biological and neurological conceptions of autism the French continued to support a psychogenic origin for the disorder impacting state policy and medical norms for decades This position energized conflict between professionals and parents concerning expertise leading to political and legal changes at the end of the twentieth century By the twenty first century French autists entered the debate to transform its parameters and assert their own position as experts on autism reconceiving the disorder outside of childhood to a limited degree Perpetual Children reveals the international dimension of the story of autism and how the French context provides a different perspective on its history

Domínguez-Morano, 2020-07-16 Belief after Freud confronts the psychoanalytic experience and the experience of faith A purified vision of faith so many times disfigured by infantile or neurotic dynamics can emerge through the crucible of psychoanalysis The work contributes to the dialogue between psychoanalysis and faith based on the respective lived experiences rather than from theoretical positions only The book is divided into three parts Part I centres on Freud's position on religion After an introductory chapter assessing Freud's present validity the following chapters critically examine Freud's position and interpretation of religion Part II examines how people of faith experience psychoanalysis including the role played by unconscious feelings of guilt and the ideas of sin and salvation Part III explores ideas of sexuality power and obedience including the unconscious and pathological roots of the relation with money and the sense of evangelical poverty

Now in its fifth edition in Spain Belief after Freud has also been published in Argentina and Brazil Many readers say the book has opened a new form of belief for them The book has also been of great interest to non believing psychologists

Special Educational Needs and Inclusive Practices Fabio Dovigo,2017-01-28 Today school is becoming a rapidly changing learning environment Thinking about students as a homogeneous population is no longer allowed as diversity in terms of culture language gender family organisation learning styles and so on has emerged as a key challenge for education today The debate on Special Educational Needs largely reflects this challenge as working in school implies careful reconsideration of what we mean by normal and special Current educational intervention is generally based on a deficit and within child model of facing SEN whereas very little attention is given to the role of learning environments The focus is on the child more than on the whole class and on cognition and technical provisions more than on affective sociocultural and community dimensions of learning Conversely regarding students and their needs as hidden voices allows us to adopt a transformative approach which sees diversity as a stimulus for the development of educational practices that might benefit all children and help school to become an inclusive and moving organisation The aim of the book is twofold on the one hand it offers a systematic overview of the inclusive education state of the art in six countries Germany Italy Norway Sweden UK and USA based on the contributions by well known scholars such as Christy Ashby Barbara Brokamp Fabio Dovigo Kari Nes Mara Westling Allodi Tony Booth and Beth Ferri on the other hand the book analyses five cases of good practices of inclusion related to different subjects and school levels
