institutional inequities that still bedevil America and traces his personal relationship to this history His father as state legislator and mayor was a huge force in the integration of New Orleans in the 1960s and 1970s Landrieu grew up with a progressive education in one of the nation's most racially divided cities but even he had to relearn Southern history as it really happened Equal parts unblinking memoir history and prescription for finally confronting America's most painful legacy In the Shadow of Statues contributes strongly to the national conversation about race in the age of Donald Trump at a time when racism is resurgent with seemingly tacit approval from the highest levels of government and when too many Americans have a misplaced nostalgia for a time and place that never existed Lyrics of Sunshine and Shadow Eleanor

Alexander,2001-09-01 A New York Times Notable Book of 2002 Traces the tempestuous romance of Ligeia Ruth Moore and Paul Laurence Dunbar early 20th century's most noted African American literary couple On February 10 1906 Alice Ruth Moore estranged wife of renowned early twentieth century poet Paul Laurence Dunbar boarded a streetcar settled comfortably into her seat and opened her newspaper to learn of her husband's death the day before Paul Laurence Dunbar son of former slaves whom Frederick Douglass had dubbed the most promising young colored man in America was dead from tuberculosis at the age of 33 Lyrics of Sunshine and Shadow traces the tempestuous romance of America's most noted African American literary couple Drawing on a variety of love letters diaries journals and autobiographies Eleanor Alexander vividly recounts Dunbar's and Moore's tumultuous affair from a courtship conducted almost entirely through letters and an elopement brought on by Dunbar's brutal drunken rape of Moore through their passionate marriage and its eventual violent dissolution in 1902 Moore once having left Dunbar rejected his every entreaty to return to him responding to his many letters only once with a blunt one word telegram No This is a remarkable story of tragic romance among African American elites struggling to define themselves and their relationships within the context of post slavery America As such it provides a timely examination of the ways in which cultural ideology and politics shape and complicate conceptions of romantic love Walt's

Utopia Priscilla Hobbs,2024-09-18 The Happiest Place on Earth opened in 1955 during a trying time in American life the Cold War Disneyland was envisioned as a utopian resort where families could play together and escape the tension of the real world Since its construction the park has continually been updated to reflect changing American culture The park's themed features are based on familiar Disney stories and American history and folklore They reflect the hopes of a society trying to understand itself in the wake of World War II This second edition expands its perspective in response to among other things the cultural shifts brought on by the Covid 19 pandemic New and updated chapters endeavor to hold Disney accountable not accountability for misdeeds but its accountability to include everyone as American mythmakers and cultural titans

Ecologies of Incarceration Mauve Perle Tahat,2024-12-15 Ecologies of Incarceration Carceral Discard Studies in the Anthropocene offers a compelling exploration of the intersections between carceral systems environmental concerns and political ideologies This interdisciplinary work examines how prison literature and narrative witness reveal the complexities of our contemporary world shedding light on the systemic issues that link environmental degradation with carceral practices. The Accident of Color: A Story of Race in Reconstruction Daniel Brook, 2019-06-18

A technicolor history of the first civil rights movement and its collapse into black and white. Brutal slavery existed all over the New World but only America followed emancipation with a twisted system of segregation. The Accident of Color asks why. Searching for answers Daniel Brook journeys to the places that resisted Jim Crow the longest. In the cosmopolitan port cities of New Orleans and Charleston integrated streetcars plied avenues patrolled by integrated police forces for decades after the Civil War. This progress was ushered in during Reconstruction when long free openly biracial communities joined in coalition with the formerly enslaved and allies at the fringes of whiteness. Tragically their victories including integrated schools and their alliance itself were violently uprooted by segregation along a stark new black white color line. By revisiting a turning point in the construction of America's uniquely restrictive racial system The Accident of Color brings to life a moment from our past that illuminates the origins of the racial lies we live by.

The New Era of the New World Nations, 1927

Louisiana Buildings, 1720-1940 Jessie Poesch, Barbara SoRelle Bacot, 1997-08-01

The only New Deal program to continue into the 1990s the Historic American Buildings Survey has through the years drawn attention to the historical and artistic significance of buildings that contemporary taste might otherwise have ignored. Louisiana Buildings 1720-1940 makes easily available the fruit of HABS's important and enduring efforts to record Louisiana's architectural heritage. In the 1930s the Louisiana HABS team concentrated on public edifices and grand plantation complexes threatened by destruction. Later records of HABS include still other habitations of the common man as well as industrial structures. The project has yielded not only graphic and written documentation of the buildings many no longer standing but also new insights into the history of the state's architecture. An invaluable part of Louisiana Buildings 1720-1940 is the alphabetical listing of HABS structures in Louisiana both by familiar name and by parish. The listing by parish gives the location the date of construction the architect when known and the current status of each building. It also presents drawings or photographs of many of the structures over 300 pictures in all. There are besides nine chapters by leading architectural historians who cover all aspects of Louisiana architecture its Creole beginnings in the south of the state the Appalachian folk style in the north and developments on the plantation in the seventeenth century urban setting and in the modern era. Those chapters form an essential frame of reference for the data in the HABS listings and call attention to many other structures that are a part of the history of building in the Pelican State. Anyone interested in the state's architecture or history will find Louisiana Buildings indispensable.
