World Made Sexy Paul Rutherford, 2007-08-11 The cult of eroticism is a pervasive force in modern society affecting almost every aspect of our daily lives In this book Paul Rutherford argues that this phenomenon is a product of one of the major commercial and political enterprises of the twentieth and twenty first centuries the creation of desire for sex for wealth and for entertainment A World Made Sexy examines museum exhibitions art books magazines films and television to explore the popular rise of eroticism in America and across the developed world Starting with a brief foray into the history of pornography Rutherford goes on to explore a sexual liberation movement shaped by the ideas of Marx and Freud the erotic styles of Salvador Dali and pop art the pioneering use of publicity as erotica by Playboy and other media and the growing concerns of cultural critics over the emergence of a regime of stimulation In one case study Rutherford pairs James Bond and Madonna in order to examine the link between sex and aggression He details how television advertising after 1980 constructed a theatre of the libido to entice the buying public and concludes by situating the cultivation of eroticism in the wider context of Michel Foucault's views on social power and governmentality and specifically how they relate to sexuality during the modern era

A World Made Sexy is about power and pleasure emancipation and domination and the relationship between the personal passions and social controls that have crafted desire

Strong and Hard Women Tanya Bunsell, 2013-04-12 Females with large muscles evoke strong reactions from men and women often involving disgust discomfort anger and threat The controversial nature of female bodybuilding has caused a significant rupture on feminist ground Whilst proponents claim that female bodybuilding is a way of empowering and liberating women others see it as a form of corporeal entrapment This book investigates the controversy Do women who pump iron resist physical restrictions of imposed femininity or are they engaged in an ultimately oppressive quest for perfect bodies In an original two year ethnographic study based in the South of England Tanya Bunsell immersed herself into the world of female bodybuilders By mapping these extraordinary women's lives the research illuminates the pivotal spaces and essential lived experiences that make up the female bodybuilder Whilst the women appear to be embarking on an empowering radical body project for themselves the consequences of their activity remains culturally ambivalent This research exposes the Janus faced nature of female bodybuilding exploring the ways in which the women negotiate accommodate and resist pressures to engage in more orthodox and feminine activities and appearances This book will be of interest to academics and students in the fields of gender studies the sociology of sport the body and research methodology
