Robert Gray New Selected Poems:

Coast Road Robert Gray, 2014-08-15 Coast Road Selected Poems is the definitive Robert Gray collection Individual surprising evocative at once cool and rapturous Lisa Gorton An imagist without a rival in the English speaking world Kevin Hart Robert Gray is a poet renowned for his originality and mastery With influences and themes ranging from Buddhism and haiku to Modernism and the Romantics Gray inhabits a landscape at once spare and elaborate ritualistic and impulsive

Selected Poems of Robert Gray, the Yetholm Poet Robert Gray, Graeme Watson, 2016 Papers of Robert Gray Robert Gray, 1999 MS Acc05 020 comprises drafts of the poems for Robert Gray's book Afterimages and drafts of other poems as well There are proofs for Grass script selected earlier poems published in the United Kingdom in 2001 that show many re-workings not incorporated into any edition in Australia Also proofs for Afterimages and revised proofs for some reviews Gray wrote for The Australian The collection also includes correspondence ca 1999-2004 2 boxes Encyclopedia of

Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, 2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide Poetry and

Revelation Kevin Hart, 2017-04-20 Religious poetry has often been regarded as minor poetry and dismissed in large part because poetry is taken to require direct experience whereas religious poetry is taken to be based on faith that is on second or third hand experience The best methods of thinking about experience are given to us by phenomenology Poetry and Revelation is the first study of religious poetry through a phenomenological lens one that works with the distinction between manifestation in which everything is made manifest and revelation in which the mystery is re veiled as well as revealed Providing a phenomenological investigation of a wide range of religious poems some medieval some modern some written in English others written in European languages some from America some from Britain and some from Australia Kevin Hart provides a unique new way of thinking about religious poetry and the nature of revelation itself The Cambridge

Companion to Australian Literature Elizabeth Webby, 2000-08-21 An indispensable reference for the study of Australian literature Australian Classics Jane Gleeson-White, 2010 What are the classic works of Australian literature And what can they tell us about ourselves and the land we live in Providing a selected overview of Australia's greatest literature Australian Classics is an accessible companion to our literature and a story of writing in Australia from the nineteenth century to the present Australian Class The Collected Poems of Robert Penn Warren Robert Penn Warren, 1998-10-01 Winner of the C Hugh Holman Award A central figure in twentieth century American literature Robert Penn Warren 1905-1989 was appointed by the Library of Congress as the first Poet Laureate of the United States in 1985 Although better known for his fiction especially his novel All the King's Men it is mainly his poetry spanning sixty years fifteen volumes of verse and a wide range of styles that reveals Warren to be one of America's foremost men of letters. In this indispensable volume John Burt Warren's literary executor has assembled every poem Warren ever published with the exception of Brother to Dragons including the many poems he published in The Fugitive and other magazines as well as those that appeared in his small press works and broadsides. Burt has also exhaustively collated all of the published versions of Warren's poems which in some cases appeared as many as six different times with substantive revisions in every line as well as his typescripts and proofs. And since Warren never seemed to reread any of his books without a pencil in his hand Burt has referred to Warren's personal library copies. This comprehensive edition also contains textual notes, lists of emendations and explanatory notes. Warren was born and raised in Guthrie, Kentucky where southern agrarian values and a predilection for storytelling were ingrained in him as a young boy. By 1925 when he graduated from Vanderbilt University he was already the most promising of that exceptional set of poets and intellectuals known as the Fugitives. Warren devoted most of the 1940s and 1950s to writing prose and literary criticism but from the late 1950s he composed primarily poetry with each successive volume of verse that he penned demonstrating his rigorous and growing commitment to that genre. The mature visionary power and technical virtuosity of his work in the 1970s and early 1980s emanated from his strongly held belief that only insofar as the work of art establishes and expresses a self can it engage us. Many of Warren's later poems which he deemed some of his best rejoice in the possibilities of old age and the poet's ability for continually expanding in a vital process of definition, affirmation, revision and growth, a process that is the image we may say of the life process.

Select Poems of Robert Browning Robert Browning, 1887 Who Wants to Create Australia? Martin Harrison, 2004 What has Australia got that gets into the minds of Les Murray, A.D. Hope, Antigone Kefala, Robert Gray, Judith Wright and a stack of other creative geniuses who make it their business to interpret our country for us? Martin Harrison distils years of thoughtful insight in this striking collection of essays. With Gifted Thinkers Mark Manolopoulos, 2009 This book is a collection of engaging, entertaining and often confronting dialogues with nine thinkers of faith in postmodernity, some of them more prominent than others, all of them possessing the rare quality or gift of thinking rigorously, tentatively, passionately. John D. Caputo, Kevin Hart, Robyn Horner, Richard Kearney, Catherine Keller, Kate Rigby, Mark C. Taylor, Mark I. Wallace and Merold Westphal. The project was driven by two ambitions: to seek out their thoughts on the question of the gift which has become a hot topic since the early 1990s in philosophy, theology and a whole range of academic disciplines and which was the subject of the interviewer's doctoral work and more generally to examine key elements of these thinkers' most important works. Hence the dialogues traverse a splendid range of issues: philosophical, theological, ecological, hermeneutical, biblical, scientific and more. What's more, the dialogical medium has the advantage of casting complex issues in extremely accessible terms, thereby making this collection a must-read for anyone interested in contemporary Continental theory. Once upon a Time in the West Jan Zwicky, 2023-05-15 Western civilization is over. So begins Jan Zwicky's trenchant exploration of the root of global cultural and ecological collapse.

