Sexuality And Reproductive Health During Adolescence In Africa With Special Reference To Cameroon:

Sexuality and Reproductive Health During Adolescence in Africa Barthélémy Kuate Defo, 1998 African Journal of Reproductive Health, 2005 The Changing Transitions to Adulthood in Developing Countries National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, Panel on Transitions to Adulthood in Developing Countries, 2006-01-08 Serving as a companion to Growing Up Global this book from the National Research Council explores how the transition to adulthood is changing in developing countries in light of globalization and what the implications of these changes might be for those responsible for designing youth policies and programs Presenting a detailed series of studies this volume both complements its precursor and makes for a useful contribution in its own right It should be of significant interest to scholars leaders of civil society and those charged with designing youth policies and programs

Women and Development in Africa Michael Kevane, 2004 Kevane explores gender issues in Africa in the context of the continent's poor economic performance The Continuing Epidemiological Transition in Sub-Saharan Africa National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, 2012-10-01 Among the poorest and least developed regions in the world sub Saharan Africa has long faced a heavy burden of disease with malaria tuberculosis and more recently HIV being among the most prominent contributors to that burden Yet in most parts of Africa and especially in those areas with the greatest health care needs the data available to health planners to better understand and address these problems are extremely limited The vast majority of Africans are born and will die without being recorded in any document or appearing in official statistics With few exceptions African countries have no civil registration systems in place and hence are unable to continuously generate vital statistics or to provide systematic information on patterns of cause of death relying instead on periodic household level surveys or intense and continuous monitoring of small demographic surveillance sites to provide a partial epidemiological and demographic profile of the population In 1991 the Committee on Population of the National Academy of Sciences organized a workshop on the epidemiological transition in developing countries The workshop brought together medical experts epidemiologists demographers and other social scientists involved in research on the epidemiological transition in developing countries to discuss the nature of the ongoing transition identify the most important contributors to the overall burden of disease and discuss how such information could be used to assist policy makers in those countries to establish priorities with respect to the prevention and management of the main causes of ill health This report summarizes the presentations and discussions from a workshop convened in October 2011 that featured invited speakers on the topic of epidemiological transition in sub Saharan Africa The workshop was organized by a National Research Council panel of experts in various aspects of the study of epidemiological transition and of sub Saharan data sources The Continuing Epidemiological Transition in Sub Saharan Africa serves as a factual summary of what occurred at the workshop in October 2011 Growing Up Global Institute of Medicine, National Research Council, Division of

Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Committee on Population, Panel on Transitions to Adulthood in Developing Countries, 2005-06-25 The challenges for young people making the transition to adulthood are greater today than ever before Globalization with its power to reach across national boundaries and into the smallest communities carries with it the transformative power of new markets and new technology At the same time globalization brings with it new ideas and lifestyles that can conflict with traditional norms and values And while the economic benefits are potentially enormous the actual course of globalization has not been without its critics who charge that to date the gains have been very unevenly distributed generating a new set of problems associated with rising inequality and social polarization Regardless of how the globalization debate is resolved it is clear that as broad global forces transform the world in which the next generation will live and work the choices that today's young people make or others make on their behalf will facilitate or constrain their success as adults Traditional expectations regarding future employment prospects and life experiences are no longer valid Growing Up Global examines how the transition to adulthood is changing in developing countries and what the implications of these changes might be for those responsible for designing youth policies and programs in particular those affecting adolescent reproductive health The report sets forth a framework that identifies criteria for successful transitions in the context of contemporary global changes for five key adult roles adult worker citizen and community participant spouse parent and household manager

Wasted Wombs Erica van der Sijpt, 2018-03-27 Central to this book are Gbibil women's experiences with different reproductive interruptions miscarriages stillbirths child deaths induced abortions and infertility Rather than consider these events as inherently dissimilar as women do in Western countries the Gbibil women of eastern Cameroon see them all as instances of wasted wombs that leave their reproductive trajectories hanging in the balance The women must navigate this uncertainty while negotiating their social positions aspirations for the future and the current workings of their bodies Providing an intimate look into these processes Wasted Wombs shows how Gbibil women constantly shift their interpretations of when a pregnancy starts what it contains and what is lost in case of a reproductive interruption in contrast to Western conceptions of fertility and loss Depending on the context and on their life aspirations be it marriage and motherhood or an educational trajectory and employment or profitable sexual affairs with so called big fish women negotiate and manipulate the meanings and effects of reproductive interruptions Paradoxically they often do so while portraying themselves as powerless Wasted Wombs carefully analyzes such tactics in relation to the various social predicaments that emerge around reproductive interruptions as well as the capricious workings of women's physical bodies

