Long Shots:

Close-ups and Long Shots in Modern Chinese Cinemas Hsiu-Chuang Deppman, 2020-10-31 Two of the most stylized shots in cinema the close up and the long shot embody distinct attractions The iconicity of the close up magnifies the affective power of faces and elevates film to the discourse of art The depth of the long shot in contrast indexes the facts of life and reinforces our faith in reality Each configures the relation between image and distance that expands the viewer's power to see feel and conceive To understand why a director prefers one type of shot over the other then is to explore more than aesthetics It uncovers significant assumptions about film as an art of intervention or organic representation Close ups and Long Shots in Modern Chinese Cinemas is the first book to compare these two shots within the cultural historical and cinematic traditions that produced them In particular the global revival of Confucian studies and the transnational appeal of feminism in the 1980s marked a new turn in the composite cultural education of Chinese directors whose shot selections can be seen as not only stylistic expressions but ethical choices responding to established norms about self restraint ritualism propriety and female agency Each of the films discussed Zhang Yimou's Red Sorghum Ang Lee's Lust Caution Hou Hsiao hsien's The Assassin Jia Zhangke's I Wish I Knew and Wei Desheng's Cape No 7 represents a watershed in Chinese cinemas that redefines the evolving relations among film politics and ethics Together these works provide a comprehensive picture of how directors contextualize close ups and long shots in ways that make them interpretable across many films as bellwethers of social change

Directed by Steven Spielberg Warren Buckland, 2006-05-02 Although the blockbuster is the most popular and commercially successful type of filmmaking it has yet to be studied seriously from a formalist standpoint This is in opposition to classical Hollywood cinema and International Art cinema whose form has been analyzed and deconstructed in great detail Directed By Steven Spielberg fills this gap by examining the distinctive form of the blockbuster The book focuses on Spielberg's blockbusters because he is the most consistent and successful director of this type of film he defines the standard by which other Hollywood blockbusters are judged and compared But how did Spielberg attain this position Film critics and scholars generally agree that Spielberg's blockbusters have a unique look and use visual storytelling techniques to their utmost effectiveness In this book Warren Buckland examines Spielberg's distinct manipulation of film form and his singular use of stylistic and narrative techniques. The book demonstrates the aesthetic options available to Spielberg and particularly the choices he makes in structuring his blockbusters. Buckland emphasizes the director's activity in making a film, particularly such a powerful director as Spielberg, including visualizing the scene on paper via storyboards, staging and blocking the scene, selecting camera placement and movement, determining the progression or flow of the film from shot to shot, and deciding how to narrate the story to the spectator. Directed By Steven Spielberg combines film studies scholarship with the approach taken by many filmmaking manuals. The unique value of the book lies in its grounding of formal film analysis in filmmaking. The

This book has struck a chord worldwide and is being translated into several languages. Each chapter includes techniques, examples, tips, and case studies. The field techniques section features real-world setups presented as demonstrations or as tutorials. Case studies present profiles of people producing 24p projects, and the DVD includes step-by-step instructions that illustrate how to work with 24p material in NLE, compositor, DVD authoring, and audio applications. Television Production Gerald Millerson, Jim
