Adapting Historical Knowledge Production to the Classroom P.V. Kokkotas,K.S Malamitsa,A.A. Rizaki,2011-10-18
The aims of this book are to contribute to professional development of those directly involved in science education science teachers elementary and secondary science teacher advisors researchers in science education etc to contribute to the improvement of the quality of science education at all levels of education with the exploitation of elements from History of Science incorporated in science teaching it is argued that through such approaches the students motivation can be raised their romantic understanding can be developed and consequently their conceptual understanding of science concepts can be improved since these approaches make science more attractive to them and to contribute to the debate about science education at the international level in order to find new ways for further inquiry on the issues that the book is dealing with The book is divided in two parts The first expounds its philosophical and epistemological framework and the second combines theory and praxis the theoretical insights with their practical applications Constructivism in Education Leslie P. Steffe,Jerry Gale,2012-10-12 Unique in offering a multidisciplinary perspective on key issues of alternative epistemologies in education this collection includes contributions from scholars in family therapy epistemology and mathematics science and language education These respected researchers were brought together to develop the theme of constructivism as it applies to many diversified fields This book examines key distinctions of various constructivist epistemologies comparing and contrasting the various paradigms Each section provides both keynote positions on a particular alternative paradigm as well as critical comments by respondents regarding that position Several chapters also present a synthesis of the alternative epistemological perspectives La Conversation Fracturée Clanton C.W. Dawson Jr.,2017-12-14 This project is a philosophical analysis of the dominant concepts of race that prevail within contemporary American society It is the claim of this book that four main concepts attempt to answer the question what is race The four concepts are racial essentialism race as a social construct with objective status racial nihilism and race as an existential phenomenological process Each concept fails however in providing the necessary and sufficient conditions for a satisfactory concept of race and thus the project calls for a new conceptual framework for answering the question what is race Constructivist Psychotherapy Gabriele Chiari,Maria Laura Nuzzo,2009-09-29 Psychotherapy has undergone major changes in recent years with a variety of new approaches including cognitive behavioural therapy joining the more traditional and widespread schools of thought These new approaches all share the epistemological assumption of constructivism which states that there are alternative ways of looking at events and that we interpret events according to how we see the world Constructivist Psychotherapy reviews the constructivist trends in psychotherapy which link these new approaches allowing the reader to enter an entirely new dialogue The book traces constructivist thought elaborating on Kelly's personal construct theory and the implications for psychotherapeutic theory and practice Areas of discussion include the therapist's understanding of the client's narrative a constructivist understanding of the person psychological constructivism and constructivist trends in psychotherapy Setting constructivist psychotherapy within its therapeutic social and philosophical context and using case studies throughout the book revisits Kellian ideas and theories bringing them up to date to explore what it is to be a constructivist psychotherapist today As such this book will be of interest to all psychotherapists as well as anyone with an interest in the psychotherapeutic field

The Reality of Social Construction Dave Elder-Vass, 2012-04-23 Social construction is a central metaphor in contemporary social science yet it is used and understood in widely divergent and indeed conflicting ways by different thinkers Most commonly it is seen as radically opposed to realist social theory Dave Elder Vass argues that social scientists should be both realists and social constructionists and that coherent versions of these ways of thinking are entirely compatible with each other This book seeks to transform prevailing understandings of the relationship between realism and constructionism It offers a thorough ontological analysis of the phenomena of language discourse culture and knowledge and shows how this justifies a realist version of social constructionism In doing so however it also develops an analysis of these phenomena that is significant in its own right

The New Motivation and Dilemma of China's Soft Power in the Age of Noopolitik Zheng Li, 2022-05-17 Good governance and anti corruption efforts were expected to enhance soft power overseas The party state successfully governed China for decades relying on its controversial governance approaches The country has visibly demonstrated economic and social development However China s growing influence has failed to be recognised as soft power being viewed rather as sharp power most times The monograph investigates whether China is mindful of exporting its political ideas and whether it considers its governance model to be the pillar of its soft power portfolio Through framing analysis of media coverage and in depth interviews with Australian public diplomacy experts the monograph presents how Australia a western country with close economic ties with China interprets China s intended narrative regarding its governance model and development Examining the congruity between China s projection and Australia s mediation sheds a new light on the relationship between domestic governance soft power and sharp power By sketching out Beijing s ambitions and attempts the monograph draws implications about China s public diplomacy and the future global order

Race and Epistemologies of Ignorance Shannon Sullivan,Nancy Tuana,2012-02-01 Offering a wide variety of philosophical approaches to the neglected philosophical problem of ignorance this groundbreaking collection builds on Charles Mills s claim that racism involves an inverted epistemology an epistemology of ignorance Contributors explore how different forms of ignorance linked to race are produced and sustained and what role they play in promoting racism and white privilege They argue that the ignorance that underpins racism is not a simple gap in knowledge the accidental result of an epistemological oversight In the case of racial oppression ignorance often is actively produced for purposes of domination and exploitation But as these essays demonstrate ignorance is not simply a tool of oppression wielded by the powerful It can also be a strategy for survival an important tool for people of color to wield against white privilege and white supremacy The book concludes that understanding ignorance and the politics of such ignorance should be a key element of epistemological and social political analyses for it has the potential to reveal the role of power in the construction of what is known and provide a lens for the political values at work in knowledge practices

Ethnographic Inquiry and Lived Experience Wing-Chung Ho,2019-01-15 Ho addresses two fundamental theoretical questions about how best to practice ethnographic inquiries to obtain qualitative experience near and shareable accounts of human living The first question is regarding the epistemology of ethnography Ho posits that writing is epistemologically prior to the researcher's fieldwork experience in the production of ethnographic knowledge This stance is developed using the theories of hermeneutics put forward by Paul Ricoeur and Hans Georg Gadamer who both consider that once a text is produced its meaning is dissociated from the intention of the author The second question is what is the putative object that the ethnographer writes about Ho argues that lived experience Erlebnis offers such an ethnographic object Since the lived experience that an ethnographer experiences during fieldwork cannot be studied directly further theorizations of lived experience are necessary Ho underscores both the non discursivity and transcendence of lived experience in the lifeworld and the way power is clandestinely imbued in everyday life in shaping subjectivity and practice This theorization brings together Alfred Schutz's lifeworld theory and Michel Foucault's power knowledge nexus The result is a general theory of experience that is pertinent for ethnographic inquiries By addressing these two fundamental questions and offering novel angles from which to answer them this book offers refreshed epistemological guidelines for conducting ethnographic research for scientific reasoning More importantly this book also provides a crucial knowledge base for comprehending the current epistemological debates inherent in the production of ethnographic knowledge and furthering discussions in the field
