Railway Police The Last Trolley Ride:

The Railway Police and The Last Trolley Ride Hortense Calisher, 2013-08-06 DIVDIV Two novellas from award winning author Hortense Calisher offering very different journeys the first looking hopefully forward and the second into a painful past divDIV The characters in these two novellas take introspective poignant excursions both to where they want to be The Railway Police and where they have been The Last Trolley Ride In the first a woman with hereditary premature baldness decides to embrace her unadorned head and hopes to start a fresh life without attachments to the trappings of days gone by In the second an elderly man with a working replica of a trolley line in his basement reminisces about the fateful last ride he took on that very line many years ago In both stories Calisher probes the characters senses of isolation from their respective worlds divDIV div div People, Power, Places Sally Ann McMurry, Annmarie Adams, 2000 From workers cottages in Milwaukee s Polish community to Alaskan homesteads during the Great Depression from early American retail stores to nineteenth century prisons different types of buildings reflect the diverse responses of people to their architectural needs Through inquiry into such topics the contributors to this volume examine a variety of building forms as they assess the current state of vernacular architecture studies Because scholars in vernacular architecture have come to consider thematic questions rather than simply to look at types of structures the essays chosen for this collection address issues of how people power and places intersect They demonstrate not only the inextricable links between people and place but also show how power relationships are defined by spatial organization and how this use of space has helped define the distinction between private and public The essays examine a wide range of forms from camp meetings to trolley cottages to consider what buildings might reveal about their makers users and even interpreters One article for example will give readers a new appreciation of balloon framing in Midwest farmhouses refuting popular notions that it was a single individual s invention Another considers servants quarters in Apartheid era South Africa to explore the relationship between black domestic workers and their white employers Drawn from the Vernacular Architecture Forum conferences of 1996 and 1997 these thirteen essays make significant contributions to the study of design and building processes and the adaptation of architectural forms and spaces over time They help redefine the scope of vernacular and provide new models for better understanding the built environment The Editors Sally McMurry is professor of history at Pennsylvania State University and author of Families and Farmhouses in Nineteenth Century America Annmarie Adams is associate professor of architecture at McGill University and author of Architecture in the Family Way Doctors Houses and Women 1870 1900 Twentieth Century Fiction George Woodcock, 1983-04-01 The Fiction of Hortense Calisher Kathleen Snodgrass, 1993 Hortense Calisher is the author of eleven novels six collections of stories or novellas and two memoirs The publication of her first book of short stories In the Absence of Angels 1951 marked the debut of an important writer For the past forty years her works have been consistently and widely reviewed Calisher has long been celebrated and censured as a writer s writer a consummate stylist with an impressive range of subjects Despite that range however Calisher s works possess a thematic coherence that has eluded critical notice For more than forty years she has spun out variations on the motif of rites of passage and of extradition Her protagonists may yearn for stasis for a firmly manageable reality but finally emerge into a world where change is the only constant In The Fiction of Hortense Calisher the first book length study of Calisher s work Kathleen Snodgrass demonstrates this theme s dominance Following an introduction that provides biographical and critical background she explores similarities in the structure of Calisher s works grouping them together to illuminate both the general motif and its distinctive variations In the first chapter Bridging the Gulf The Autobiographical Stories Snodgrass arranges Calisher s early stories into a biographically chronological order a coherent narrative emerges that dramatizes Hester Elkin s rites of passage from childhood through adolescence to early adulthood Hester Elkin is only the first of a succession of Calisher s protagonists to embrace life as an open ended journey In chapter 2 Snodgrass examines four Calisher novels that have in common tumultuous transitions from adolescence to adulthood In Calisher an essential part of that rite of passage is a coming down from the heights of theorizing and fantasy into a willingness to grapple with mundane adult realities Chapter 3 False Entries focuses on two companion novels in which the central drama is the painful transition from stasis to movement Subsequent chapters focus on two very different types of movement Solo Flights deals with characters sloughing off conventional lives like dead skins and setting off alone while Re Entries examines the opposite movement here Calisher s characters re enter what she has termed the great enclosure of the norm Later chapters discuss Calisher s two novels of space travel works in which the primary voyage is psychic rather than physical and works dealing with the voyaging life well into old age In her conclusion Calisher s Monologuing Eye Snodgrass demonstrates the inseparability of style and theme in Calisher s works Both stylistically and thematically Calisher repudiates a predictably linear progression through life If her style is as some critics have remarked dense and elliptical so too is her experience of the world She leaves it to others to duplicate a received reality choosing instead to take soundings on a world in flux
