Queensland Frontier:

Conspiracy of Silence Timothy Bottoms, 2013-05-27 As Europeans moved into new lands in Queensland in the 19th century violent encounters with local Aboriginals mostly followed Drawing on extensive original research Timothy Bottoms tells the story of the most violent frontier in Australian colonial history Queensland Lords Janet Spillman, 2015-09-10 Edward and Eliza Lord came to Moreton Bay in 1844 arriving as the remote convict outpost was opened up for free settlement Members of Lancashire merchant families they had invested their inheritances in NSW lands and a Sydney merchant firm just before the drought and crash of 1841 They moved north to rebuild their fortunes settling at Kangaroo Point before moving to the Darling Downs to start new commercial interests Although financial success continued to elude them the Lord family contributed to the settlement of colonial Queensland Edward and Eliza s great great grand daughter Janet Spillman explores the way Queensland moulded the Lord family s lives and the way family members contributed to the colony s development Civilian-Driven Violence and the Genocide of Indigenous Peoples in Settler Societies Mohamed Adhikari, 2021-07-12 Existing studies of settler colonial genocides explicitly consider the roles of metropolitan and colonial states and their military forces in the perpetration of exterminatory violence in settler colonial situations yet rarely pay specific attention to the dynamics around civilian driven mass violence against indigenous peoples In many cases however civilians were major if not the main perpetrators of such violence The focus of this book is thus on the role of civilians as perpetrators of exterminatory violence and on those elements within settler colonial situations that promoted mass violence on their part Historical Dictionary of Australian Aborigines Mitchell Rolls, Murray Johnson, 2019-11-05 The Aboriginal Australians first arrived on the continent at least 60 000 years ago occupying and adapting to a range of environmental conditions from tropical estuarine habitats densely forested regions open plains and arid desert country to cold mountainous and often wet and snowy high country Cultures adapted according to the different conditions and adapted again to environmental changes brought about by rising sea levels at the end of the last ice age European colonization of the island continent in 1788 not only introduced diseases to which Aborigines had no immunity but also began an enduring and at times violent conflict over land and resources Reconciliation between Aborigines and the settler population remains unresolved This second edition of the Historical Dictionary of Australian Aborigines contains a chronology an introduction an extensive bibliography and more than 300 cross referenced entries on the politics economy foreign relations religion and culture of the Aborigines This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the indigenous people of Australia The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Indigenous Australia and New Guinea Ian J. McNiven, Bruno David, 2023-12-05 65 000 years ago modern humans arrived in Australia having navigated more than 100 km of sea crossing from southeast Asia Since then the large continental islands of Australia and New Guinea together with smaller islands in between have been connected by land bridges and severed again as sea levels fell and rose

Along with these fluctuations came changes in the terrestrial and marine environments of both land masses. The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Indigenous Australia and New Guinea reviews and assembles the latest findings and ideas on the archaeology of the Australia New Guinea region, the world's largest island continent. In 42 new chapters written by 77 contributors, it presents and explores the archaeological evidence to weave stories of colonisation, megafaunal extinctions, Indigenous architecture, long distance interactions, sometimes across the seas, eel-based aquaculture, and the development of techniques for the mass trapping of fish, occupation of the High Country deserts, tropical swamplands, and other diverse land and waterscapes, and rock art and symbolic behaviour. Together with established researchers, a new generation of archaeologists present in this Handbook, one authoritative text where Australia New Guinea archaeology now lies and where it is heading, promising to shape future directions for years to come. Professional Savages Roslyn Poignant, 2004-01-01. In August 1882, the circus impresario P. T. Barnum called for examples of all the uncivilized races in existence. In response, the showman R. A. Cunningham shipped two groups of Australian Aborigines to the United States. They were displayed as cannibals in circuses, dime museums, fairgrounds, and other showplaces in America and Europe, and examined and photographed by anthropologists. Roslyn Poignant tells the fascinating and often searing story of the transformation of the Aboriginal travelers into accomplished performers, professional savages who survived at least for a short time by virtue of the strengths they drew from their own culture and their individual adaptability. Most died somewhere on tour. A century later, the mummified body of Tambo, the first to die, was discovered in the basement of a recently closed funeral home in Cleveland, Ohio. Poignant recounts how Tambo's posthumous repatriation stimulated a cultural renewal within the community from which he came, exposing the roots of present social and economic injustices experienced by indigenous Australians.

