Hammond, 2017-08-28 This book is the first comprehensive study of mainstream British dystopian fiction and the Cold War Drawing on over 200 novels and collections of short stories the monograph explores the ways in which dystopian texts charted the lived experiences of the period offering an extended analysis of authors' concerns about the geopolitical present and anxieties about the national future Amongst the topics addressed are the processes of Cold War autocracy militarism propaganda intelligence nuclear technologies the decline of Britain's standing in global politics and the reduced status of intellectual culture in Cold War Britain Although the focus is on dystopianism in the work of mainstream authors including George Orwell Doris Lessing J G Ballard Angela Carter and Anthony Burgess a number of science fiction novels are also discussed making the book relevant to a wide range of researchers and students of twentieth century British literature

Autobiographics Leigh Gilmore, 1994 In the first comprehensive feminist critique of autobiography as a genre Leigh Gilmore incorporates writings that have not up to now been considered part of the autobiographical tradition Offering subtle and perceptive readings of a wide variety of texts from the confessions of medieval mystics to contemporary works by Chicana and lesbian writers she identifies an innovative practice of autobiographics which covers the entire spectrum of women's self representation Book Prices Edward N. Zempel, Linda A. Verkler, 1993 American Book Publishing

Record, 1990 Transgressing Boundaries in Jeanette Winterson's Fiction Sonia Front, 2009 The subsequent chapters of the book deal with selected questions from Jeanette Winterson's fiction such as gender issues love and eroticism language and time constituting areas within which Winterson's characters seek their identity As they contest and repudiate cliché's stereotypes and patterns their journey of self discovery is accomplished through transgression The book analyzes how the subversion of phallogocentric narrative and scenarios entails the reenvisioning of relations between the genders and reconceptualization of female desire The author attempts to determine the consequences of Winterson's manipulations with gender sexuality and time and her disruption of the binary system Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1993

Somatechnics Samantha Murray, 2016-04-01 Somatechnics highlights the reciprocal bond between the soma and the techn of the body and the techniques in which bodies are formed and transformed as crafted responses to the world around us Structured around the themes of the governance of social bodies the gendering of sexed bodies and the techniques

associated with the formation of the self Somatechnics presents a groundbreaking study of body modification Its contributions to the work of Spinoza Nietzsche Merleau Ponty Deleuze and Guattari make it a must read for scholars of sociology cultural and queer studies and philosophy Poetics of the Iconotext Professor Liliane Louvel, 2013-05-28 Poetics of the Iconotext makes available for the first time in English the theories of the respected French text image specialist Professor Liliane Louvel A consolidation of the most significant theoretical materials of Louvel's two acclaimed books L'Œil du Texte Texte et image dans la littérature anglophone and Texte Image Images lire textes voir this newly conceived work introduces English readers to the most current thinking in French text image theory and visual studies Focusing on the full spectrum of text image relations from medieval illuminated manuscripts to digital books Louvel begins by introducing key terms and situating her work in the context of significant debates in text image studies Part II introduces Louvel's typology of pictorial saturation through which she establishes a continuum along which to measure the effect of the most figurative to the most literal images upon writerly and readerly textual spaces Part III adopts a phenomenological approach towards the reading viewing experience as expressed in conceptual categories that include the trace focal range synesthesia and rhythm and speed The result is a provocative interplay of the categorical and the subjective that invites readers to think at once more precisely and more inventively about texts images and the intersections between the two

Dreaming the Social John Clare, Ali Zarbafi, 2023-12-22 Dreaming the Social uses social dreaming as a tool to explore aspects of contemporary life and examine how we can reverse social fragmentation and large scale trauma Since the attack on New York on 9/11 the world has been balanced on the edge of potential disaster exacerbated in recent years by global warming the Covid pandemic and war in Ukraine Since the first edition in 2009 these national and global events have come to dominate our lives in unforeseen ways With this in mind this new edition explores the potential of social dreaming to help access things we know but are unable to think except through the complex activity of dreaming Based on several research studies group sessions and mass dreaming experiments the book explores people's experiences of dreaming during times of change transition and upheaval and discusses the insights that these dreams offer Dreaming the Social will be of great interest to all professionals interested in dreams and the power of social dreaming including psychoanalysts psychotherapists and clinical psychologists Winterson Narrating Time and Space Mine Özyurt Kılıç, Margaret J-M Sönmez, 2009-05-27 In this book scholars students and aficionados of Jeanette Winterson will find ten analyses of time space and narrative in her works From her very first novel Jeanette Winterson has made her characters move in time and in space and she has always shown a sophisticated interest in narrative forms and this is the first book to focus entirely on these central concerns The writers of the essays provide different perspectives on the three subjects from postmodernism to quantum physics queer theory to genre studies and the uncanny to stylistics In its section on time and narrative the volume offers a fresh approach to Winterson's works with a concentration on autobiographical elements love desire the language of quantum physics and the

