Inclusive States Anis A. Dani, Arjan de Haan, 2008-04-29 The heterogeneity of social structures and cultural identities in many developing countries together with traditional hierarchies rivalries and deep seated biases has perpetuated inequities Inclusive States Social Policy and Structural Inequalities examines the role of the state and society in addressing structural inequalities and identifies a set of policy recommendations to redress them This book defines structural inequality as a condition arising from unequal status attributed to a category of people in relation to others a relationship perpetuated and reinforced by unequal relations in roles functions decision rights and opportunities Inclusive states are those that direct policies to address the needs of all that respect the rights of citizens to exercise voice and influence on which services are provided and how they are delivered and that have an interest in strengthening the social contract with their citizens A central focus of policy remains a concern for equity both to level the playing field to encourage social mobility and to ensure equity in the distributional effects of policy reforms and development interventions This book highlights two key challenges for social policy First policy design needs to take into account the weaknesses of basic state functions in many developing countries since these have important ramifications for social policy outcomes Second in most developing countries social structures marked by historically rooted structural inequalities pose significant challenges to the provision of services and require a long term commitment to address underlying questions and problems This book describes some of the challenges found in different contexts and some of the ways in which these challenges can be and are being addressed This book is part of a new series New Frontiers in Social Policy which examines issues and approaches to extend the boundaries of social policy beyond conventional social services toward policies and institutions that improve equality of opportunity and social justice in developing countries Other forthcoming titles in the series include Assets Livelihoods and Social Policy and Institutional Pathways to Equity Addressing Inequality Traps

Transitional Justice in Nepal Yvette Selim, 2018-06-27 The conflict in Nepal 1996 2006 resulted in an estimated 15 000 deaths 1 300 disappearances along with other serious human rights and humanitarian law violations Demands for peace democracy accountability and development have abounded in the post conflict context Although the conflict catalysed major changes in the social and political landscape in Nepal the transitional justice TJ process has remained deeply contentious and fragmented This book provides an in depth analysis of transitional justice process in Nepal Drawing on interviews with a diverse range of stakeholders including victims ex combatants community members human rights advocates journalists and representatives from diplomatic missions international organisations and the donor community it reveals the differing viewpoints knowledge attitudes and preferences about TJ and other post conflict issues in Nepal The author develops an actor typology and an action spectrum which can be used in Nepal and other post conflict contexts The actor typology identifies four main groups of TJ actors experts brokers implementers and victims and highlights who is making claims and on behalf of whom The action spectrum based on contentious politics literature and resistance literature demonstrates the strategies actors use to shape the TJ process This book argues that the potential of TJ lies in these dynamics of contention It is by letting these dynamics play out that different conceptualisations of TJ can arise While doing so may lead to practical challenges and produce situations that are normatively undesirable for some actors particularly when certain political parties and national actors seem to hijack TJ remaining steadfast to the dominant TJ paradigm is also undesirable As the first book to provide a single case study on TJ in Nepal it makes theoretical and empirical contributions to TJ research in Nepal and the Asia Pacific more broadly the politics versus justice binary and the concept of victimhood among others It will be of interest to a wide range of scholars in the study of transitional justice peace and conflict studies human rights sociology political science criminology law anthropology and South Asian Studies as well as policy makers and NGOs
