Tracing Your Air Force Ancestors Phil Tomaselli, 2007-07-19 Whether you are interested in the career of an individual air man or woman researching medals awarded to a pilot or crew member or just want to know more about a particular squadron or operation this book will point you in the right direction Assuming that the reader has no prior knowledge of the air force its history or organization Phil Tomaselli explains which records survive where they can be found and how they can help you in your research He also recommends resources available online as well as books and memoirs Each era in air force history is described from the pioneering days of early aviation and the formation of the Royal Flying Corps in the First World War to the creation of the Royal Air Force its operations during the Second World War and its postwar development The author explains the evolving organization of the air force in each period He also provides pointers and examples which should help researchers find the records of units and bases that individuals served in

A History of the Mediterranean Air War, 1940-1945. Volume 2 Christopher Shores, Giovanni Massimello, Russell Guest, Frank Olynk, Winfried

Bock, 2014-07-19 This second volume in the seminal series on aerial combat pilots and tactics in Libya and Egypt in the middle of World War II In volume two of this series historian Christopher Shores begins by exploring the 8th Army's movements after Operation Crusader when they were forced back to the Gazala area in northeastern Libya as well as their defeat in June 1942 the loss of Tobruk and the efforts of Allied air forces to protect their retreating troops Shores continues with the heavy fighting that followed in the El Alamein region This features the Western Desert Air Force and the arrival of the first Spitfires The buildup of both army and air forces and the addition of new commanders on the ground aided the defeat of Rommel's Deutsche Afrika Korps at Alam el Halfa after which came the Second Battle of El Alamein With the arrival of the United States Army Air Force the Allied air forces gained dominance over the Axis Shores recounts the lengthy pursuit of the Italo German forces right across Libya including the capture of Tripoli and the breakthrough into Southern Tunisia This allowed a linkup with other Allied forces in Tunisia whose story appears in Volume 3 Included with the action are stories of some of the great fighter aces of the Desert campaign such as Jochen Marseille and Otto Schulz of the Luftwaffe Franco Bordoni Bisleri of the Regia Aeronautica and Neville Duke Billy Drake and Eddie Edwards of the Commonwealth air forces Finally Shores touches on the Allied and Axis night bombing offensives and the activities of the squadrons cooperating with the naval forces in the Mediterranean

Bomber Squadrons of the R.A.F. and Their Aircraft Philip J. R. Moyes, 1964 Illustrated record of British Royal Air Force squadrons formed since the First World War including those formed from Allied and Dominions personnel

A History of the Mediterranean Air War, 1940-1945 Christopher Shores, Giovanni Massimello, Russell Guest, 2012-06-19 This first volume in the seminal series on World War II aerial combat pilots and tactics that reads like an encyclopedia on the subject Portland Book Review In the early days of World War II both Allied and Axis powers extended the theater of war to North Africa where hard fought battles were conducted in the harsh desert But before anyone could claim victory on the ground they had to hold dominion in the air Here historian Christopher Shores has combined his books Fighters over the Desert and Fighters over Tunisia into one volume as well as adding updated information about the deadly fighter aircraft reconnaissance aircraft and maritime units active in the Mediterranean Full of in depth research and featuring essential maps this is an intimate introspection by these men of their experiences and the respect that they shared not only for each other but also their adversaries The Military Reviewer

Vickers Wellington Units of Bomber Command Michael Napier, 2020-07-23 The Vickers Wellington was one of very few aircraft types to have been in production and frontline service throughout World War II and more than 10 000 Wellingtons were built in the period They took part in the first RAF bombing mission of the conflict when on 4 September 1939 14 examples from Nos 9 and 149 Sqns undertook a daring daylight attack on the Kiel Canal However after suffering high losses on follow up raids Wellingtons were withdrawn from daytime missions and began to operate at night from May 1940 They subsequently took part in raids against the Italian port city of Genoa in July 1940 and against Berlin the following month followed by key missions in the Battle of the Barges in September and October as the RAF targeted the Germany s invasion fleet being assembled in French Channel ports When RAF s strike force expanded the next year following the introduction of the improved Wellington II the 21 squadrons equipped with the Vickers aircraft which included Polish Canadian and Australian manned units formed the backbone of the Bomber Command night bombing force Over the next two years Wellingtons participated in all the major operations by Bomber Command including the daylight raid against German battleships in Brest harbour in July 1942 and the first three Thousand Bomber raids in the summer of 1942 This illustrated study explores the design development and deployment of the Vickers Wellington type charting its role in World War II from its earliest missions to its use in training after its withdrawal from frontline bomber missions in 1943 The text is supported by stunning full colour artwork

