Report Of The United Nations High Commis:

The 1951 Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees and its 1967 Protocol ,2024-01-10 The Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees adopted on 28 July 1951 in Geneva continues to provide the most comprehensive codification of the rights of refugees yet attempted Consolidating previous international instruments relating to refugees the 1951 Convention with its 1967 Protocol marks a cornerstone in the development of international refugee law At present there are 149 States Parties to one or both of these instruments expressing a worldwide consensus on the definition of the term refugee and the fundamental rights to be granted to refugees These facts demonstrate and underline the extraordinary significance of these instruments as the indispensable legal basis of international refugee law This Commentary provides for a systematic and comprehensive analysis of the 1951 Convention and the 1967 Protocol on an article by article basis exposing the interrelationship between the different articles and discussing the latest developments in international refugee law In addition several thematic contributions analyse questions of international refugee law which are of general significance such as regional developments the interrelationship between refugee law and general human rights law as well as the relationship between refugee law and the law of the sea The Rise and Decline of a Global Security Actor Anne Hammerstad,2014-02 The Rise and Decline of a Global Security Actor investigates the rise of the UNHCR as a global security actor and follows the refugee agency through some of the past two decades major conflict induced humanitarian emergencies including Afghanistan Bosnia Iraq Kosovo and Zaire Congo Eighth report of the United Nations Verification Mission in Guatemala United Nations Verification Mission in Guatemala,2020-12-08 The Eighth Report of the United Nations Verification Mission in Guatemala provides a comprehensive overview of the Mission s findings and observations regarding the implementation of the peace agreements in Guatemala The report delves into various aspects of the peace process including human rights socio economic development and political participation Written in a detailed and analytical style the book offers valuable insights into the challenges and progress made in post conflict Guatemala The report is an essential read for scholars and policymakers interested in peacebuilding and conflict resolution in Latin America Its thorough analysis and thorough documentation make it a valuable resource for understanding the complexities of post conflict transitions The author the United Nations Verification Mission in Guatemala draws on its expertise and experience in the region to provide a nuanced and informative account of the peace process in Guatemala The Mission s dedication to promoting peace and stability shines through in this report making it a must read for anyone seeking a deeper understanding of peacebuilding efforts in Guatemala A United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights Roger Stenson Clark,2013-12-01 prospects of the High Commissioner proposal with careful scholarship and shrewd judgment Mr Clark wrote the first draft of this book under my supervision for the degree of Doctor of the Science of Law at Columbia Law School before returning to take up his career as a law teacher in his native New Zealand I am delighted that his work in this improved and updated version is now being published It fills a real need since it is the first book on this important subject On this occasion it might be appropriate to add a few comments on the history of the High Commissioner proposal As Mr Clark indicates I had something to do with its revival in the United States Government during the closing months of the Kennedy Administration A few details as to how this revival took place may perhaps be useful to students of international relations and international organization Annual Report - United States Civil Service Commission United States Civil Service Commission, State Responsibility and International Refugee Law Sophie Capicchiano Young, 2025-10-30 As a system of Public International Law PIL International Refugee Law IRL diverges from those that evolved concurrently in certain distinct ways Though internationally recognised with a widely ratified Convention and with complementary regional instruments and municipal legal regimes that require adherence to its fundamental tenets the absence of clear instances of the attribution of international State responsibility is conspicuous This book provides a thorough inquiry into the deficiency that makes IRL so exceptional among systems of PIL through an in depth analysis of the evolving relationship between IRL and general PIL from the late 19th century to the present day The Human Rights Field Operation Michael O'Flaherty, 2007 This volume assesses the development of human rights field operations of the United Nations and other intergovernmental organizations It addresses a range of aspects concerning the nature role and activities of field operations whilst drawing together the reflections of academics policy makers and field practitioners The United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights Felice D. Gaer, Christen L. Broecker, 2013-10-02 In this first systematic examination of the role of the top United Nations human rights official editors Felice Gaer and Christen Broecker analyze the achievements leadership styles of and obstacles encountered by the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights and propose recommendations for the future The editors are joined by 18 expert contributors including present and former UN policymakers human rights practitioners legal scholars and current High Commissioner Navi Pillay The United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights Conscience for the World examines how the six individuals who have served in this post have worked to end atrocities hold perpetrators of abuses to account promote equality and justice and provide protection and redress to victims Refugee Displacement, Disability and Human Rights Philippa Duell-Piening, 2025-02-25 This book presents a timely and innovative exploration of one of the first human rights articles about data production and processing the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities article 31 Statistics and data collection The study provides detailed explorations of the legal and practical demands of article 31 how these have been interpreted and the practice of human rights research with marginalised communities It describes the history of the article s drafting in detail uncovering the tensions at its heart today This analysis provides the foundations for an alternative doctrinal reading of the obligations in article 31 and an exploration of a potential group right The book s detailed analysis is assisted by a new conceptual framework that illustrates the relationship between visibility and power The work demonstrates that data is not inert but powerful and may be used in ways that are helpful and harmful to rights holders Through closely examining disability human rights data practices in refugee contexts it concludes that human rights protections are being ignored in the urgency to create more data to identify and address inequality The author identifies immediate actions that may be taken to remediate current practices The book will be an invaluable resource for academics researchers and policy makers working in disability studies human rights law refugee and migration studies technology and society      Making and Shaping the Law of Armed Conflict Sandesh Sivakumaran,Christian R.