queer uncanny The next section space and narrative pursues the motifs of journeys utopic spaces cyberspace and labyrinths and includes a chapter on the shorter fiction The last section which comprises essays that cover all three elements of time space and narrative equally examines these themes as they affect Winterson's representation of voices and corporeality and her use of romance narrative in the children's fiction The volume covers Winterson's major fiction with the Introduction connecting the images of huts rivers and fire gazing that are found extensively in her works to the themes of time and space and bringing the discussion up to Winterson's latest novel The Stone Gods A mixture of established and new scholars presents in this book an exciting array of the latest ideas on this respected and popular writer Queer and Deleuzian Temporalities Rachel Loewen Walker, 2021-11-18 Rachel Loewen Walker's original study of Deleuze's theory of temporality advances a concept of the living present as a critical juncture through which novel meanings and activism take flight in relation to new feminist materialisms queer theory Indigenous studies and studies of climate Drawing on literature philosophy popular culture and community research Loewen Walker unsettles the fierce linearity of our stories particularly as they uphold fixed systems of gender sexuality and identity Treading new ground for Deleuzian studies this book focuses on the non linearity of the living present to show that everything is within rather than outside of time Through this critical re evaluation which takes in climate change queer and trans politics and Indigenous sovereignty Queer and Deleuzian Temporalities thickens the present moment By opening up multiple pasts and multiple futures we are invited to act with a deepened level of accountability to all possible timelines Ian McEwan Lynn Wells, 2009-12-07 This introduction to the work of Ian McEwan places his fiction in historical and theoretical context It explores his biography literary techniques and the issues of ethics and representation Including a timeline of key dates and an interview with the author it also offers an overview of the critical reception McEwan's work has provoked Salman Rushdie Stephen Morton, 2007-11-18 This introduction places the fiction of Salman Rushdie in a clear historical and theoretical context Morton explores Rushdie's biography the histories that inform his major works and his relevance to contemporary culture Including a timeline of key dates this study offers an overview of the varied critical reception Rushdie's work has provoked Excess and Embodiment in Contemporary Women's Writing Zeynep Zeren Atayurt, 2011-08-01 The obese female body has often been portrayed as the other to the slender body However this process of othering or viewing as different has created a repressive discourse where excess has increasingly come to be studied as a physical abnormality or a signifier of a personality defect in contemporary Western society This book engages with the multifarious re imaginings of the excessive embodiment in contemporary women's writing drawing specifically on the construction of this form of embodiment in the works of Fay Weldon Jeanette Winterson Margaret Atwood Claude Tardat and Judith Moore whose texts offer a distinct literary response to the rigidly homogeneous and limiting representations of fatness while prompting heterogeneous approaches to reading the excessive female embodiment The Novels of Jeanette Winterson Merja Makinen, 2005-04-20

This Reader's Guide brings together in an approachable form the range of review and critical material on the novels of Jeanette Winterson. Covering all of Winterson's work from Oranges are Not the Only Fruit to The PowerBook, Merja Makinen traces the early review reception of each novel on its publication and considers it alongside the larger critical debates that have subsequently evolved. Makinen follows the controversial critical analysis of Winterson as a lesbian writer and develops the examination of the postmodern aspects of her work whether as postmodern or post-Modern. Including a brief discussion of Winterson's most recent novel Lighthouse Keeping, this is an indispensable guide for anyone studying or simply interested in the work of one of Britain's most successful contemporary authors. Constructing a World Martha Tuck Rozett, 2012-02-01 Taking its title from Umberto Eco's postscript to The Name of the Rose, the novel that inaugurated the New Historical Fiction in the early 1980s, Constructing the World provides a guide to the genre's defining characteristics. It also serves as a lively account of the way Shakespeare, Marlowe, Raleigh, Queen Elizabeth I and their contemporaries have been depicted by such writers as Anthony Burgess, George Garrett, Patricia Finney, Barry Unsworth and Rosalind Miles. Innovative historical novels written during the past two or three decades have transformed the genre, producing some extraordinary bestsellers as well as less widely read serious fiction. Shakespearean scholar Martha Tuck Rozett engages in an ongoing conversation about the genre of historical fiction, drawing attention to the metacommentary contained in Afterwords or Historical Notes, the imaginative reconstruction of the diction and mentality of the past, the way Shakespearean phrases, names and themes are appropriated and the counterfactual scenarios writers invent as they reinvent the past.

Contemporary Narrative Fiona J. Doloughan, 2011-06-02 An examination of developments in contemporary narrative placing them in the context of wider social, cultural and technological trends using a case study approach. Writing and Fantasy Ceri Sullivan, 2014-06-11 Writing and Fantasy brings together essays which restore a sense of the fantastic as a political response to cultural opportunities and pressures. It moves on from two conventional fields of discussion: the psychoanalytic, where phantasies are produced by the emergence of the consciousness, and the social, where fantasies are the production of nineteenth-century individualism. Chapters run from the classical period to the twentieth century, each focusing on a local reading of how fantasy acts as a strategy to contain or exploit specific historical and cultural moments. A wide variety of sites are investigated, including the feminization of the wild west, originary and maternal spaces, highwaywomen, financial credit and the ideal home. Multiple genres containing fantasy are explored, ranging from ghost stories to feminist utopias. Aids to the reader include an introduction summarising recent discussions of fantasy, illustrations dealing with visual fantasies and an annotated bibliography. The new research presented here will be of great interest to academics and students in literature history and cultural studies departments who are working in the field of the historical development of concepts of fantasy, cultural opposition and the imbrication of politics and modes of representation.
