Road Movies D. Orgeron, 2007-12-09 Road Movies engages with two foundational twentieth century technologies cinematic and automotive It is a book about road movies a genre burdened by its own seductiveness It is also however a book about images of human mobility more generally and the social function those images have served Road Movies Norbert Grob, Thomas Klein, 2006 The Road Movie Neil Archer, 2016-01-12 Though often seen as one of America's native cinematic genres the road movie has lent itself to diverse international contexts and inspired a host of filmmakers As analyzed in this study from its most familiar origins in Hollywood the road movie has become a global film practice whether as a vehicle for exploring the relationship between various national contexts and American cinema as a means of narrating different national and continental histories or as a form of individual filmmaking expression Beginning with key films from Depression era Hollywood and the New Hollywood of the late 1960s and then considering its wider effect on world cinemas this volume maps the development and adaptability of an enduring genre studying iconic films along the way The Road Movie Book Steven Cohan, Ina Rae Hark, 2002-01-04 The Road Movie Book is the first comprehensive study of an enduring but ever changing Hollywood genre its place in American culture and its legacy to world cinema The road and the cinema both flourished in the twentieth century as technological advances brought motion pictures to a mass audience and the mass produced automobile opened up the road to the ordinary American When Jean Baudrillard equated modern American culture with space speed cinema technology he could just as easily have added that the road movie is its supreme emblem The contributors explore how the road movie has confronted and represented issues of nationhood sexuality gender class and race They map the generic terrain of the road movie trace its evolution on American television as well as on the big screen from the 1930s through the 1980s and finally consider road movies that go off the road departing from the US landscape or travelling on the margins of contemporary American culture Movies discussed include Road classics such as It Happened One Night The Grapes of Wrath The Wizard of Oz and the Bob Hope Bing Crosby Road to films 1960's reworkings of the road movie in Easy Rider and Bonnie and Clyde Russ Meyer's road movies from Motorpsycho to Faster Pussycat Kill Kill Contemporary hits such as Paris Texas Rain Man Natural Born Killers and Thelma and Louise The road movie Australian style from Mad Max to the Adventures of Priscilla Queen of the Desert Lost Highways, Embodied Travels: The Road Movie in American Experimental Film and Video Kornelia Boczkowska, 2023-02-06 Often identified as one of the most genuine and enduring American film genres the road movie has never been explored in the context of experimental filmmaking To fill this gap Lost Highways Embodied Travels provides the first book length study of over eighty unique and often obscure films and videos and situates them within the corporeal turn in American avant garde cinema so far mostly associated with body genres and sexually explicit films Drawing on unpublished archival materials the book offers a fresh take on both past and current practices of the experimental film community for scholars students makers and film buffs

Transnational Australian Cinema Olivia Khoo,Belinda Smaill,Audrey Yue,2013-03-08 To date there has been little sustained attention given to the historical cinema relations between Australia and Asia This is a significant omission given Australia s geo political position and the place Asia has held in the national imaginary oscillating between threat and opportunity Many accounts of Australian cinema begin with the 1970s film revival placing Asian Australian cinema within a post revival schema of multicultural or diasporic cinema and ignoring Asian Australian connections prior to the revival Transnational Australian Cinema charts a history of Asian Australian cinema encompassing the work of diasporic Asian filmmakers films featuring images of Asia and Asians films produced by Australians working in Asia s film industries or addressed at Asian audiences and Asian films that use Australian resources including locations and personnel Utilizing an interdisciplinary approach the book considers diasporic Asian histories the impact of government immigration and film policies on representation and the new aesthetic styles and production regimes created by filmmakers who have forged links both through roots and routes with Asia This expanded history of Asian Australian cinema allows for a renewed discussion of so called dormant periods in the nation s film history In this respect the mapping of an expanded history of cinema practices contributes to our broader aim to rethink the transnationalism of Australian cinema

The Latin American (Counter-) Road Movie and Ambivalent Modernity Nadia Lie,2017-02-09 This book offers a comprehensive and systematic overview of the flourishing genre of the contemporary Latin American road movie of which Diarios de motocicleta and Y tu mamá también are only the best known examples. It offers the first systematic survey of the genre and explains why the road movie is key to contemporary Latin American cinema and society. Proposing the new category of counter road movie and paying special attention to the genre's intricate relationship to modernity, Nadia Lie charts the variety of the road movie through films by both renowned and emerging filmmakers. The Latin American Counter Road Movie and Ambivalent Modernity engages with ongoing debates on transnationalism and takes the reader along a wide range of topics from exile to undocumented migration from tourism to internally displaced people.