Burne,2024 This volume in the Lieber Studies series explores how the law of armed conflict is made and shaped It examines the fundamental materials of the law of armed conflict key actors and influences the spaces where the law is made as well as questions of unmaking      Human Rights: International Protection, Monitoring, Enforcement Janusz

Symonides,2017-09-29 The series of volumes prepared by UNESCO for teaching human rights at higher education level comes to a successful conclusion with the publication of this volume Human Rights International Protection Monitoring Enforcement takes an institutional approach to the international protection of human rights examining first the United Nations system which may be seen as universal and then analysing regional systems of protection An indispensable source of information on the protection of human rights the volume can also be employed as a practical guide to the use of existing procedures in the defence of human rights      The Oxford Handbook of the Responsibility to Protect Alex Bellamy,Tim

Dunne,2016-06-30 The Responsibility to Protect R2P is intended to provide an effective framework for responding to crimes of genocide ethnic cleansing war crimes and crimes against humanity It is a response to the many conscious shocking cases where atrocities on the worst scale have occurred even during the post 1945 period when the United Nations was built to save us all from the scourge of genocide The R2P concept accords to sovereign states and international institutions a responsibility to assist peoples who are at risk or experiencing the worst atrocities R2P maintains that collective action should be taken by members of the United Nations to prevent or halt such gross violations of basic human rights This Handbook containing contributions from leading theorists and practitioners including former foreign ministers and special advisors examines the progress that has been made in the last 10 years it also looks forward to likely developments in the next decade      Engaging Displaced Populations in a Future Syrian Transitional Justice Process Grace Mieszkalski,Benjamin

