Georgia's Historical Recipes Valerie J. Frey, 2015-05 Georgia s Historical Recipes is an exploration of our state s oldest recipes from the antebellum period through World War II as painstakingly researched by Georgia archivist Valerie J Frey This volume begins with a discussion of old recipes as primary sources and what they can tell us about the history and culture of their era and how to bring them to life in modern kitchens Frey then moves into fifty sections that can be read alone yet allow readers to build an understanding of how foodways evolved over time Some sections highlight a single recipe illustrating how changes in technology agriculture transportation communication and social patterns led to changes in Georgia kitchens Most of the recipes are previously unpublished waiting in archives to be rediscovered Other sections explore our oldest cookbooks offering biographical and cultural background information that makes them more meaningful For the first time Georgians have a list of the state s early cookbooks and its cooking experts Readers will learn where to find Georgia s oldest recipes and discover many examples to whet their appetites literally and figuratively for a taste of Georgia s past

The Performance of Reading Peter Kivy, 2008-04-15 The Performance of Reading argues that there are distinct analogies between silent reading and artistic performance and so fashions the new role of the reader as performer An original and insightful exploration of the act of reading by the leading scholar in the field Discusses the history of reading and the transitions from reading aloud to reading silently and the changing role of literature as communal active experience to a more private endeavor Recipes and Everyday Knowledge Elaine Leong,2018-11-28 Across early modern Europe men and women from all ranks gathered medical culinary and food preservation recipes from family and friends experts and practitioners and a wide array of printed materials Recipes were tested assessed and modified by teams of householders including masters and servants husbands and wives mothers and daughters and fathers and sons This much sought know how was written into notebooks of various shapes and sizes forming treasuries for health each personalized to suit the whims and needs of individual communities In Recipes and Everyday Knowledge Elaine Leong situates recipe knowledge and practices among larger questions of gender and cultural history the history of the printed word and the history of science medicine and technology The production of recipes and recipe books she argues were at the heart of quotidian investigations of the natural world or household science She shows how English homes acted as vibrant spaces for knowledge making and transmission and explores how recipe trials allowed householders to gain deeper understandings of sickness and health of the human body and of natural and human built processes By recovering this story Leong extends the parameters of natural inquiry and productively widens the cast of historical characters participating in and contributing to early modern science Recipes for Reading Anne Bower,1997 The community cookbook is a familiar item in many kitchens Usually compiled by women and sold to raise funds for a charitable cause these collections of recipes may seem to be utilitarian objects that exhibit little if any narrative interest But this is hardly the case In Recipes for Reading scholars from a variety of disciplines examine community cookbooks as complex texts deserving serious study The contributors contend that such cookbooks have stories to tell about the lives and values of the women who wrote them stories that are autobiographical in most cases historical in some and fictive in others The Literature of Food Nicola Humble,2020-02-06 Why are so many literary texts preoccupied with food The Literature of Food explores this question by looking at the continually shifting relationship between two sorts of foods the real and the imagined Focusing particularly on Britain and North America from the early 19th century to the present it covers a wide range of issues including the politics of food food as performance and its intersections with gender class fear and disgust Combining the insights of food studies and literary analysis Nicola Humble considers the multifarious ways in which food both works and plays within texts and the variety of functions ideological mimetic symbolic structural affective which it serves Carefully designed and structured for use on the growing number of literature of food courses it examines the food of modernism post modernism the realist novel and children s literature and asks what happens when we treat cook books as literary texts From food memoirs to the changing role of the servant experimental cook books to the cannibalistic fears in infant picture books The Literature of Food demonstrates that food is always richer and stranger than we think Digesting Recipes Susannah Worth,2015-06-26 Digesting Recipes The Art of Culinary Notation scrutinises the form of the recipe using it as a means to explore a multitude of subjects in post war Western art and culture including industrial mass production consumerism hidden labour and art engaged with the everyday Each chapter is presented as a dish in a nine course meal drawing on examples from published cookbooks and the work of artists such as Alison Knowles Yoko Ono Annette Messager Martha Rosler Barbara T Smith Bobby Baker and Mika Rottenberg A recipe is an instruction the imperative tone of the expert but this constraint can offer its own kind of potential A recipe need not be a domestic trap but might instead offer escape something to fantasise about or aspire to It can hold a promise of transformation both actual and metaphorical It can be a proposal for action or envision a possible future Consumption and the Literary Cookbook Roxanne Harde, Janet Wesselius, 2020-11-18

Consumption and the Literary Cookbook offers readers the first book length study of literary cookbooks Imagining the genre more broadly to include narratives laden with recipes cookbooks based on cultural productions including films plays and television series and cookbooks that reflected and or shaped cultural and historical narratives the contributors draw on the tools of literary and cultural studies to closely read a diverse corpus of cookbooks By focusing on themes of consumption gastronomical and rhetorical the sixteen chapters utilize the recipes and the narratives surrounding them as lenses to study identity society history and culture The chapters in this book reflect the current popularity of foodie culture as they offer entertaining analyses of cookbooks the stories they tell and the stories told about them Good Enough Leanne

Brown, 2022-01-11 From the author of the bestselling Good Cheap a cookbook with self care at its heart Leanne Brown acknowledges that feeding yourself is hard and that it is almost impossible to find the energy to work for yourself when you don't think you are worth it With these everyday recipes she provides a reminder that it's OK to lose perfectionism and find pleasure in good enough cooking Life Skills Reading: MENUS, RECIPES & COOKING - Visual Comprehension blueberry grunt as well as the simple but delicious lobster boil. Leading chefs like Craig Flinn of Halifax's Chives restaurant, Michael Howell of The Tempest in Wolfville, and many others have come up with wonderful new ways of cooking with fresh local ingredients. Best Recipes of the Maritime Provinces brings the traditional and the contemporary together in one great collection. During her many years as Canadian Living magazine's food editor, Elizabeth Baird was a great fan of Maritime cooking. She has visited every corner of the region to research and write about great local producers and cooks and their recipes. To prepare this collection, she started with well over 1,000 recipes published in cookbooks over the past three decades. From those, she has selected 400 recipes by over fifty of the region's leading chefs, including Elaine Elliot and Virginia Lee, whose bestselling Maritime Flavours has sold more than 30,000 copies. Also included are tasty recipes from healthy eating champions Maureen Tilley and Sandra Nowlan. This is the book that every Maritime cook will want and that visitors will take home so they can explore the region's rich culinary traditions.

Edible Ideologies Kathleen LeBesco, Peter Naccarato, 2012-08-13. Edible Ideologies argues that representations of food in literature and popular fiction, cookbooks and travel guides, war propaganda, women's magazines, television, and print advertisements are not just about nourishment or pleasure. Contributors explore how these various modes of representation, reflecting prevailing attitudes and assumptions about food and food practices, function instead to circulate and transgress dominant cultural ideologies. Addressing questions concerning whose interests are served by a particular food practice or habit and what political ends are fulfilled by the historical changes that lead from one practice to another in Western culture, the essays offer a rich historical narrative that moves from the construction of the nineteenth-century English gentleman to the creation of two of today's iconic figures in food culture, Julia Child and Martha Stewart. Along the way, readers will encounter World War I propaganda, Holocaust and Sephardic cookbooks, the Rosenbergs' German tour guides, fast food, advertising, food packaging, and chocolate, and will find food for thought on the meanings of everything from Camembert to Velveeta, from salads to burgers and from tikka masala to Campbell's soup.
