Ragas Of Longing The Poetry Of Michael Ondaatje:

Ragas of Longing Sam Solecki, 2003-01-01 Solecki suggests that Ondaatje's poetry can be seen as constituting a relatively unified personal canon that has evolved with each book building on its predecessor while simultaneously preparing the groundwork for the following volume Michael Ondaatje Lee Spinks, 2013-07-19 Michael Ondaatje is the first comprehensive and fully up to date study of Ondaatje's entire oeuvre Starting from Ondaatje's beginnings as a poet this volume offers an intensive account of each of his major publications including The Collected Works of Billy the Kid Coming Through Slaughter In The Skin of a Lion and The English Patient drawing attention to the various contexts and intertexts that have informed his work The book contains a broad overview of Ondaatje's career for students and readers coming to his work for the first time It also offers an original reading of his writing which significantly revises conventional accounts of Ondaatje as a postmodern or postcolonial writer As the fullest account of Ondaatje's work to date Spinks's approach draws on a range of postcolonial theory and as well as being a landmark in Ondaatje scholarship makes a distinctive contribution to debates about postcolonial literature and the poetics of postmodernism Making and Seeing Modern Texts Jonathan Locke

Hart, 2018-07-04 Making and Seeing Modern Texts explores the poetics of texts through a close reading and analysis across the genres of poetry drama fiction non fiction travel literature and theory This volume demonstrates that prose as much as poetry share the making and seeing of language literary practice and theory Genre then is presented as a guide that crosses multiple boundaries This volume selects different ways to examine texts discussing Michael Ondaatje's early poetry and examining narrative in Philip Roth's The Human Stain The book examines images in poetry narrative in fiction prefaces in non fiction metatheatre in drama and attempts to see the modern and postmodern in theory all of which show us the complexities of modernity or later modernity One of the innovations is that the author a literary critic theorist poet and historian takes his training in practice and theory and shows through examples of each how language operates across genres

Ondaatje investigates the political potential of the Canadian author's aesthetics. Contributing to current debates about affect and representation ideology critique and the artwork trauma and testimony, this book uses the concept of the haptic to demonstrate how Ondaatje's multisensory fluid and historically inflected writing can forge an enabling relationship between audience, author, and text. This is where Ondaatje's micropolitics, often misconstrued as ideologically suspect aestheticism, emerges: a praxis that intimates how one can write and read politically with a difference.

Do You Want to Be Happy and Write? Robert Lecker, 2023-09-01 Michael Ondaatje has achieved international prominence and recognition in a way that few other writers have let alone Canadian writers. This popularity is most pronounced for works of historical fiction such as The English Patient, winner of the Golden Man Booker Prize, and In the Skin of a Lion, set in 1930s Toronto, shortlisted for the Governor General's Award and winner of the Canada Reads competition in 2002. But Ondaatje has been writing for over fifty years, and his innovative works include some of the most accomplished poetry in the English-speaking world. Taking its title from a question in his poem Tin Roof, Do You Want to Be Happy and Write reassesses Ondaatje's writing and the role of the poet from his troubled explorations of the self-reflexive artist to his most recent novels. Comprehensive in both approach and coverage, this new collection offers groundbreaking analysis informed by an understanding of Ondaatje's entire oeuvre, placing early poetry collections like The Collected Works of Billy the Kid and There's a Trick with a Knife I'm Learning to Do alongside the full range of his novels and his extensive work as a literary editor. The book highlights the transnational, postcolonial, and diasporic issues that have become increasingly apparent in Ondaatje's work. Contributors explore key interests that have reappeared and been rethought across his fiction and poetry: the construction of identity, the nature of memory and its relation to family origins and history, the human body as a site of contestation and struggle, the contrast between Eastern and Western values and the Southeast Asian diaspora, the writer's responsibility in depictions of war, psychic trauma, and genocide, and an ongoing fascination with the visual and the media of photography and film. An eclectic celebration of an iconic author, Do You Want to Be Happy and Write offers an authoritative reference point for scholars and students of literature and reveals new facets of a major author to his readers around the world.

Not Needing All the Words Annick Hillger, 2006-05-26 Reading selected texts by Michael Ondaatje, including the novels In the Skin of a Lion and The English Patient and the poem Birch Bark, Annick Hillger demonstrates how his writing both answers and challenges attempts to delineate the idea of a Canadian national self. She sets Ondaatje's work within the context of theoretical and philosophical ideas, developing the notion of a literature of silence concerned with finding a ground for self beyond the realm of language.

The Metaphor of Celebrity Joel Deshayes, 2013-01-01 The Metaphor of Celebrity is an exploration of the significance of literary celebrity in Canadian poetry. It focuses on the lives and writing of four widely recognized authors who wrote about stardom: Leonard Cohen, Michael Ondaatje, Irving Layton, and Gwendolyn MacEwen, and the specific moments in Canadian history that affected the ways in which they were received by the broader public. Joel Deshayes elucidates the relationship between literary celebrity and metaphor in the identity crises of celebrities who must try to balance their public and private selves in the face of considerable publicity He also examines the ways in which celebrity in Canadian poetry developed in a unique way in light of the significant cultural events of the decades between 1950 and 1980 including the Massey Commission the flourishing of Canadian publishing and the considerable interest in poetry in the 1960s and 1970s which was followed by a rapid fall from public grace as poetry was overwhelmed by greater popular interest in Canadian novels Publisher website

Canadian Literature in English W. J. writing privileging an Indian Ocean imaginary that is transnational and cross oceanic in its orientation and pointing to networks of connections that transcend the nation state which is often the origin of trauma in the first place Filling a gap in Indian Ocean studies in its close readings of trauma and resilience the book also broadens perspectives on postcolonial life writing since little attention has been paid so far to Indian Ocean autobiographical literary products By the same token the volume also enriches the field of Indian Ocean literary studies by incorporating life writing as an aesthetic strategy which helps to configure Indian Ocean subjectivities Encyclopedia of Asian-American Literature Seiwoong Oh,2015-04-22 Presents a reference on Asian American literature providing profiles of Asian American writers and their works