Small Cinemas in Global Markets David Desser, Janina Falkowska, Lenuta Giukin, 2014-12-18 Small Cinemas in Global Markets addresses aspects such as identity, revisiting the past, internationalized genres, new forms of experimental cinema, markets and production as well as technological developments of alternative small screens that open new perspectives into small cinema possibilities. Small and big markets for small industries reveal an unimagined diversification of the cultural product and consequently the need to analyze the impact at local, regional and global levels. Much needed to continue and expand the existing scholarship in the field, this volume is based on research by authors who approach their subject from Western theoretical perspectives with a professional, mostly native knowledge of the language, cultural realities and film industry practices. It covers aspects from fifteen different countries including Bolivia, Brazil, China, Hong Kong, Croatia, East Africa, Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda, Greece, Indonesia, Lithuania, Bulgaria, Poland, Romania, Morocco and the United States. Since both film and documentary distribution from certain areas of the globe on international markets remains problematic, it is important for the academic field to discuss and circulate them as much as possible and to create the basis for further exploration. Documenting and reflecting on the role, state and reception of the film industry provides scholarly understanding to the industry's wide range of seemingly chaotic technological transformations.

In the Company of Cars Sarah Redshaw, 2008-01-01 Road safety research has traditionally involved a focus on individuals in which social norms are considered but rarely discussed in detail. Outlining the existing body of research on young drivers in particular, In the Company of Cars shows the contribution that considering road safety from a social and cultural perspective could make to the reduction of death and injury on the roads. It highlights the involvement of driving cultures as distinct from car cultures in the social framing of cars and the ways in which they are utilised.

Global Genres, Local Films Elena Oliete-Aldea, 2017-06-29 The acute processes of globalisation at the turn of the century have generated an increased interest in exploring the interactions between the so-called global cultural products or trends and their specific local manifestations. Even though cross-cultural connections are becoming more patent in filmic productions in the last decades, cinema per se has always been characterized by its hybrid, transnational, border-crossing nature. From its own inception, Spanish film production was soon tied to the Hollywood film industry for its subsistence, but other film traditions such as those in the Soviet Union, France, Germany and in particular Italy also determined either directly or indirectly the development of Spanish cinema Global Genres Local Films The Transnational Dimension of Spanish Cinema reaches beyond the limits of the film text and analyses and contextualizes the impact of global film trends and genres on Spanish cinema in order to study how they helped articulate specific national challenges from the conflict between liberalism and tradition in the first decades of the 20th century to the management of the contemporary financial crisis This collection provides the first comprehensive picture of the complex national and supranational forces that have shaped Spanish films revealing the tensions and the intricate dialogue between cross cultural aesthetic and narrative models on the one hand and indigenous traditions on the other as well as the political and historical contingencies these different expressions responded to Wim Wenders's Road Movie Philosophy René V. Arcilla, 2020-02-06 What is education Most of the time we have little patience for this question because we take the answer to be obvious we identify education with school learning This book focuses on education outside of the school context as a basis for criticizing and improving school learning Following the examples of Jean Jacques Rousseau and John Dewey Arcilla seeks to harmonize schooling with a more pervasive education we are all naturally undergoing He develops a philosophical theory of education that stresses the experience of being led out a theory latent in the Latin term educere by examining the road movies of Wim Wenders This book contributes both to our understanding of another crucial kind of education our schooling could better serve and to our appreciation of what unifies and distinguishes Wenders s achievements in cinema