, 2020-01-01 In 2020 the African Human Rights Law Journal AHRLJ or Journal celebrates 20 years since it first was published The AHRLJ is the only peer reviewed journal focused on human rights related topics of relevance to Africa Africans and scholars of Africa It is a time for celebration Since 2001 two issues of the AHRLJ have appeared every year Initially published by Juta in Cape Town South Africa in 2013 it became as an open access journal published by the Pretoria University Law Press PULP PULP is a non profit open access publisher focused on advancing African scholarship The AHRLJ contains peer reviewed articles and recent developments discussing the latest court decisions and legal developments in the African Union AU and regional economic communities It contains brief discussions of recently published books With a total of 517 contributions in 40 issues 436 articles and 81 recent developments not counting book reviews on average the AHRLJ contains around 13 contributions per issue The AHRLJ is accredited with the International Bibliography of the Social Sciences IBSS and the South African Department of Higher Education Science and Innovation and appears in a number of open access portals including AfricanLii the Directory of Open Access Journals and SciELO Over the 20 years of its existence many significant articles appeared in the AHRLJ According to Google Scholar the most cited articles that have appeared in the Journal over this period are i T Metz Ubuntu as a moral theory and human rights in South Africa 2011 11 African Human Rights Law Journal 532 559 with 273 citations ii D Cornell and K van Marle Exploring ubuntu Tentative reflections 2005 5 African Human Rights Law Journal 195 220 with 97 citations iii S Tamale Exploring the contours of African sexualities

Religion law and power 2014 14 African Human Rights Law Journal 150 177 with 85 citations K Kindiki The normative and institutional framework of the African Union relating to the protection of human rights and the maintenance of international peace and security A critical appraisal 2003 3 African Human Rights Law Journal 97 117 with 59 citations and T Kaime The Convention on the Rights of the Child and the cultural legitimacy of children s rights in Africa Some reflections 2005 5 African Human Rights Law Journal 221 238 with 54 citations This occasion allows some perspective on the role that the Journal has played over the past 20 years It is fair to say that the AHRLJ contributed towards strengthening indigenous African scholarship in general and human rights related themes specifically Before the Journal there was no academic outlet devoted to human rights in the broader African context Both in quantity and in quality the Journal has left its mark on the landscape of scholarly journals The AHRLJ has provided a forum for African voices including those that needed to be fine tuned Different from many other peerreviewed journals the AHRLJ has seen it as its responsibility to nurture emerging but not yet fully flourishing talent This approach allowed younger and emerging scholars to be guided to sharpen their skills and find their scholarly voices The AHRLJ has evolved in tandem with the African regional human rights system in a dialogic relationship characterised by constructive criticism When the Journal was first published in 2001 the Protocol on the Establishment of an African Court on Human and Peoples Rights African Court Protocol was not yet in force Over the years the Journal tracked the evolution of the African Court on Human and Peoples Rights African Court from a faltering start through a phase when it increasingly expressed itself in an emerging jurisprudence to the current situation of push back by states signalled by the withdrawal by four states of their acceptance of the Court s direct individual access jurisdiction The same is largely true for the African Committee of Experts on the Rights and Welfare of the Child African Children s Committee It was in 2001 that the AU elected the first members of this Committee It first met in 2002 and its first decade or so was lackluster The Committee examined its first state report only in November 2008 and decided its first communication in March 2011 Articles by authors such as Mezmur and Sloth Nielsen who also served as members of the Committee and Lloyd placed the spotlight on the work of the Committee Initially these articles primarily served to describe and provide information that otherwise was largely inaccessible but over time they increasingly provided a critical gaze and contributed to the constructive evolution of the Committee s exercise of its mandate By 2011 the African Commission on Human and Peoples Rights African Commission was already quite well established but it also underwent significant growth over the subsequent 20 year period Numerous articles in the Journal trace and analyse aspects of this evolution Contributions in the Journal also cover most of the AU human rights treaties and soft law standards A number of issues contain a special focus section dealing with a thematic issue of particular relevance or concern such as the focus on the Protocol to the African Charter on the Rights of Women 2006 no 1 30 years of the African Charter 2011 no 2 and sexual and reproductive rights and the African Women s Protocol 2014 no 2 The scope of the Journal extends beyond the supranational dimension of human rights Over the years many contributions explored aspects of the domestic human rights situation in countries such as the Democratic Republic of the Congo Eswatini Ethiopia Lesotho Malawi Mauritius Nigeria South Africa Tanzania Uganda and Zimbabwe From time to time the specific focus sections also veered towards domestic human rights protection See for instance the focus on 20 years of the South African Constitution 2014 no 2 on adolescent sexual and reproductive rights in the African region 2017 no 2 on the rule of law in sub Saharan Africa 2018 no 1 and on dignity taking and dignity restorations 2018 no 2

