Repression And Resistance Canadian Human Rights Activists 1930 196:

The British Columbia Court of Appeal Christopher Moore, 2010-03-15 Courts of law at once reflect and shape the society in which they reside and dispense justice To mark the 2010 centenary of BC's highest court the British Columbia Court of Appeal this book presents an institutional jurisprudential and biographical account of the court and its evolving role in the province Richly illustrated and replete with biographical sketches group portraits of judges and careful explorations of significant and representative cases this authoritative history explores how the court came into being how it has operated and who its judges have been In the process it tells the story of how the court has shaped and been shaped by the social political and legal development of British Columbia This much needed addition to the judicial history of Canada raises questions for British Columbia legal historians to pursue and for scholars judges lawyers and Canadians in general to ponder

Citizenship and Belonging in France and North America Ramona Mielusel, Simona Emilia Pruteanu, 2020-01-09 The first decades of the new millennium have been marked by major political changes Although The West has wished to revisit internal and international politics concerning migration policies refugee status integration secularism and the dismantling of communitarianism events like the Syrian refugee crisis the terrorist attacks in France in 2015 2016 and the economic crisis of 2008 have resurrected concepts such as national identity integration citizenship and re shaping state policies in many developed countries In France and Canada more recent public elections have brought complex democratic political figures like Emmanuel Macron and Justin Trudeau to the public eye Both leaders were elected based on their promising political agendas that aimed at bringing their countries into the new millennium Trudeau promotes multiculturalism while Macron touts the diverse nation and the inclusion of diverse ethnic communities to the national model This edited collection aims to establish a dialogue between these two countries and across disciplines in search of such discursive illustrations and opposing discourses Analyzing the cultural and political tensions between minority groups and the state in light of political events that question ideas of citizenship and belonging to a multicultural nation the chapters in this volume serve as a testimonial to the multiple views on the political and public perception of multicultural practices and their national and international applicability to our current geopolitical context North of America Asa McKercher, Michael D.

Stevenson, 2023-07-15 In 1941 influential US publishing magnate Henry Luce declared the world was in the midst of the first great American century believing his nation held the power and vision to lead and transform the world What did a newly outward looking and hegemonic United States mean for its northern neighbour North of America is a sharp eyed volume providing a unique look at postwar Canada bringing to the fore the opinions and perceptions of a broad range of Canadians from consumers to diplomats jazz musicians to urban planners and a diverse cross section in between As they grappled with issues including constitutional reform transit policy national security the arrival of television white supremacy and postwar domesticity Canadians were ever mindful of the unfolding American experience and its influence Repression and

Resistance Ross Lambertson, 2005 Examining the history of human rights in Canada from 1930 to 1960 the period just before the emergence of contemporary human rights groups Repression and Resistance focuses on the activists who fought against what they perceived to be the major human rights injustices of the time the Quebec anti communist padlock law the violation of civil liberties during the war the post war attempt to deport Japanese Canadians campaigns to obtain effective anti discrimination legislation civil liberties violations during the Cold War and the struggle to obtain a Bill of Rights Using newspaper files government documents collections of personal papers and interviews with former political activists Ross Lambertson demonstrates how certain Canadians including members of ethnic labour religious civil libertarian and other organizations were sufficiently aroused by injustice so as to fight for human rights The book shows how these different activists and their organizations were inter related but also how at the same time they were very often separated by ideological cultural and geographic divisions Religion Index One, 1990 A History of Human Rights in Canada

Janet Miron, 2009 Human rights equality and social justice are at the forefront of public concern and political debate in Canada Global events especially the war on terrorism have fostered further interest in the abuse of human rights especially when sanctioned or perpetuated by democratic governments This groundbreaking contributed volume seeks to shed light on this topic by uniting original essays that examine the history of human rights in Canada Contributors explore a variety of themes integral to the post confederation period including immigration and ethnicity gender sexuality class disability state formation and provincial federal relations Three key issues emerge throughout incidents of discrimination in both government and society the efforts of human rights and civil liberties activists to create a more open and tolerant society and the implementation of state legislation designed to protect or enhance civil rights