Colonial frontiers Lynette Russell, 2017-03-01. Cross-cultural encounters produce boundaries and frontiers. This book explores the formation, structure, and maintenance of boundaries and frontiers in settler colonies. The southern nations of Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa have a common military heritage, as all three united to fight for the British Empire during the Boer and First World Wars. The book focuses on the southern latitudes and especially Australia and Australian historiography. Looking at cross-cultural interactions in the settler colonies, the book illuminates the formation of new boundaries and the interaction between settler societies and indigenous groups. It contends that the frontier zone is a hybrid space, a place where both indigene and invader come together on land that each one believes to be their own. The best way to approach the northern Cape frontier zone is via an understanding of the significance of the frontier in South African history. The book explores some ways in which discourses of a natural prehistoric Aboriginality inform colonial representations of the Australian landscape and its inhabitants, both indigenous and immigrant. The missions of the London Missionary Society (LMS) in Polynesia and Australia are examined to explore the ways in which frontiers between British and antipodean cultures were negotiated in colonial textuality. The role of the Treaty of Waitangi in New Zealand society is possibly the most important and controversial issue facing modern New Zealanders The book also presents valuable insights into sexual politics Aboriginal sovereignty economics of Torres Strait maritime and nomadism Warra Warra Wai Darren Rix, Craig Cormick, 2024-09-04 Shortlisted for the Queensland Literary Awards Work of State Significance and The University of Queensland Non Fiction Book Award Shortlisted for the 2025 Prime Minister's Literary Awards Australian History Winner of the 2025 NSW History Award Australian History Prize Winner of the 2025 ACT Literary Award Non Fiction Winner of the First Nations History Award Canberra Critics Circle Awards 2024 For the first time the First Nations story of Cook's arrival and what blackfellas want everyone to know about the coming of Europeans Both 250 years late and extremely timely this is an account of what First Nations people saw and felt when James Cook navigated their shores in 1770 We know the European story from diaries journals and letters For the first time this is the other side Who were the people watching the Endeavour sail by How did they understand their world and what sense did they make of this strange vision And what was the impact of these first encounters with Europeans The answers lie in tales passed down from 1770 and in truth telling of the often more brutal engagements that followed Darren Rix a Gunditjmarra GunaiKurnai man radio reporter and Archie Roach's nephew and his co author Craig Cormick travelled to all the places on the east coast that were renamed by Cook and listened to people's stories With their permission these stories have been woven together with the European accounts and placed in their deeper context the places Cook named already had names the places he discovered already had peoples and stories stretching back before time and although Cook sailed on the empire he represented impacted the people's lives and lands immeasurably in the years after Warra Warra Wai was the expression called to Cook and his crew when they tried to make landfall in Botany Bay It has long been interpreted as Go away but is perhaps more accurately translated as You are all dead spirits In adding the First Nations version of these first encounters to the story of Australian history this is a book that will sit on Australian shelves alongside Cook's Journals Dark Emu and The Fatal Shore as one of our foundational texts From the Edge Mark McKenna, 2016-10-03 In March 1797 five British sailors and 12 Bengali seamen struggled ashore after their longboat broke apart in a storm Their fellow survivors from the wreck of the Sydney Cove were stranded more than 500 kilometres southeast in Bass Strait To rescue their mates and to save themselves the 19 men must walk 700 kilometres north to Sydney That remarkable walk is a story of endurance but also of unexpected Aboriginal help From the Edge Australia's Lost Histories recounts four such extraordinary and largely forgotten stories the walk of shipwreck survivors the founding of a new Singapore in western Arnhem Land in the 1840s Australia's largest industrial development project nestled amongst outstanding Indigenous rock art in the Pilbara and the ever changing story of James Cook's time in Cooktown in 1770 This new telling of the central drama of Australian history the encounter between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal Australians may hold the key to understanding this land and its people Aboriginal Family and the State Sally Babidge, 2016-03-23 Aboriginal Family and the State examines the contemporary relations and history of Indigenous families in Australia

