De-monopolization And Competition Policy In Post-communist Economies Ben Slay, 2019-03-07 Even in developed capitalist economies markets function poorly without regulation by competitive forces The countries that once were part of the Eastern bloc are introducing market forces into industries created according to the monopolistic logic of central planning so that competition policy plays an important role in the transition to capitalism This interdisciplinary study examines how barriers to the development of competitive markets and competition policy are being overcome in Russia Poland Hungary and Mongolia A group of U S Russian and East European specialists explores the institutions and programs of competition policy as well as its role in the overall post Communist transition Providing a complete comparative picture of the development of competition policy in a broad cross section of formerly socialist countries the contributors consider the extent of the post Communist monopoly problem as well as progress in de monopolization American Studies Jack Salzman, American Studies Association, 1986-08-29 A major three volume bibliography including an additional supplement of an annotated listing of American Studies monographs published between 1900 and 1988 Extractives, Manufacturing, and Services David O. industry Government agencies assumed responsibility not only for airline safety but for setting fares and determining how individual markets would be served Forty years later the Airline Deregulation Act of 1978 set in motion the economic deregulation of the industry and opened it to market competition This study by Steven Morrison and Clifford Winston analyzes the effects of deregulation on both travelers and the airline industry The authors find that lower fares and better service have netted travelers some 6 billion in annual benefits while airline earnings have increased by 2.5 billion a year Morrison and Winston expect still greater benefits once the industry has had time to adjust its capital structure to the unregulated marketplace and they recommend specific public policies to ensure healthy competition The Brookings
