lost their advantage. Using official records personal accounts and a wealth of historical research this work gives the reader a splendidly concise yet broad account of the course of the campaign the men who fought it on both sides and the critical moments and analysis of the outcome.

The Naval History of Wales J.D. Davies, 2013-07-01. Based on extensive research The Naval History of Wales tells a compelling story that spans nearly 2 000 years from the Romans to the present. Many Welsh men and women have served in the Royal Navy and the navies of other countries. Welshmen played major parts in voyages of exploration in the navy's suppression of the slave trade and in naval warfare from the Viking era to the Spanish Armada in the American Civil War both world wars and the Falklands War. Comprehensive enlightening and provocative The Naval History of Wales also explodes many myths about Welsh history naval historian J D Davies arguing that most Welshmen in the sailing navy were volunteers and that relative to the size of national populations proportionately more Welsh seamen than English fought at Trafalgar. Written in vivid detail this volume is one that no maritime or Welsh historian can do without.

Versailles Mark Lamont, 2017-11-30 On August 10 1901 two English ladies decided to visit the Palace of Versailles for what was anticipated to be an ordinary day of sightseeing However on that fateful day a series of mysterious encounters occurred When the ladies visited Queen Marie Antoinette's Petit Trianon both were later convinced they had stepped back in time to the eighteenth century One of the ladies even believed she had witnessed the queen herself Were the ladies encounters a case of mistaken identity and confusion or did they unknowingly step back in time to walk along paths from a bygone era at Versailles Murder Aboard The Queen Mary Louise Hathaway, 2023-04-23 Why did a teenage girl get murdered aboard the Queen Mary during the Art Deco Weekend That's what 67 year old amateur sleuth Kathleen tries to find out along with the help of an attractive homicide detective who's in charge of the case Step aboard the legendary Queen Mary and find out whodunnit in this ghostly and romantic cozy mystery Malta Convoys David A. Thomas, 1999-12-31 In Malta Convoys David

Thomas the distinguished naval historian gives a fascinating account of the vital battles fought by sea and air to ensure that essential supplies got through He vividly describes the appalling cost in men and ships Here is an important contribution to naval history in the Second World War and at the same time a rattling good read World Disasters Michael

Prideaux, 1976 Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals, 1997 Blunders & Disasters at Sea David Blackmore, 2004-01-20 A superb collection of some ninety nine well researched and concise short stories of tragedy at sea crammed with information on ships of all types Naval Historical Society of Australia As any sailor knows life at sea is hazardous under even normal circumstances In times of war with an enemy intent on killing and sinking you it is infinitely more so David Blackmore has researched 100 extreme cases over the span of history and written graphic descriptions covering the background the events and the tragic consequences Many were the result of enemy action others too many straight human error and the remainder were caused by act of God not least the weather Roebuck Society Publication,1993 In Titanic's Shadow David L. Williams,2012-10-01 While the near 1 500 victims of Titanic accounted for a huge loss of life each of the ships here had a greater number of casualties in some cases more than five times as many In total these 27 merchant ship sinkings resulted in a staggering loss of life at sea more than 96 000 in total 3 840 per ship While the circumstances were different to Titanic the outcome in each case was no less tragic Yet despite the fact that Titanic ranks behind so many other losses so powerful has her name become that it was the inevitable choice to describe some of these other events Germany's Titanic and The Titanic of Japan being two examples Ships include the Lancastria Britain's worst maritime disaster with 3 000 lost the Ryusei Maru a Japanese Hellship loaded with 6 000 Allied POWs torpedoed by a US submarine and the Wilhelm Gustloff a German liner packed with 7 800 civilians sunk by a Russian submarine There were no survivors and this tragedy was the worst maritime disaster of all time Blink Once to Spread Snow James Christie,2008

Orkney and Scapa Flow at War 1939-45 Craig Armstrong,2020-12-30 Reminds us of the courage and immense sacrifices made by Orcadians and tells of the efforts made by the British to protect their remote islanders Superb Books Monthly Orkney was a key strategic location during the Second World War The vast anchorage of Scapa Flow was the main haven for the Royal Navy's Home Fleet making it a prime target for the Luftwaffe and attempts to bomb the anchorage were made from the beginning of the war In the early hours of 14 October 1940 a German submarine apparently penetrated Scapa Flow's defenses and managed to sink the aging battleship HMS Royal Oak with the loss of 834 of her crew including many boy sailors The loss spurred changes to the defenses of Scapa Flow which hugely impacted Orkney Orcadians also made a huge contribution to the war effort through farming and in providing support to the thousands of sailors soldiers and airmen who were based locally Orcadians also raised considerable funds and gathered much needed items including scrap metal and even sphagnum moss for use in the treatment of wounds Large numbers of Orcadians worked in the fishing industry and this was a staple supplier of food for the islands as well as a key employer The men aboard the trawlers were used to danger but the war ramped this up even further as many became prey to German attacks from the air Although isolated from the mainland the people of Orkney made a very substantial contribution to the war effort and many paid the ultimate price losing their lives in the service of their country Another beautiful volume for the series On the Old Barbed Wire Pembroke Dockyard and the Old Navy Lawrie Phillips,Alan West,2014-02-03 The Admiralty's specialist shipbuilding yard at Pembroke Dock produced over 200 warships for the Royal Navy including 5 royal yachts between 1814 and 1926 This long century from the Napoleonic War until post First World War covered all the major changes in warship design and construction from wood to iron and then steel and from sail to steam Despite being established on the south shore of Milford Haven where no warships had ever been built within twenty years Pembroke men were building major British warships In this profusely
