Sextette Translations From The French:

English Responses to French Poetry 1880-1940 Jennifer Higgins, 2017-12-02 Between 1880 and 1940 English responses to French poetry evolved from marginalised expressions of admiration associated with rebellion against the establishment to mainstream mutual exchange and appreciation The translation of poetry underwent a simultaneous evolution from attempts to produce definitive renderings to definitions of translation as an ongoing generative process at the centre of literary debate This study traces the impact of French poetry in England via a wide range of translations by major poets of the time as well as renderings by now forgotten writers It explores poetry and translations beyond the limits of the usual canon and identifies key moments of influence from late 19th century English homages to Victor Hugo as a liberal icon to Ezra Pound re interpreting Charles Baudelaire for the 20th century

Sextette. Translations from the French Symbolists ... With a Preface by L.C. Martin Leonard Cyril MARTIN, 1928 Challenges of Translation in French Literature Richard Bales, 2005

In celebrating the academic career and practice of a distinguished scholar of French literature this volume concentrates on one of Peter Broome's major preoccupations and attainments translation Eschewing a dogmatic theoretical approach the contributors former colleagues and students tackle four rich areas of study modern anglophone poets reactions to and translations of authors with whom they have closely identified Racine the Symbolists Saint John Perse Val ry problematics of translating specific poets of recent centuries Rimbaud Mallarm Val ry C saire some contemporary poets reception and interaction in two foreign countries Australia Spain and a more fluid interpretation of translation moving the notion across into wider realms of literary expression Mallarm Proust Assia Djebar A focalising feature punctuating the volume are Peter Broome's own translations of hitherto unpublished poems by five major contemporary French writers Jean Paul Auxem ry Marie Claire Bancquart Louise Herlin V nus Khoury Ghata and Jean Charles Vegliante The book thus intertwines theory and practice in a non prescriptive manner which invites further elaboration and analysis The Dial Francis Fisher Browne, Waldo Ralph Browne, Scofield Thayer, Marianne Moore, 1928

Sextette Dorothy Martin, 1928 Silenced Sextet Carrie MacMillan, Lorraine McMullen, 1993-05-17 Carrie MacMillan Lorraine McMullen and Elizabeth Waterston have uncovered information about the lives and works of six such writers Rosanna Leprohon May Agnes Fleming Margaret Murray Robertson Susan Frances Harrison Margaret Marshall Saunders and Joanna E Wood were once popular novelists who are now for the most part ignored with virtually all of their works out of print MacMillan McMullen and Waterston show that these six writers deserve modern recognition not only for their literary accomplishments but also for what they reveal through their work and their lives about the condition of the woman writer in nineteenth century Canada The writings of these six women from varied backgrounds reflect their different experiences of life in the late nineteenth century In this study a biographical profile of each author set in the contemporary social context is provided as well as an analysis of career development emphasising publishing history and critical response As each case history unfolds the broader picture emerges of an era when many ideas of personal and public life were changing

Baudelaire's World Rosemary H. Lloyd, 2018-09-05 Charles Baudelaire is often regarded as the founder of modernist poetry. Written with clarity and verve, Baudelaire's World provides English language readers with the biographical, historical, and cultural contexts that will lead to a fuller understanding and enjoyment of the great French poet's work. Rosemary Lloyd considers all of Baudelaire's writing, including his criticism, theory, and letters, as well as poetry. In doing so, she sets the poems themselves in a richer context in a landscape of real places populated with actual people. She shows how Baudelaire's poetry was marked by the influence of the writers and artists who preceded him or were his contemporaries. Lloyd builds an image of Baudelaire's world around major themes of his writing: childhood, women, reading, the city, dreams, art, nature, death. Throughout, she finds that his words and themes echo the historical and physical realities of life in mid-nineteenth-century Paris. Lloyd also explores the possibilities and limitations of translation. As an integral part of her treatment of the life, poetry, and letters of her subject, she also reflects on published translations of Baudelaire's work and offers some of her own translations.

Brodsky Translating Brodsky: Poetry in Self-Translation Alexandra Berlina, 2014-04-24 Winner of the Anna Balakian Prize 2016. Is poetry lost in translation or is it perhaps the other way around? Is it found? Gained? Won? What happens when a poet decides to give his favorite Russian poems a new life in English? Are the new texts shadows, twins, or doppelgangers of their originals, or are they something completely different? Does the poet resurrect himself from the death of the author by reinterpreting his own work in another language, or does he turn into a monster, a bilingual, bicultural centaur? Alexandra Berlina herself, a poetry translator and a 2012 Barnstone Translation Prize laureate, addresses these questions in this new study of Joseph Brodsky, whose Nobel prize-winning work has never yet been discussed from this perspective.

Court and Humour in the French Renaissance Sarah Alyn Stacey, 2009 This collection of essays by thirteen renowned specialists in the fields of French Renaissance literature and history is a fitting tribute to the scholarship of Pauline Smith, Emeritus Professor in French at the University of Hull and Research Associate of the Centre for Medieval and Renaissance Studies, Trinity College Dublin. The essays, which focus on areas of research to which Professor Smith has herself given and continues to give particular attention, are organised into two frequently converging strands: court and humour. The contributors engage with political and cultural issues at the heart of the construction and aesthetic expression of the French Renaissance whilst also offering insights into the broader European context. The collection as a whole challenges and revises a number of established