a way of thinking that is also linked to some of the West's most noted achievements. The Renaissance merged imperial enterprise with Islamic algebra and recently recovered Greek mathematics to precipitate mechanized industry and resource extraction; these in turn made possible the growth of capitalism, the military industrial complex and Big Technology. Despite its self-image as objective, Zwicky argues the West's style of thought is not politically neutral but intensely anthropocentric. It has led those who adopt it to regard the more than human world as nothing more than timber licences and drilling sites where value is not recognized unless it is monetized. Oblivious to context and blind to big picture thinking, it analyzes, mechanizes, digitizes and systematizes while rejecting empathy and compassion as distorting influences. Lyric comprehension in Zwicky's view offers an alternative to this way of thinking and she provides a wide range of examples. Once upon a Time in the West documents how a narrow epistemological style has left Western thought blind to critical features of reality and how the terrifying consequences of that blinkered vision are now beginning to unfold. John Shaw Neilson Hewson,

Helen, 1997-02-11. The selection begins in 1906 when A. G. Stephens started up The Bookfellow. From this crucial point and throughout the ensuing thirty-five years we follow Neilson, the man farming and working in the bush, maintaining caring relationships with his scattered family and finally moving in 1928 to Melbourne and a job as an interdepartmental messenger with the Country Roads Board in Carlton. Helen Hewson has chosen and edited her material from more than a thousand existing letters, most of which have not been published previously. They cover family, social and publishing correspondence, in addition to the detailed letters about writing poetry which passed between Neilson and his three very different editorial advisers: A. G. Stephens, Robert H. Croll and James Devaney, his first biographer. Other writers of the period who corresponded with Neilson included Robert Bridges, Mary Gilmore, Christopher Brennan, Vance and Nettie Palmer, Hubert Church, Percival Serle and Frank Wilmot. The letters are full of revealing details about his association with many institutions and personalities: the Australian Literature Association, the Bread and Cheese Club, Coles Book Arcade, the Hill of Content, the Hawthorn Press, Blamire Young, Vance and Nettie Palmer, Mary Gilmore, Bernard O. Dowd, Frank Wilmot, Victor Kennedy and others. John Shaw Neilson: A Life in Letters establishes a social background and a literary context which ends any suggestion that Neilson is merely a bush poet or a simple singer. This complex poet participated in an intricate network of literary relationships and literary production and it is only through reading the letters that one realises the degree to which he reflected on his own and other people's poetry and writing. In Other Words Barbara Williams, 2022-04-11. Sixteen of Australia's foremost poets are featured in this volume. They talk candidly about their lives and work, of the craft, the rigour, the pangs and pleasures of their calling, of winged moments caught however fleetingly on the page. These writers also speak of transformation and transcendence, the creative process, their individual modes and methods of writing and the act of writing itself. The interviews provide valuable insights on such topics as gender and writing landscape, the function of poetry and the poet's social role, influences embraced and withstood, literary, personal, local, regional, national, international. The writers and their poetry are discussed from both within and beyond Australian borders This collection offers a broad range of Australian poets most of whom are now in the middle to later years of their career These poets have contributed significantly to the life and quality of poetry in Australia over recent decades and continue to play pivotal roles in Australia's cultural domain today as the country moves towards the threshold of a new century

The Littoral Zone CA. Cranston, Robert Zeller, 2007 In this the first collection of ecocritical essays devoted to Australian contexts and their writers Australian and USA scholars settlers invaders temporary visa holders comment on the transliteration of sea land and interior through the works of major and minor authors and through their own experience with the bioregion The littoral zone is the starting point in this fresh approach to reading literature and is organised around the natural environment rainforest desert mountains coast islands Antarctica There's the beach where sexual and spiritual crises occur the Wheatbelt area the most visible clearance line on the planet desert literature camel trekking and the transformation of a salt flat into an inland island New Age literature that appropriates Aboriginals and their cultures as the healing poultice for an ailing and dispirited West a re-examination of pastoralism and the feet of millions of sheep that have done unspeakable damage to soils an inquiry into whether Judith Wright's work can persuade us to rejoice in the world an investigation of the Limestone Plains home of the bush capital and the bogong moth of bananas cane toads and the Great Barrier Reef in tropic Queensland of national parks and guesthouses where the mountains meet the sea a discursive approach to temperate islands that covers sealing Soldier Settlement and sea country pastoral and finally to Antarctica where an initial utopian approach gives way to an emphasis on its stark timeless icescape as a minimalist backdrop for human dramas The author terrain is no less grand in its scope poets playwrights novelists and non-fiction writers are discussed across the broad range of contexts that constitutes the littoral zone known as Australia