specifically referencing issues of government control and recent official recognition of Aboriginal traditional owners Drawing on detailed empirical research it develops a discussion of the anthropological issues of kinship and relatedness within colonial and postcolonial contexts This volume explores the conditions affecting the formation of family among indigenous people in rural northern Australia as well as the contingencies of family in the legal and political context of contemporary indigenous claims to land With a rich discussion of the production practice and inscription of social relations this volume examines everyday expressions of family and events such as meetings and funerals demonstrating that kinship is formed and reformed through a complicated social practice of competing demands on identity

Educating Indigenous Children in Australian Juvenile Justice Systems Bronwyn Ewing, Grace Sarra, 2023-02-06

This book addresses key issues in the context of the national policy of educating children accused of crimes in Juvenile Courts in Australia For several decades National and State Governments in Australia have struggled to define education constantly seeking to improve the way society applies the concept This book presents an accurate portrayal of consequences of the education policy of trying to educate troubled children and young people in trouble with the law It describes the work of juvenile detention centre mathematics teachers and their teaching contexts It portrays teachers as learners who ventured with researchers with a theoretical perspective This book focuses on culturally responsive pedagogies that seek to understand the ways Indigenous children and young people in juvenile detention make sense of their mathematical learning which until the time of detention has been plagued by failure It examines how the underperformance of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students and students from low socioeconomic backgrounds are strong determinants of their overrepresentation in the juvenile justice system in Australia This book presents the argument that if the students literacy and numeracy levels can be improved there is opportunity to build better futures away from involvement in the juvenile justice system and towards productive employment to improve life chances

Genocide on Settler Frontiers Mohamed Adhikari, 2015-06-01 European colonial conquest included many instances of indigenous peoples being exterminated Cases where invading commercial stock farmers clashed with hunter gatherers were particularly destructive often resulting in a degree of dispossession and slaughter that destroyed the ability of these societies to reproduce themselves The experience of aboriginal peoples in the settler colonies of southern Africa Australia North America and Latin America bears this out The frequency with which encounters of this kind resulted in the annihilation of forager societies raises the question of whether these conflicts were inherently genocidal an issue not yet addressed by scholars in a systematic way

Castaway Robert Macklin, 2019-06-25 In 1858 14 year old Narcisse Pelletier sailed from Marseilles in the French trader Saint Paul With a cargo of Bordeaux wine they stopped in Bombay then Hong Kong and from there they set sail with more than 300 Chinese prospectors bound for the goldfields of Ballarat and Bendigo Around the eastern tip of New Guinea however the ship became engulfed in fog struck reefs and ran aground Scrambling aboard a longboat the survivors undertook a perilous voyage crossing almost 1000 kilometres of the

Coral Sea before reaching the shores of the Daintree region in far north Queensland where abandoned by his shipmates and left for dead Narcisse was rescued by the local Aboriginal people For seventeen years he lived with them growing to manhood and participating fully in their world until in 1875 he was discovered by the crew of a pearling lugger and wrenched from his Aboriginal family Taken back to his real life in France he became a lighthouse keeper married and had another family all the while dreaming of what he had left behind Drawing from firsthand interviews with Narcisse after his return to France and other contemporary accounts of exploration and survival and documenting the spread of European settlement in Queensland and the brutal frontier wars that followed Robert Macklin weaves an unforgettable tale of a young man caught between two cultures in a time of transformation and upheaval

Indentured Labour in the British Empire, 1834-1920 Kay Saunders, 2018-03-14 First published in 1984 Indentured labour migration in the nineteenth century intersects many of the most serious issues of our own time racism Third World poverty and the arrogance of a great world powers Indenture suggests lack of freedom and the exploitation of people formed into exile or misadventure Coming as it did after the abolition of slavery in the British Empire in 1834 in many respects it can be regarded as a replacement of the slave labour system Indeed both concerned humanitarians and officials in the nineteenth century and many historians subsequently have regarded indentured labour merely as a new system of slavery Many of the articles in this book address themselves to this assertion whilst investigating the particular variations inherent in their geographic area The differing patterns of Indian indenture in the West Indies and British Guiana coming almost immediately after slavery forms the first section of this book Attention is given to the Indians engaged in the sugar industries in Mauritius and Fiji and the rubber industry in Malaya The use of Pacific Islanders in the Queensland industry is also examined particularly in the sugar industry which by the early twentieth century contained the unique pattern of white expensive unionized labour Other groups dealt with include the aboriginal workers in Australia and the Chinese workers in the Transvaal Overall this book is comprehensive and far reaching in its scope and the complex issues which it raises

