Environmental Psychology Tony Cassidy, 2013-10-31 This text contains an up to date survey of theory research and practice in environmental psychology drawing on international literature It adopts the perspective that physical and social factors are inextricably linked in their influence on human behaviour and experience and that the world in which we live is changed and often damaged by human action Throughout the text the issues which are important in contemporary psychology such as levels of explanation methodological diversity and the relationship between psychology and other disciplines are brought to the fore The text covers established areas of environmental concern and also brings together research on rarely covered topics such as the effects of smell colour and light and the way in which physical environments influence social identity

Genetics, Ethics and Education Susan Bouregy, Elena L. Grigorenko, Stephen R. Latham, Mei Tan, 2017-10-05 Advances in human genetics and genomics are beginning to move outside the traditional realm of medicine and into the classroom How will educational officials react when asked to incorporate personalized genomic information into the educational program This volume bridges the divide between science education and ethics around the emergent integration of genomics and education By pairing comprehensive analysis of the issues with primers on the underlying science the authors put all relevant parties on a level field to facilitate thorough consideration and educated discussion regarding how to move forward in this new era as well as how best to support the future of education and the future of all students The volume is unique in bringing together not only scholarly experts but also parents and laypersons In doing so it gives voice and understanding to a broad spectrum of disciplines that have a stake in the future of education

Risk and Resilience in Human Development Corey L.M. Keyes, 2018-12-07 This special issue is devoted to the topic of risk and resilience in human development a topic that epitomizes the complexity of human development as a process of constancy and change throughout life The three empirical papers in this issue represent strong contributions to the growing corpus of research on risk and resilience in human development The first one focuses on the uniquely vulnerable population of urban ethnic minority adolescent males The second paper focuses on the risk and resilience from trauma in a sample of mostly

Caucasian individuals from rural Iowa who were at the last assessment in the midst of transition into young adulthood It measures an array of mental disorders outcomes and reveals the theoretical importance of timing of the risk factor The last paper is a study begun in 1978 of a cohort of individuals with serious adolescent onset mental disorder It compares these individuals against the risk and resilience profiles of a matched sample without serious adolescent onset psychiatric disorder In sum this issue adds to the corpus of the frontiers of resilience research

Applied Developmental Science Richard M. Lerner, Francine Jacobs, Donald Wertlieb, 2005-01-12 This affordable paperback course textbook has been adapted from the landmark four volume Handbook of Applied Developmental Science SAGE 2003 a work that offers a detailed roadmap for action and research in ensuring positive child youth and family development In 20 chapters Applied Developmental Science An Advanced Textbook brings together the latest in theory and application from applied developmental science and the positive psychology movement This advanced text summarizes and synthesizes the best scientific knowledge from ADS to help readers understand the efforts being made around the world to ensure that all children and adolescents develop into healthy adults who contribute positively to society Key Features Prominent researchers and practitioners offer state of the art overviews of key areas within the relatively new field of applied developmental science In consultation with instructors of applied developmental science and psychology courses chapters from the 4 volume Handbook Of Applied Developmental Science SAGE 2003 have been selected that best match syllabi for such courses Chapters end with conclusions offering students summaries and future directions along with references for further in depth reading This new single volume work will benefit students planning on careers working with children youth and families generally within an educational or community setting The text is also recommended for advanced undergraduate and beginning graduate students of Psychology Human Development Family Studies Social Work Human Services Education and related disciplines

Risks and Problem Behaviors in Adolescence Richard M. Lerner, Christine M. Ohannessian, 2014-02-04 The articles in this volume illustrate how development is propelled by the bidirectional relations that occur between the person and all levels of the context The authors argue that adolescent life is embedded in a complicated developmental system involving multiple features of the individual e g biology emotions personality and cognition and the multiple levels of his or her social ecology e g peers family school the workplace and the public policy and legal systems that structure and impact behavioural opportunities for and the actions of adolescents These articles have important implications for the design of interventions aimed at adolescent problem behaviours

Challenging Cases in Clinical Research Ethics Benjamin S Wilfond, Liza-Marie Johnson, Devan M Duenas, Holly A Taylor, 2023-11-22 Clinical research ethics consultation has emerged in the last 15 years as a service to those involved in the conduct of clinical research who face challenging issues for which more than one course of action may be justified To respond to a growing field and need for opportunities to share knowledge and experience the Clinical Research Ethics Consultation Collaborative established in 2014 holds monthly webinars for its 90 members to present their most challenging cases to each other and engage in substantive discussion Every year the group selects the four most interesting cases with accompanying commentaries for publication in the American Journal of Bioethics This timely book brings together these cases and commentaries under a range of common themes for the first time creating a permanent collection in book format that encourages and supports readers to gain a better understanding of the ethical challenges that they may face and providing them with a convenient and reflective resource to reference in their own deliberations chronological edition is based on the well established topically organized text by Bukatko and Daehler Child Development A Thematic Approach 5 e Addressing physical social and emotional development in a linear fashion this text starts with pre natal development and progresses through birth and the newborn baby infancy and toddlerhood early childhood middle childhood and adolescence Developed to accommodate the more applied focus of courses in nursing parenthood education family studies and human ecology this text benefits from the authors focus on research through an emphasis on developmental themes Five themes on development are found in every chapter and are listed in the chapter opener called out in the margin where the theme is addressed and summarized in a Summary of Developmental Themes section at the end of the chapter. The five themes explore nature and nurture, sociocultural contexts, continuous vs. discontinuous development, the domains of development, and risk or resilience in development. Extensive Contexts of Development chapters for each development stage broaden the scope of the issues discussed by examining the child/adolescent within the context of family, peers, and community. Research Applied to Parenting Education boxes provide practical advice based on research findings and cover such topics as reducing SIDS, monitoring TV viewing, reciprocal teaching, and reading to children. Atypical Development sections focus on topics related to non-normative development, including eating disorders, autism, attention deficit disorder, detecting hearing loss, depression, conduct disorders, and post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). Summary Tables are two-page graphic timelines that summarize the various milestones of development and show the sequence of the child's development within a given domain: infancy, early childhood, middle childhood, adolescence. Chapter Opening Vignettes draw students into real-life scenarios by applying and exploring concepts of development. Marginal features: See for Yourself and What Do You Think invite students to critically evaluate and explore further related material on the Online Study Center. Additional pedagogy includes section summaries within each chapter and comprehensive Chapter Recaps that feature a Summary of Developmental Themes, a Chapter Review, and a list of Key Terms and Concepts.

Lifespan Development in Context Tara L. Kuther, 2023-02-24 Award-winning author Tara Kuther presents Lifespan Development in Context Second Edition, a topically oriented edition of her bestselling text that provides a panoramic view of the many influences that shape human development. Kuther's student-friendly narrative illustrates how the places, sociocultural environments, and ways in which we are raised influence who we become and how we grow and change throughout our lives. Three core themes resonate throughout each chapter and across each developmental domain and topic: the centrality of context, the importance of research, and the applied value of developmental science. Foundational theories and classic studies are woven together with contemporary research and culturally diverse perspectives for a full, updated introduction to the field that is both comprehensive and concise. Case studies, real-world applications, and video examples ignite critical thinking and class discussion, ensuring students have the tools they need to apply course concepts to their lives and future careers