The History of Air Intercept Radar & the British Nightfighter 1935-1959 Ian White, 2007-05-30 This detailed history of Air Intercept radar traces the development of this vital military technology with the Royal Air Force during WWII In the years after World War I the United Kingdom was desperate to develop some form of protection from an enemy air strike As early as 1923 the British Army had devised sound mirrors that could detect aircraft up to twelve miles away This technical history traces the development of military radar technology from this early experimental phase to the creation of the first air to air radar systems and their uses in battle Historian Ian White sets this fascinating narrative within the larger political military economic and technological context of the era Through World War II Air Intercept radar was a vital asset in protecting RAF bomber forces as well as the country itself But developing the technology required the tireless work of physicists and engineers in the Air Ministry Research Establishment particularly members of the Establishment's Airborne Group working under Dr Edward Bowen Their Airborne Interception radars such as the AI Mk IV were used in Blenheim night fighters during the winter Blitz and by Mosquito during the Baedeker Raids This in depth history covers the introduction of centimetric technology at the Telecommunications Research Establishment the creation of centimetric AI and their installation in the Beaufighter and later marks of the Mosquito It describes the creation of the Radiation Laboratory at MIT and concludes with a section on further developments during the Cold War The Wellington Bomber Martin W.

Bowman,2020-01-31 The Wellington Bomber was omnipresent during the Second World War employed in a variety of contexts in the fight against the Axis powers The pilots who flew this aircraft did so with an immense amount of pride and there is perhaps no one better placed to tell the story of this incredible aircraft than these men Martin Bowman has drawn together a selection of first hand pilot testimonies in an effort to record authentically the experience of flying the much mythologised Wellington during one of the most challenging eras of aviation history The book is supplemented by two plate sections of stirring black and white images Aviation Landmarks - Norfolk and Suffolk Peter B. Gunn,2017-11-24 Norfolk and Suffolk are bursting with aviation heritage having played key roles in military aviation through the two world wars and beyond The obvious notable landmarks include airfields past and present traces of former radar stations decoy airfields and other sites that were once highly secretive However there are less conspicuous ones too from churches memorials and museums to local pubs streets and even village signs This new edition of Aviation Landmarks Norfolk and Suffolk offers a fully updated account of aviation heritage and history right up to the present day With over 500 entries it covers nearly seventy airfields as well as many lesser known landmarks such as former radar stations country houses local heritage collections street signs and more Complete with illustrations OS grid references and an index of places this reference guide to the two counties both in the air and on the ground will captivate both interested locals and aviation enthusiasts alike

