Deadly Beautiful Liana Joy Christensen,2011 Did you know that the humble marmot is responsible for more than one billion human deaths Or that it s possible to be bitten by a snake s head for up to an hour after it s been decapitated On the flip side for every person bitten by a shark each year 25 people are bitten by New Yorkers It seems that truth sometimes is stranger than fiction These facts and many more appear in this fascinating tribute to our world s deadly wildlife At its heart however Deadly Beautiful makes a passionate plea for us to learn to better cohabit with our fellow residents of planet Earth Ever increasing concern for the fate of the environment and the world s endangered wildlife means that this book is a particularly timely addition to the world of natural history publishing Dr Liana Joy Christensen one of Australia s foremost nature writers takes a fresh and entertaining look at the deadly animals with which humans have for so long enjoyed a love hate relationship These animals are generally not the aggressors nor the lethal killing machines that mythology and tradition would have us believe Most also serve vital roles in maintaining the ecological balance of their habitats while their fascinating behaviour and often striking beauty make them worthy of close study particularly as so many of them are facing the worst death of all extinction Beautifully illustrated Deadly Beautiful is certain to foster a new understanding and appreciation of these incredible animals and their importance on a global scale

Appalachian Autumn Marcia Bonta,2011-12-01 Like her popular Appalachian Spring Marcia Bonta s new book offers a day by day account of the changing world of nature in the mountains of central Pennsylvania This time she chronicles the beauties of the autumn months as she walks the familiar roads and trails of her 500 acre mountain top farm noting the minute transformations of the season as well as the more dramatic ones But her quiet sojourn in the natural world is shattered by the intrusion of a lumberman who insists upon clear cutting a neighboring property The massive bulldozers and skidders crush every tree and shrub weed and wildflower leaving only rubble in their wake The Bontas become involved in a lawsuit challenging this violation of the land they love and seeking to protect their own property from the effects of the logging Autumn is a bittersweet time Bonta writes a season of good byes when after the flaming leaves fall and start the inevitable process of decay we are left with only the bare bones of nature Fleeing from the whine of chain saws and the crash of falling trees she roams the mountain top watching wild turkeys forage in the field flocks of migrating birds feast on wild grapes does and bucks eye each other in their mating ritual But she can never completely evade the insistent question What is the relationship between humans and nature Does ownership give one the right to do as one pleases with the land and all the flora and fauna living on it Does the natural world exists solely to satisfy mankind s desire for profit The answer is not simple it cannot be drawn in winter s black and white But the issues must be of concern to every thoughtful person Marcia Bonta s Appalachian Autumn offers a new voice in the ongoing debate      The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1995
