Re Distribution Of Authority A Cross Regional Perspective:

Re-distribution of Authority Jeanie J. Bukowski, Swarna Rajagopalan, 2000-05-30 Bukowski Rajagopalan and their contributors seek to cross both analytical and geographic boundaries in the study of why and how authority shifts both within and beyond the modern nation state They develop a conceptualization of the re distribution of authority that is when the capacity of governmental and societal units involved in carrying out the tasks and responsibilities of governance change over time relative to each other They argue that this is a more comprehensive alternative to extant conceptualizations used to study the shifting of authority such as decentralization regionalism or federalism Nine diverse cases are then presented Pakistan India Sri Lanka the United States Russia Spain Portugal Senegal and South Africa Each case addresses the questions Which are the factors that explain the re distribution of authority Under what conditions are some of these factors more important than others Despite the diversity of the cases in both geographic location and levels of economic and political development four major explanatory factors emerge as common across all nine cases identity related claims economic imperatives considerations of administrative efficiency and political agency Moreover discerning the complex interaction of these factors is necessary in understanding the re distribution of authority in both its centralizing and decentralizing forms across all levels of governance Of particular interest to scholars students and policy researchers involved with international relations comparative politics public administration political development and state formation and ethnonational politics

The Secular and the Sacred William Safran, 2004-08-02 What is the place of religion in modern political systems This volume addresses that question by focusing on ten countries across several geographic areas Western and East Central Europe North America the Middle East and South Asia These countries are comparable in the sense that they are committed to constitutional rule have embraced a more or less secular culture and have formal guarantees of freedom of religion Yet in all the cases examined here religion impinges on the political system in the form of legal establishment semi legitimation subvention and or selective institutional arrangements and its role is reflected in cultural norms electoral behaviour and public policies The relationship between religion and politics comes in many varieties in differing countries yet all are faced with three major challenges modernity democracy and the increasingly multi ethnic and multi religious nature of their societies

Smyrl, 2003 The contributors of this thoughtful book explore the role and influence of political leadership through a rigorous comparative analysis of regional level dynamics in Europe Visit our website for sample chapters John Frith, Scholar and Martyr Brian Raynor, 2000 John Frith was one of the outstanding academics of his time He had a clear logical mathematical mind was highly respected and influenced many Yet in 1553 at the age of 30 he was burnt at the stake for writing books supporting doctrines of Reformation This work discusses his life State and Nation in South Asia Swarna Rajagopalan, 2001 What makes a national community out of a state Addressing this fundamental question Rajagopalan studies national integration from the perspective of three South Asian communities Tamilians in India Sindhis in Pakistan and Tamils in Sri Lanka that have a history of secessionism in common but with vastly different outcomes Rajagopalan investigates why integration is relatively successful in some cases Tamil Nadu less so in others Sindh and disastrous in some Sri Lanka Broadly comparative and drawing together multiple aspects of political development and nation building her imaginative exploration of the tension between state and nation gives voice to relatively disenfranchised sections of society

The African State and the AIDS Crisis Amy S. Patterson, 2018-01-18 This edited volume analyzes African state responses to the AIDS epidemic Institutionally weak limited in resources and lacking power in the international system the African state has been characterized as inefficient corrupt and illegitimate The volume questions how aspects of the African state have affected policy responses to AIDS It highlights how African states must initiate develop and or implement the long term policy solutions necessary to combat AIDS It employs empirical studies from the international and national arena to illustrate why some African states have been able and willing to address AIDS while others have not Contributions analyze how international actors civil society organizations state ideology patriarchy and state capacity have influenced policies to fight AIDS Examining AIDS policies through the prism of African state development and linkages to domestic and international actors this book provides a nuanced understanding of the variety of responses to AIDS in Africa

Local Government in Central and Eastern Europe Andrew Coulson, Adrian Campbell, 2007-08-02 Advocates of democratization in Central and Eastern Europe before 1989 placed great emphasis on community self government as the basis of civil society and democracy After the Velvet Revolutions of 1989 and the break up of the Soviet Union in 1991 the new states created an elected local government whereby cities towns and villages elected the

Scotland and Catalonia both ancient nations with strong nationalisms within larger states are exemplars of the management of ethnic conflict in multinational democracies and of global trends toward regional government Focusing on these two countries Scott L Greer explores why nationalist mobilization arose when it did and why it stopped at autonomy rather than statehood He challenges the notion that national identity or institutional design explains their relative success as stable multinational democracies and argues that the key is their strong regional societies and their regional organizations preferences for autonomy and environmental stability Imagining India Nandan Nilekani, 2012 The Federalism Report, 1994 Virginia journal of international law, 2002 Municipal Reform in Canada Joseph Garcea, Edward C. LeSage, 2005 This book presents an analysis of the purposes processes politics and outcomes of reform for each of the provinces and the northern territories These analyses reveal that reforms during this turn of the millennium period have reconfigured and in some cases re empowered municipal governance and shifted the balance of roles responsibilities and relationships among city and regional municipal governments and between them and their respective provincial and territorial governments The reform process however has not gone so far as to reinvent municipal governance and is not likely to in the foreseeable future Indeed the extent of change in recent years in many jurisdictions has brought about a degree of reform fatigue so that the principle actors in provincial municipal politics may be reticent to pursue new initiatives in the near future Department of Defense Authorization for Appropriations for Fiscal Year 2006 United States.
