Reading the Literatures of Asian America Shirley Lim, Amy Ling, 1992-10-19 With the recent proliferation of critically acclaimed literature by Asian American writers this groundbreaking collection of essays provides a unique resource for students scholars and the general reading public The homogeneity implied by the term Asian American is replaced in this volume with the rich diversity of highly disparate peoples Languages religions races and cultural and national backgrounds Examining a century of Asian American literature from the late 19th century up through the contemporary experimental drama of Ping Chong the contributors address the work of writers with Chinese Japanese Korean Vietnamese Filipino East Indian and Pacific Island ancestry Asian Canadian and Hawaiian literature are also considered

Eating Identities Wenying Xu, 2018-03-31 The French epicure and gastronome Brillat Savarin declared Tell me what you eat and I will tell you who you are Wenying Xu infuses this notion with cultural political energy by extending it to an ethnic group known for its cuisines Asian Americans She begins with the general argument that eating is a means of becoming not simply in the sense of nourishment but more importantly of what we choose to eat what we can afford to eat what we secretly crave but are ashamed to eat in front of others and how we eat Food as the most significant medium of traffic between the inside and outside of our bodies organizes signifies and legitimates our sense of self and distinguishes us from others who practice different foodways Narrowing her scope Xu reveals how cooking eating and food fashion Asian American identities in terms of race ethnicity gender class diaspora and sexuality She provides lucid and informed interpretations of seven Asian American writers John Okada Joy Kogawa Frank Chin Li Young Lee David Wong Louie Mei Ng and Monique Truong and places these identity issues in the fascinating spaces of food hunger consumption appetite desire and orality Asian American literature abounds in culinary metaphors and references but few scholars have made sense of them in a meaningful way Most literary critics perceive alimentary references as narrative strategies or part of the background Xu takes food as the central site of cultural and political struggles waged in the seemingly private domain of desire in the lives of Asian Americans Eating Identities is the first book to link food to a wide range of Asian American concerns such as race and sexuality Unlike most sociological studies which center on empirical analyses of the relationship between food and society it focuses on how food practices influence psychological and ontological formations and thus contributes significantly to the growing field of food studies For students of literature this tantalizing work offers an illuminating lesson on how to read the multivalent meanings of food and eating in literary texts

Repetition and Race Amy Cynthia Tang, 2016 Repetition and Race explores the literary forms and critical frameworks occasioned by the widespread institutionalization of liberal multiculturalism by turning to the exemplary case of Asian American literature Whether beheld as model minorities or objects of racist love Asian Americans have long inhabited the uneasy terrain of institutional embrace that characterizes the official antiracism of our contemporary moment Repetition and Race argues that Asian American literature registers and responds to this historical context through formal structures of repetition Forwarding a new dialectical conception of repetition that draws together progress and return motion and stasis agency and subjection creativity and compulsion this book reinterprets the political grammar of four forms of repetition central to minority discourse trauma pastiche intertextuality and self reflexivity Working against narratives of multicultural triumph the book shows how texts by Theresa Cha Susan Choi Karen Tei Yamashita Chang rae Lee and Maxine Hong Kingston use structures of repetition to foreground moments of social and aesthetic impasse suspension or hesitation rather than instances of reversal or resolution Reading Asian American texts for the way they allegorize and negotiate rather than resolve key tensions animating Asian American culture Repetition and Race maps both the penetrating reach of liberal multiculturalism s disciplinary formations and an expanded field of cultural politics for minority literature