The World's Youth Benson Bradford Brown, Reed W. Larson, T. S. Saraswathi, 2002-10-10 The life stage of adolescence now occurs in most corners of the world but it takes different forms in different regions Peers with such a central role in Western adolescence play a comparatively minor role in the lives of Arabic and South Asian adolescents Emotional turmoil and individuation from family occur in some societies but not others Adolescent sexual revolutions are sweeping through Japan and Latin America In this 2002 book scholars from eight regions of the world describe the distinct nature of adolescence in their regions They draw on research to address standard topics regarding this age family and peer relationships schooling preparation for work physical and mental health and show how these have a different cast across societies As a whole the book depicts how rapid global change is dramatically altering the experience of the adolescent transition creating opportunities and challenges for adolescents parents teachers and concerned others

Young People's Lives and Sexual Relationships in Rural Africa Mary Louisa Plummer, Daniel Wight, 2011-08-16 New infections with HIV remain an urgent problem among young people in Africa but many young Africans pursue sexual relationships with little thought about the epidemic This book examines young people's sexual relationships in a region typical of rural sub Saharan Africa and investigates why the risk of HIV infection generally was not a salient concern for them It is based on an extraordinarily large and representative qualitative study that was affiliated with an adolescent sexual health intervention trial and included three person years of participant observation conducted by young East Africans in nine Tanzanian villages The book describes typical patterns of sexual relationship formation in adolescence and early adult life the variety of young people s relationships and practices and the contradictory social ideals and expectations that led premarital and extramarital relationships to be concealed Young men s main motivations for sex were pleasure and masculine identity while young women s was to receive money or materials to meet their basic needs such as soap or a daytime meal By their late teens most young people had experienced one time sexual encounters open ended opportunistic relationships and main sometimes semi public partnerships Relationships could involve desire possessiveness and affection but romantic idealization of a partner was rare Many young people expected their partners to be monogamous but themselves had had concurrent relationships by age 20 The practice of hiding premarital sexual relationships from adults often also concealed them from other sexual partners which helped maintain concurrency and inhibited realistic risk perception Understanding of the biology of HIV AIDS was very limited Condoms were rarely used because they were associated with reduced pleasure infection and promiscuity Sexually transmitted infections were common but several factors hindered young people from seeking biomedical treatment for them Many instead relied on tradit

Historical Dictionary of the Republic of Cameroon Mark Dike DeLancey,Mark W. Delancey,Rebecca Neh Mbuh,2019-06-15 Cameroon is a land of much promise but a land of unfulfilled promises It has the potential to be an economically developed and democratic society but the struggle to live up to its potential has not gone well Since independence there have been only two presidents of Cameroon the current one has been in office since 1982 Endowed with a variety of climates and agricultural environments numerous minerals and substantial forests and a dynamic population this is a country that should be a leader of Africa Instead we find a country almost paralyzed by corruption and poor management a country with a low life expectancy and serious health problems and a country from which the most talented and highly educated members of the population are emigrating in large numbers To all of this is recently added a serious terrorism problem Boko Haram in the north a separatist movement in the Anglophone west refugee influxes in the north and east and bandits from the Central African Republic attacking eastern villages This fifth edition of Historical Dictionary of the Republic of Cameroon contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 300 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Republic of Cameroon

Refugee, Migrant and Ethnic Minority Health Osnat Keidar, Emmanouil Pikoulis, Aristomenis Exadaktylos, David Shiva Srivastava, 2019-10-07

International migration particularly to Europe has increased in the last few decades making research on aspects of this phenomenon including numbers challenges and successes particularly vital This Special Issue highlights this necessary and relevant area of research It presents 37 articles including studies on diverse topics relating to the health of refugees and migrants Most articles 28 present studies focusing on European host countries The focus on Europe is justified if we take into consideration the increased number of refugees and migrants who have come to Europe in recent years However there are also articles which present studies from countries in other continents The topics discussed in the Issue include healthcare utilization infectious diseases mother and child health mental health and chronic diseases Finding from the included articles indicate that further development of guidelines and policies at both local and international levels is needed Priorities must be set by encouraging and funding in depth research that aims to evaluate the impact of existing policies and interventions Such research will help us formulate recommendations for the development of strategies and approaches that improve and strengthen the integration of migrants and refugees into the host countries
