Arthur Venning, by M.M.C. M M. C,1885 Marion Milner: The Life Emma Letley,2013-08-15 Artist poet educationalist and autobiographer Marion Milner is considered one of the most original of psychoanalytic thinkers whose life 1900 1998 spans a century of radical change Marion Milner The Life is the first biography of this extraordinary woman It introduces Milner and her works to the reader through her family colleagues and above all through her books charting their evolution and development as well as their critical reception and contribution to current twenty first century debates and discourses In this book Emma Letley draws on primary sources including the newly opened Marion Milner Collection at the Archives of the British Psychoanalytical Society in London as well as interviews and the re contextualised series of Milner texts She traces the process of Milner s writing of her books her discovery of psychoanalysis her training and her place in that world from the 1940 s onwards Marion Milner The Life includes discussion of Milner s connection with D W Winnicott and her emergence as a most individual member of the Independent Group Letley also shows how Milner s Personal Notebooks offer fascinating insights into her relationships both personal and professional and into many of her important ideas on creativity the body mind relationship her revolutionary ideas on education and her particular personality as clinician working with both children and adults Further Letley explores Milner s literary character from her very early diaries and narratives to her last book written in her 90 s published in 2012 Marion Milner The Life places Marion Milner firmly in her Edwardian family setting and contains new material from primary sources including a new view of her collegial connections It provides a wealth of material on her life and works that will be invaluable to psychoanalysts psychotherapists art psychotherapists students those involved with life writing and autobiography and the general reader A Protestant Church in Communist China John Craig William Keating,2012-02-16 Freedom of religious belief is guaranteed under the constitution of the People s Republic of China but the degree to which this freedom is able to be exercised remains a highly controversial issue Much scholarly attention has been given to persecuted underground groups such as Falun but one area that remains largely unexplored is the relationship between officially registered churches and the communist government This study investigates the history of one such official church Moore Memorial Church in Shanghai This church was founded by American Methodist missionaries By the time of the 1949 revolution it was the largest Protestant church in East Asia running seven day a week programs As a case study of one individual church operating from an historical rather than theological perspective this study examines the experience of people at this church against the backdrop of the turbulent politics of the Mao and Deng eras It asks and seeks to answer questions such as were the people at the church pleased to see the foreign missionaries leave Were people forced to sign the so called Christian manifesto Once the church doors were closed in 1966 did worshipers go underground Why was this particular church especially chosen to be the first re opened in Shanghai in 1979 What explanations are there for its phenomenal growth since then A considerable proportion of the data for this study is drawn from Chinese language sources including interviews personal correspondence statistics internal church documents and archives many of which have never previously been published or accessed by foreign researchers The main focus of this study is on the period from 1949 to 1989 a period in which the church experienced many ups and downs restrictions and limitations The Mao era in particular remains one of the least understood and seldom written about periods in the history of Christianity in China This study therefore makes a significant contribution to our evolving understanding of the delicate balancing act between compromise co operation and compliance that categorizes church state relations in modern China Desperate Crimes C.D.