Air Power at the Battlefront Dr Ian Gooderson,2013-05-13 Ian Gooderson presents a study of close air support in World War II with the analysis focusing on the use of tactical air power by British and American forces during the campaigns in Italy and northwestern Europe between 1943 and 1945 Air Force Magazine ,1993-07 Intelligence and Military Operations Michael Handel,2013-09-13 Traditionally the military community held the intelligence profession in low esteem spying was seen as dirty work and information was all too often ignored if it conflicted with a commander's own view Handel examines the ways in which this situation has improved and argues that co operation between the intelligence adviser and the military decision maker is vital Spanish Civil War Air Forces Christopher Shores, 1977-07-15 This book traces the combat history of the air forces that fought in the Spanish Civil War Major aircraft types are all covered and their missions including major operations at Brunete Belchite and the Ebro are all detailed Aircraft markings and aircrew uniforms are shown in full colour illustrations Lufthansa to Luftwaffe - Hitler's Secret Air Force Peter Dancy, 2010-08-03 This book provides a complete history of the clandestine WW II Luftwaffe and its origins under the patronage of Lufthansa secret training of its personnel in Russia and Italy Combat proving of its airplanes with the Condor Legion during the Spanish Civil War Units deployments personnel airplanes and sub types thw secret weapons and the world s first combat jets Hitler s less than cordial relations with Goring the RLM and German Aviation industry The Bombers and the Bombed Richard Overy, 2015-04-28 An essential part of the literature of World War II Jonathan Yardley The Washington Post From acclaimed World War II historian Richard Overy comes this startling new history of the controversial Allied bombing war against Germany and German occupied Europe In the fullest account yet of the campaign and its consequences Overy assesses not just the bombing strategies and pattern of operations but also how the bombed communities coped with the devastation This book presents a unique history of the bombing offensive from below as well as from above and engages with moral questions that still resonate today The Berlin Raids Martin Middlebrook, 2010-07-12 A meticulously documented account that covers the RAF s controversial attempt to end World War II by the aerial bombing of Berlin Kirkus Reviews The Battle of Berlin was the longest and most sustained bombing offensive against one target in the Second World War Bomber Command Commander in Chief Sir Arthur Harris hoped to wreak Berlin from end to end and produce a state of devastation in which German surrender was inevitable He dispatched nineteen major raids between August 1943 and March 1944 more than ten thousand aircraft sorties dropped over thirty thousand tons of bombs on Berlin It was the RAF s supreme effort to end the war by aerial bombing But Berlin was not destroyed and the RAF lost more than six hundred aircraft and their crews The controversy over whether the Battle of Berlin was a success or failure has continued ever since Martin Middlebrook brings to this subject considerable experience as a military historian In preparing his material he collected documents from both sides many of the German ones never before used he has also interviewed and corresponded with over four hundred of the people involved in the battle and has made trips to Germany to interview the people of Berlin and Luftwaffe aircrews He has achieved the difficult task of bringing together both sides of the Battle of Berlin the bombing force and the people on the ground to tell a coherent single story His straightforward narrative covers the 19 major raids with a detailed description of three in particular and includes recollections by British and German airmen as well as German civilians who weathered the storm Publishers Weekly 'Gardening by Moonlight' Peter Kaniak, David Gunby, 2016-12-20 205 Group RAF mining operations over the River Danube in 1944 The product of research in British Australian South African German Hungarian and Slovak archives Gardening by Moonlight is about one of the least known and most effective of the Royal Air Force s bombing campaigns of the Second World War Operating from a group of bases around Foggia in Central Italy the RAF's 205 Group mined the River Danube intensively between April and October 1944 radically curtailing the movement of Axis river shipping and at times halting it altogether The Wellington and Liberator crews had to sow their mines hence the slang term gardening at low level on moonlit nights running the gauntlet of night fighters flak and balloon barrages Their courage skill and sacrifice are celebrated in what is an important account of a virtually unknown aspect of the war in the air The Encyclopedia of Weapons of World War II Chris Bishop, 2002 The encyclopedia of weapons of world war II is the most detailed and authoritative compendium of the weapons of mankind's greatest conflict ever published It is a must for the military enthusiast and all those interested in World War II Index to Records of the United States Strategic Bombing Survey United States Strategic Bombing Survey, 1947 The Ruhr 1943 Richard Worrall, 2021-10-28 This illustrated study explores in detail the RAF's first concentrated air campaign of World War II against one of the hardest and most important targets in Germany the industrial heartland of the Ruhr that kept Hitler's war machine running Between March and July 1943 RAF Bomber Command undertook its first concentrated bombing campaign the Battle of the Ruhr whose aim was nothing less than the complete destruction of the industry that powered the German war machine Often overshadowed by the famous Dambusters single raid attack on the Ruhr dams the Battle of the Ruhr proved much larger and much more complex The mighty industrial Ruhr region contained not only some of the most famous and important arms makers such as the gunmakers Krupp of Essen but also many other industries that the German war economy relied on from steelmakers to synthetic oil plants Being such a valuable target the Ruhr was one of the most heavily defended regions in Europe This book examines how the brutal Ruhr campaign was conceived and fought and how Bomber Command's relentless pursuit of its objective drew it into raids on targets well beyond the Ruhr from the nearby city of Cologne to the Skoda works in Czechoslovakia Drawing on a wide range of primary and secondary sources this is the story of the first titanic struggle in the skies over Germany between RAF Bomber Command and the Luftwaffe
