Communication and Community Ronald C. Arnett,1986 Martin Buber s work suggests that real life begins with two individuals engaged in dialogue not just taking care of one s own needs as described in social Darwinism Arnett argues that the end of the age of abundance demands that we give up the communicative strategies of the past and seek to work together in the midst of limited resources and an uncertain future Today s situation calls for an unwavering commitment to Buber s narrow ridge concern for both self and community Arnett illustrates the narrow ridge definition of interpersonal communication with rich examples His vignettes demonstrate effective and ineffective approaches to human community An effective approach he makes clear incorporates not only openness to others points of view but also a willingness to be persuaded
