Marion Greenwood Joanne B. Mulcahy,2025 This book is the first biography of a woman whose star blazed through the twentieth century art world Born in Brooklyn in 1909 artist Marion Greenwood attended and thrived at now storied institutions and arts centers The Art Students League the studio of German modernist Winold Reiss the Woodstock Colony and Yaddo In 1933 she catapulted to international fame as the first woman to paint a public mural in Mexico and was celebrated by Diego Rivera as one of the world s greatest living women mural painters Greenwood traveled the globe to create award winning portraits of people from diverse backgrounds crossing racial cultural and class lines to reflect her vision for a more just world Based on a decade of research and interviews biographer Joanne B Mulcahy integrates Greenwood's adventuresome personal life with her journey to artistic glory. Mulcahy deftly contextualizes Greenwood's participation in the heady art scenes of 1920s and 1930s Mexico, New York City and Paris and her role as one of two women artist correspondents during World War II. After social realism and portraiture fell from favor, Greenwood doggedly stuck with the human thing in art. Her freewheeling romantic life defied expectations for women and she fought sexist critics who mixed acclaim for her work with commentary on her stunning beauty. A feminist pioneer, she made a living as an artist in a time when few women did. In following Greenwood's maverick path and artistic achievements, this book carves out a central place for her in the pantheon of history's remarkable women artists.

Branding the American West Marian Wardle, Sarah E. Boehme, 2016-02-17

Artists and filmmakers in the early twentieth century reshaped our vision of the American West. In particular, the Taos Society of Artists and the California-based artist Maynard Dixon departed from the legendary depiction of the Wild West and fostered new images or brands for western art. This volume, illustrated with more than 150 images, examines select paintings and films to demonstrate how these artists both enhanced and contradicted earlier representations of the West. Prior to this period, American art tended to portray the West as a wild frontier with untamed lands and peoples. Renowned artists such as Henry Farny and Frederic Remington set their work in the past, invoking an environment immersed in conflict and violence. This trademark perspective began to change, however, when artists enamored with the Southwest stamped a new imprint on their paintings. The contributors to this volume illuminate the complex ways in which early twentieth-century artists as well as filmmakers evoked a southwestern environment not just suspended in time but also permanent rather than transient. Yet as the authors also reveal, these artists were not entirely immune to the siren call of the vanishing West, and their portrayal of peaceful yet exotic Native Americans was an expansion rather than a dismissal of earlier tropes. Both brands cast a romantic spell on the West and both have been seared into public consciousness.

Branding the American West is published in association with the Brigham Young University Museum of Art, Provo, Utah, and the Stark Museum of Art, Orange, Texas.

Painting a Hidden Life Mechal Sobel, 2009-03-15

Born into slavery on an Alabama plantation in 1853, Bill Traylor worked as a sharecropper for most of his life. But in 1928 he moved to Montgomery and changed his life, becoming a self-taught lyric painter of extraordinary ability and power. From 1936 to 1946 he sat on a street corner, old, ill, and homeless, and created well over 1,200 paintings. Collected and later promoted by Charles Shannon, a young Montgomery artist, his work received star placement in the Corcoran Gallery's 1982 exhibition Black Folk Art in America. From then on, the spare and powerful radical modernity of Traylor's work helped place him among the rising stars of twentieth-century American artists. Most critics and art historians who analyze Traylor's paintings emphasize his extraordinary form and evaluate the content as either simple or enigmatic narratives of black life. In Painting a Hidden Life, historian Mechal Sobel's trenchant analysis reveals a previously unrecognized central core of meaning in Traylor

s near hidden symbolism a call for retribution in response to acts of lynching and other violence toward blacks Drawing on historical records and oral histories Sobel carefully explores the relationship between Traylor s life and his paintings and arrives at new interpretations of his art From an interview with Traylor s great granddaughter Sobel learned that Traylor believed the Birmingham policemen who killed his son in 1929 in fact lynched him a story that neither Traylor nor his family had previously disclosed The trauma of this event Sobel explains propelled Traylor to find a way to voice his rage and spurred the creation of his powerful mysterious visual language Traylor s encoded paintings tell a vibrant multilayered story of conjure power sexual rivalry and violence Revealing an extraordinarily diverse visual universe the symbols in Traylor s paintings reflect the worlds he lived in between 1853 and 1949 the plantation conjure milieu into which he was born the blues culture in which he matured the world of Jim Crow he learned to secretly violate and the Catholic values he adopted in his final years From his African heritage Traylor drew symbols not readily understood by whites He mixed traditional African images with conjure signs with symbols of black Baptists and Freemasons and with images central to the hidden black protest movement the cross and the lynching tree In this groundbreaking examination of an extraordinary artist Sobel uncovers the internalized pain of several generations and traces the paths African Americans blazed long before the march down the Selma Montgomery highway