Aboriginal Dreaming Paths and Trading Routes Dr Dale Kerwin, 2011-12-07 Highlights the contribution Aboriginal people made in assisting European explorers surveyors and stockmen to open the country for colonisation and explores the interface between Aboriginal possession of the Australian continent and European colonisation and appropriation

Australian Contributions to Strategic and Military Geography Stuart Pearson, Jane L. Holloway, Richard Thackway, 2018-03-08 Drawing from military geography's spatial roots its embrace of dynamic systems and integration of human and biophysical environments this book helps in understanding the value of analyzing patterns processes and systems and cross scale and multi disciplinary ways of acting in a complex world while making the case for a resurgence of strategic and military geography in Australia Here leading experts demonstrate that geography retains its relevance in clarifying the scale and dynamics of defense activities in assessments of the international regional national and site impacts of changes in physical cyber and human geographies The cases presented show Australia contributing to a growing strategic and military geography Destroying to Replace Mohamed Adhikari, 2022-03-01 This book explores settler colonial genocides in a global perspective and over the long dur e It does so systematically and compellingly as it investigates how settler colonial expansion at times created conditions for genocidal violence and the ways in which genocide was at times perpetrated on settler colonial frontiers This volume will prove invaluable to teachers and students of imperialism colonialism and human rights Lorenzo Veracini Swinburne University of Technology and author of The World Turned Inside Out Settler Colonialism as a Political Idea Empire and Indigeneity Richard Price, 2021-05-30 Indigeneity is inseparable from empire and the way empire responds to the Indigenous presence is a key historical factor in shaping the flow of imperial history This book is about the consequences of the encounter in the early nineteenth century between the British imperial presence and the First Peoples of what were to become Australia and New Zealand However the shape of social relations between Indigenous peoples and the forces of empire does not remain constant over time The book tracks how the creation of empire in this part of the world possessed long lasting legacies both for the settler colonies that emerged and for the wider history of British imperial culture Trouble of the World Zach Sell, 2020-11-24 In this innovative new study Zach Sell returns to the explosive era of capitalist crisis upheaval and warfare between emancipation in the British Empire and Black emancipation in the United States In this age of global capital U S slavery exploded to a vastness hitherto unseen propelled forward by the outrush of slavery produced commodities to Britain continental Europe and beyond As slavery produced commodities poured out of the United States U S slaveholders transformed their profits into slavery expansion Ranging from colonial India to Australia and Belize Sell s examination further reveals how U S slavery provided not only the raw material for Britain s explosive manufacturing growth but also inspired new hallucinatory imperial visions of colonial domination that took root on a global scale What emerges is a tale of a system too powerful and too profitable to end even after emancipation it is the story of how slavery s influence survived emancipation infusing empire and capitalism to this day Makers and Making Of Indigenous Australian Museum Collections Nicolas Peterson, Lindy Allen, Louise Hamby, 2008-08-16 This volume of original essays brings together for the first time histories of the making and of the makers of most of the major Indigenous Australian museum collections These collections are a principal source of information on how Aboriginal people lived in the past Knowing the context in which any collection was created the intellectual frameworks within which the collectors were working their collecting practices what they failed to collect and what Aboriginal people withheld is vital to understanding how any collection relates to the Aboriginal society from which it was derived Once made collections have had mixed fates some have become the jewel of a museum s holdings while others have been divided and dispersed across the world or retained but neglected The essays in this volume raise issues about representation institutional policies the periodisation of collecting intellectual history material culture studies Aboriginal culture and the idea of a collection
