The Female Figure in Contemporary Historical Fiction K. Cooper, E. Short, 2012-10-29 From The Other Boleyn Girl to Fingersmith this collection explores the popularity of female centred historical novels in recent years It asks how these representations are influenced by contemporary gender politics and whether they can be seen as part of a wider feminist project to recover women's history The Book of Minor

Perverts Benjamin Kahan, 2019-02-05 Shortlisted for the Modernist Studies Association Book Prize Statue fondlers wanderlust sex magicians and nymphomaniacs the story of these forgotten sexualities what Michel Foucault deemed minor pervers has never before been told In The Book of Minor Perverts Benjamin Kahan sets out to chart the proliferation of sexual classification that arose with the advent of nineteenth century sexology The book narrates the shift from Foucault's thousand aberrant sexualities to one homosexuality The focus here is less on the effects of queer identity and more on the lines of causation behind a surprising array of minor pervers who refuse to fit neatly into our familiar sexual frameworks The result stands at the intersection of history queer studies and the medical humanities to offer us a new way of feeling our way into the past Exemplary Novels Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra, 2016-01-01 investigation Edith Grossman's eagerly awaited translation brings this timeless classic to English language readers in an edition that will delight those already familiar with Cervantes's work as well as those about to be enchanted for the first time Roberto Gonz lez Echevarr a's illuminating introduction to the volume serves as both an appreciation of Cervantes's brilliance and a critical guide to the novellas and their significance

Victoria and Albert Hector Bolitho, 2017-08-10 On 10 February 1840 a young Queen formed a union that would define an age Victoria and Albert charts the passionate relationship of Queen Victoria and Prince Albert and examines how their loving and forward thinking union propelled Britain into a golden age of innovation conquest and social reform Drawing on diary entries contemporary letters and memoirs Bolitho explores how Victoria defied expectations and created a new dawn in which sovereignty and domesticity were unified While many monarchies across Europe were threatened with revolution Queen Victoria became a symbol of security for her nation by leading Britain through the advancing industrial age taxing European wars and glories of an empire This sincere account paints a portrait of a concerned mother a dutiful wife and a resolute Queen

Narrating Empire and Domesticity in Neo-Victorian Fiction Marlena Tronicke, 2025-05-12 Fiction classified as neo Victorian has steadily emerged as a crucial mode of British cultural production It is no coincidence that this most recent Victorian renaissance is taking shape in a climate of widespread empire nostalgia with imperial colonial legacies being relegated to a distant elsewhere In its critical re visitations of the nineteenth century neo Victorianism has the potential to intervene in this often selective memory of Britain's imperial past Nevertheless systematic re readings of empire have so far played a comparatively minor role in neo Victorian scholarly debate This monograph addresses this lacuna by examining how neo Victorianism negotiates constructions of empire in conjunction with the domestic Drawing on a range of neo Victorian novels as well as their Victorian intertexts and bringing these into dialogue with postcolonial theory it asks how neo Victorian fiction engages with perpetuates or subverts Victorian imaginaries of urban British centres in opposition to remote imperial margins It examines why domesticity broadly understood as ideologically charged concepts of family home and belonging based on formations of gender sexuality and class can never be constituted independently of empire In addition the book raises questions regarding neo Victorianism's larger potentiality of narrating empire suggesting that it is precisely the disorienting moments that constitute a characteristically neo Victorian mode of exploring the entanglements of empire and domesticity