Zyla,2021-08-23 This book offers an analysis of a prospective transitional justice process in Syria As the Syrian conflict enters into its tenth year this book asks how the sustained human rights violations and war crimes could possibly be addressed in a post conflict setting particularly in the context of the widespread displacement crisis Despite a recent movement in scholarship toward bottom up peacebuilding approaches and participatory transitional justice models the transitional justice and local peacebuilding nexus remains under theorized particularly as it relates to the engagement of displaced populations This book seeks to address this gap through the conceptualization of a locally driven transitional justice process for Syria that is founded on the integration of refugees and displaced populations Through offering a series of policy recommendations on how to implement such a process it aims to make a contribution to building a bridge of exchange between the policy practitioner world and the academy in this area of study      The Human Rights to Water and Sanitation Léo Heller, 2022-05-12 A comprehensive overview of the human rights to water and sanitation exploring theoretical conceptual and practical aspects      Conflict, Security and Development Paul Jackson, Danielle Beswick, 2014-11-07 This textbook draws on academic theory field research and policy developments to provide an overview of the connections between security and development before during and after conflict This 2nd edition is revised and updated to take account of changes that have occurred in both policy and academic arenas which are relevant to students and practitioners in this area In an interdependent world it is often argued that the challenges of underdevelopment and insecurity have global implications This textbook charts an accessible course through these complex debates providing a comprehensive introduction for those encountering these issues for the first time The main aims of the revised edition are to set out how thinking on conflict security and development has changed over time and continues to evolve to explore the consequences of these changes particularly for the theory and practice of development and security promotion to introduce a range of case studies from across the globe in order to explore the implications of a combined approach to security and development The authors are experienced in both the theory and the practice of this field and illustrate the links between conflict security and development with practical examples drawing on key case studies from the past twenty years Each chapter is informed by student pedagogy and the book will be essential reading for all students of development studies war and conflict studies and human security and is recommended for students of international security and IR in general      The International Law of Migrant Smuggling Anne T. Gallagher, Fiona David, 2014-07-21 This book a companion volume to The International Law of Human Trafficking presents the first ever comprehensive and in depth analysis of the international law of migrant smuggling The authors call on their direct experience of working with the United Nations to chart the development of new international laws      Humanitarian Assistance David Gootnick (au), Tetsuo Miyabara (au), 2003-09      Human Rights in Global Health Benjamin Mason Meier, Lawrence O. Gostin, 2018-03-27 Institutions matter for the advancement of human rights in global health Given the dramatic development of human rights under international law and the parallel proliferation of global institutions for public health there arises an imperative to understand the implementation of human rights through global health governance This volume examines the evolving relationship between human rights global governance and public health studying an expansive set of health challenges through a multi sectoral array of global organizations To analyze the structural determinants of rights based governance the organizations in this volume include those international bureaucracies that implement human rights in ways that influence public health in a globalizing world This volume brings together leading health and human rights scholars and practitioners from academia non governmental organizations and the United Nations system They explore the foundations of human rights as a normative framework for global health governance the mandate of the World Health Organization to pursue a human rights based approach to health the role of inter governmental organizations across a range of health related human rights the influence of rights based economic governance on public health and the focus on global health among institutions of human rights governance Contributing chapters each map the distinct human rights efforts within a specific institution of global governance for health Through the comparative institutional analysis in this volume the contributing authors examine institutional dynamics to operationalize human rights in organizational policies programs and practices and assess institutional factors that facilitate or inhibit human rights mainstreaming for global health advancement

Syria and the Neutrality Trap Carsten Wieland, 2021-05-20 The Syrian war has been an example of the abuse and insufficient delivery of humanitarian assistance According to international practice humanitarian aid should be channelled through a state government that bears a particular responsibility for its population Yet in Syria the bulk of relief went through Damascus while the regime caused the vast majority of civilian deaths Should the UN have severed its cooperation with the government and neglected its humanitarian duty to help all people in need Decision makers face these tough policy dilemmas and often the neutrality trap snaps shut This book discusses the political and moral considerations of how to respond to a brutal and complex crisis while adhering to international law and practice The author a scholar and senior diplomat involved in the UN peace talks in Geneva draws from first hand diplomatic practitioner and UN sources He sheds light on the UN s credibility crisis and the wider implications for the development of international humanitarian and human rights law This includes covering the key questions asked by Western diplomats NGOs and international organizations such as Why did the UN not confront the Syrian government more boldly Was it not only legally correct but also morally justifiable to deliver humanitarian aid to regime areas where rockets were launched and warplanes started Why was it so difficult to render cross border aid possible where it was badly needed The meticulous account of current international practice is both insightful and disturbing It tackles the painful lessons learnt and provides recommendations for future challenges where politics fails and humanitarians fill the moral void
