Research and Debate in Primary Geography Simon Catling, 2017-10-02 This book brings together recent papers which make important contributions to understanding and developing primary geography It considers primary teachers and trainee teachers knowledge of geography how the primary curriculum uses geography teachers planning of geography teaching the way in which aspects of geography are taught what high quality geography might look like and children's geographical understanding and voices Though geography curricula change quite often in countries around the world the core matters noted above remain of constant and vital importance The papers in this book either concern research with primary teachers and children or consider key concerns in primary geography providing important perspectives for thinking about future developments in geography teaching and curriculum initiatives in primary schools This is a stimulating and enticing collection written by leading exponents of and experts in primary geography education This book was originally published as a special issue of Education 3 13 International Handbook on Geographical Education Rod

Gerber,2013-03-09 I am very pleased to have been asked by Rod Gerber to provide a preface to such a book Not least because of the twenty four chapters eight are written by former students or colleagues with whom I have worked in the past and whom I still meet at conferences on geographical education It is with a certain pride and joy that I note the progress which has been made in geographical education both in its day to day teaching and in research in the twenty years following the end of my term of office as Chair of the Commission on Geographical Education of the International Geographical Union CGEIUG My successors Joe Stoltman Hartwig Haubrich Rod Gerber and now Lea Houtsonen have done much and are continuing to work hard to foster the development of geographical education This book is proof if proof were needed that the international collaboration in this field is alive and well with contributions coming from all the continents except Antarctica It would be a moribund subject that remained unaffected in one way or another by developments on the great world stage as Fairgrieve 1926 would have put it And as Rod Gerber shows the issues of globalisation of cultural encounters of differing value systems of new technologies of variable economic development and of environmental quality all feature as topics which influence and are influenced by geographical education Research in Education ,1974 Resources in Education

,1988 The History of Oxford University Press: Volume IV Keith Robbins,2017-05-19 The story of Oxford University Press spans five centuries of printing and publishing Beginning with the first presses set up in Oxford in the fifteenth century and the later establishment of a university printing house it leads through the publication of bibles scholarly works and the Oxford English Dictionary to a twentieth century expansion that created the largest university press in the world playing a part in research education and language learning in more than 50 countries With access to extensive archives the four volume History of OUP traces the impact of long term changes in printing technology and the business of publishing It also considers the effects of wider trends in education reading and scholarship in international trade and the spreading influence of the English language and in cultural and social history both in Oxford and through its presence around the world In the decades after 1970 Oxford University Press met new challenges but also a period of unprecedented growth In this concluding volume Keith Robbins and 21 expert contributors assess OUP's changing structure its academic mission and its business operations through years of economic turbulence and continuous technological change The Press repositioned itself after 1970 it brought its London Business to Oxford closed its Printing House and rapidly developed new publishing for English language teaching in regions far beyond its traditional markets Yet in an increasingly competitive worldwide industry OUP remained the department of a major British university sharing its commitment to excellence in scholarship and education The resulting opportunities and sometimes tensions are traced here through detailed consideration of OUP's business decisions the vast range of its publications and the dynamic role of its overseas offices Concluding in 2004 with new forms of digital publishing The History of OUP sheds new light on the cultural educational and business life of the English speaking world in the late twentieth century The History of Oxford University Press Ian Anders Gadd, Simon Eliot, Keith Robbins, William Roger Louis, 2013 The history of Oxford University Press spans five centuries of printing and publishing This fourth volume explores the Press s modern history as an unsubsidized business with significant educational and cultural responsibilities and how it maintained these through economic turbulence political upheaval and rapid technological innovation Schools Council Report Schools Council (Great Britain), 1979 Understanding Art Education Nicholas Addison, Lesley Burgess, John Steers, Jane Trowell, 2010-01-04 What is distinctive about art and design as a subject in secondary schools What contribution does it make to the wider curriculum How can art and design develop the agency of young people Understanding Art Education examines the theory and practice of helping young people learn in and beyond the secondary classroom It provides guidance and stimulation for ways of thinking about art and design when preparing to teach and provides a framework within which teachers can locate their own experiences and beliefs Designed to complement the core textbook Learning to Teach Art and Design in the Secondary School which offers pragmatic approaches for trainee and newly qualified teachers this book suggests ways in which art and design teachers can engage reflexively with their continuing practice Experts in the field explore The histories of art and design education and their relationship to wider social and cultural developments Creativity as a foundation for learning Engaging with contemporary practice in partnership with external agencies The role of assessment in evaluating creative and collaborative practices Interdisciplinary approaches to art and design Developing dialogue as a means to address citizenship and global issues in art and design education Understanding Art Education will be of interest to all students and practising teachers particularly those studying at M Level as well as teacher educators and researchers who wish to reflect on their identity as an artist and teacher and the ways in which the subject can inform and contribute to education and society more widely South African geographer , 1990 Cities In Space Prof David Herbert, Dr Colin Thomas, 2013-11-26 This is the third major revision of a text first published in 1982 with the title Urban Geography A First Approach and in 1990 as Cities in Space City as Place The study of urban geography remains an important part of the geographical curriculum both in schools and in higher education This book analyses life in an urban society and in a world which is being transformed by the processes of urbanization to study urban geography is to study environments and phenomena significant to our everyday lives This is an introductory text which aims to present both more traditional and newer approaches to urban geography in an accessible and educational way A Guide to Educational Research Peter Gordon, 2014-01-14 This account of development in educational research is intended as a guide to possible research areas both fundamental and policy related for students in colleges and higher education institutions and should also be of interest to those engaged in curriculum planning and administration The Routledge Handbook of English for Academic Purposes Ken Hyland, Philip Shaw, 2016-01-29 The Routledge Handbook of English for Academic Purposes provides an

The Making Of The Curriculum Ivor F Goodson, 2002-11-01 The first edition of The Making of Curriculum was published in 1988 and reviewers hailed it as a seminal work in the field In that work Goodson explored a number of aspects of the so called traditional subjects and described the way they develop over time to a point where they can be promoted as academic disciplines He showed that the claim to be academic was in fact the result of a substantial political contest covering a century or more The traditional subject was in short invented The first edition of this book provided a series of challenging insights for those desiring to make sense of the current debate over schooling In this new and extended second edition Bill Pinar adds an illuminating introduction and Goodson brings his argument up to date with a discussion of the National Curriculum a contemporary initiative in the making of curriculum

Space, Place and Scale in the Study of Education Lorraine Symaco, Colin Brock, 2017-10-02 The term space is inherently geographical Educational provision and activity takes place within spaces ranging from a room at home or in a school to a campus to an administrative area which could be a state within a country a whole country or a group of countries Such spaces are known as geographical surfaces Within these spaces the process of learning and teaching takes place at particular points that are often nodes in a network which may be formal such as a group of schools or universities or non formal such as in cyberspace Understanding what goes on depends on the scale at which it is observed ranging from individuals to global outreach Altogether this constitutes the geography of educational reality This comprehensive volume includes a theoretical background plus a sample of situations including school level policy and administration inequitable access education hubs and small states It offers an introduction to a relatively neglected member of the family of education foundation disciplines the geography of education This book was originally published as a special issue of Comparative Education Australian National Bibliography ,1994-05
