Raven Tells Stories:

Qanemcit Amllertut/Many Stories to Tell Ann Fienup-Riordan, Alice Rearden, 2017-11-15 This bilingual collection shares new translations of old stories recorded over the last four decades through interviews with Yup'ik elders from throughout southwest Alaska. Some are true traditional tales while others are recent. Some are well known like the adventures of the wily Raven while others are rarely told. All are part of a great narrative tradition shared and treasured by Yup'ik people into the present day. This is the first region wide collection of traditional Yup'ik tales and stories from Southwest Alaska. The elders and translators who contributed to this collection embrace the great irony of oral traditions that the best way to keep these stories is to give them away. By retelling these stories they hope to create a future in which the Yup'ik view of the world will be both recognized and valued.

Raven's Echo Robert Davis Hoffmann, 2022-10-25 In Raven's Echo Tlingit artist and poet Robert Davis Hoffmann calls on readers to nurture material as well as spiritual life asking beautiful and brutal questions about our individual positions within the universe and within history. The poems in this collection are brimming with an imaginative array of characters including the playful yet sometimes disturbing trickster Raven and offer insights into both traditional and contemporary Native life in southeast Alaska. Raven's Echo is divided into two books: SoulCatcher and Reconstruction. SoulCatcher artfully explores human alienation and spiritual longing through poems that describe the speaker's enduring struggle to find a place in Tlingit tribal history and contemporary experience. It takes up topics like colonialism, government subordination, painful acculturation, assimilation, and an array of other challenges while it also addresses human loneliness in a world of spirits who often elude rather than nurture. The poems in Reconstruction present ways of integrating traditional Tlingit culture into contemporary life by honoring the significance of the land, subsistence, fishing, warrior identity, and the role of elders. The two books are woven together by the constant thread of finding a way to live humanely in a world that is historically fractured yet spiritually inviting. Hoffmann's poetry is acutely aware of economic, political, and social tensions while still highlighting the joy of traditions and the beauty of Alaskan nature throughout the collection. The destructiveness of colonialism brings a profound darkness to some of the poems in Raven's Echo, but the collection also explores the possibility of finding spiritual healing in the face of historical and contemporary traumas. As Hoffman's poetry grapples with reconstructing a life within Tlingit tradition and history, the speaker urges that the importance of honoring and remembering traditions through art is ever present. Listen, I'm trying to say something always; our stories have lived through paintings always; our stories stayed alive through retelling. Raven's Echo may tell stories about living in a world of guns and horsepower, global warming, cops and drunks, but Raven always lurks in the background.

Representing the Nation Jessica Evans, David Boswell, 1999 Representing the Nation gathers key writings from leading cultural thinkers to ask what role cultural institutions play in creating and shaping our sense of ourselves as a nation.
