Quest For Modernity:

The Intellectual Foundations of Chinese Modernity Edmund S. K. Fung, 2010-03-22 In the early twentieth century China was on the brink of change. Different ideologies—those of radicalism, conservatism, liberalism, and social democracy—were much debated in political and intellectual circles. Whereas previous works have analyzed these trends in isolation, Edmund S. K. Fung shows how they related to one another and how intellectuals in China engaged according to their cultural and political persuasions. The author argues that it is this interrelatedness and interplay between different schools of thought that are central to the understanding of Chinese modernity. For many of the debates that began in the Republican era still resonate in China today. The book charts the development of these ideologies and explores the work and influence of the intellectuals who were associated with them. In its challenge to previous scholarship and the breadth of its approach, the book makes a major contribution to the study of Chinese political philosophy and intellectual history.

Civilization, Nation and Modernity in East Asia Chih-Yu Shih, 2012-06-25 This book explores the crisis of cultural identity which has assaulted Asian countries since Western countries began to have a profound impact on Asia in the nineteenth century. Confronted by Western civilization and by modernity, Asian countries have been compelled to rethink their identity and to consider how they should relate to Western civilization and modernity. The result, the author argues, has been a redefining by Asian countries of their own character as nations and an adaptation of civilization and modernity to their own special conditions. Asian nations, the author contends, have thereby engaged with the West and with modernity but on their own terms, occasionally and in various inconsistent ways in which they could assert a sense of difference, forcing changes in the Western concept of civilization. Drawing on postmodern theory, the Kyoto School, Confucian and other traditional Asian thought, and the actual experiences of Asian countries, especially China and Japan, the author demonstrates that Asian countries' redefining of the concept of civilization in the course of their quest for an appropriate postmodern national identity is every bit as key a part of the rise of Asia as economic growth or greater international political activity.

Literature and Quest, 2023-07-10 What does the word quest conjure up? A journey in the hope of fulfillment, an exploration of identities, questions the nature of research itself, or the darker side of quest in the form of conquest, colonisation, and displacement. These are some of the threads taken up and developed in this collection of essays by established and emerging scholars: Germaine Greer, Italo Calvino, Umberto Eco, Serge Doubrovsky, A. S. Byatt, Novalis, Melville, Valéry, Beckett, Stanisław Nievo, Victor Segalen, Sibilla Aleramo, Dacia Maraini, Defoe, Tournier, Coetzee, Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz, Cintio Vitier, Domingo del Monte, Ramón de Palma, Pablo Armando Fernández, Hubert Aquin, Anne Hébert, Homer, Proust, Balzac, and Robbe-Grillet provide the literary voices that invite these scholars to embark on their own quests into subjects as diverse as the relationships between texts, authors, and readers, the initiatic journey, spirituality, and enlightenment, female autobiography, and identity, oppression, imperialism, and postcolonial discourses, not to mention the history of the quest itself. The result is a rich tapestry of thought provoking insights into the inexhaustible

A Cultural History of the Chinese Character “Ta (她, She)” Huang Xingtao, 2023-06-26 This book offers a thorough examination of the history of a Chinese female pronoun the Chinese character Ta She and demonstrates how the invention and identification of this new word is inextricably intertwined with matters of sociocultural politics The Chinese character Ta for the third person feminine singular pronoun was introduced in the late 1910s when the voices of women s liberation rang out in China The invention and dissemination of this word not only reflected an ideological gendering of the Chinese script but also provoked heated academic and popular debate well into the 1930s Thus the history of Ta provides a prism through which to explore modern Chinese history The author provides an ambitious and informed examination of how Ta was invented and promoted in relation to the gender equality movement the politics of neologism and other domestic elements and international catalysts This book is the first major work to survey Ta s creation It draws on diverse sources including interviews with eight historians who experienced the popularisation of Ta as youths in the 1930s and 40s This book will be an essential read for students and scholars of East Asian Studies Chinese Cultural History and those who are interested in the history of China

Mary Butts Joel Hawkes, 2024-04-04 A scholarly and experimental collection that offers fresh insight with a feminist focus into the often overlooked modernist writer Mary Butts and the contested processes of recovering such an author. Scholars instrumental in the recovery of Mary Butts along with newer writers, publishers, printers, and artists enter into conversation exploring the work of the British author whose body of work plays between high modernist forms and more popular genres, writing that can be described as occult Gothic, queer, proto environmental, and feminist. Taking its cue from Butts's experimental rhythmic writing and the transnational artistic communities in which Butts moved in the 1920s, the collection is a non-linear exchange rather than a collection of isolated arguments; a conversation constructed from classical academic chapters, knights' move, non-academic reflections, and short responses to these. This conversation lies at the intersection of feminism and reconstruction. Chapters range between Butts's writing techniques and forms, her position in the modernist canon, contested sites of feminism in her work, critical reception of that work, queer and post-critical readings, and the success of and the need for a feminist recovery of the author. The collection aims to be a feminist engagement while asking questions of what this might look like, why it is needed, and how such an approach offers fresh insight into an erudite, playful, difficult, contradictory, and experimental body of work. Ultimately, the collection asks how should we reconstruct the author and her work for the contemporary reader.

Women, Religion, and the State in Contemporary Turkey Chiara Maritato, 2020-05-28. Tracing the centrality of women in the definition of Turkish secularism, this study investigates the 2003 decision to increase the number of women officers employed by the Presidency of Religious Affairs, Diyanet. It explores how, as professional religious officers, the female Diyanet preachers epitomize a pious, modern, and highly educated woman whose role in society has been raised to prominence. Based on extensive fieldwork in Turkey and drawing on a rich ethnography of the activities conducted by Diyanet women preachers in Istanbul, Chiara Maritato disentangles the state's attempt to standardize a multifaceted female religious participation. In using the feminization of the Diyanet as a prism through which to understand the significance of a renewed presence of Islam in the Turkish public realm, she casts light on a broader reformulation of religious services for women and families in Turkey and pinpoints how this pervasive moral support has been able to penetrate and reshape even secular spaces.

Crisis and Critique: Philosophical Analysis and Current Events Anne Siegetsleitner, Andreas Oberprantacher, Marie-Luisa Frick, Ulrich Metschl, 2021-06-08. Contemporary deep-reaching changes, whether in financial or real economy in Europe's political conditions, in the context of scientific theories in the field of global environmental security, or gender relations, are also a challenge to philosophy. The volume comprises cutting-edge scholarly articles from renowned philosophers with various geographical backgrounds and from different philosophical strands. Next to investigating general questions as to the relation of philosophy and critique, what is philosophical critique, and which philosophical concepts of critique are of importance today, where do we need it most, where are its limits, the articles focus on issues like theories of democracy and modes of election, the roles of emotions in the political realm, challenges from a widespread discontent in society to politics and science, changes to social identities, and different theoretical approaches to social identity formation The book is indispensable for all who are interested in what contemporary philosophy has to say on crucial issues of our time
