Sharing the

Journey: Literature for Young Children David Yellin, 2017-05-12 This wonderful resource from two authors with an infectious enthusiasm for children's literature will help readers select and share quality books for and with young children. Specifically focused on infants through the third grade, Sharing the Journey contains descriptive book annotations, instructive commentary, and creative teaching activities tailored for those important years. Extensive book lists throughout will help readers build a library of quality children's literature. Books representing other cultures are included to help celebrate diversity as well as cultural connection. Genre chapters include poetry, fantasy, and realistic and historical fiction. A chapter on informational books demonstrates how young children can be introduced to and learn to enjoy nonfiction. Myths and Hero Tales Agnes Regan Perkins, 1997-11-25 This one-stop cross-cultural selective guide to recent retellings of myths and hero tales for children and young adults will enable teachers and library media specialists to select comparative myths and tales from various mostly non-European cultures. The focus is on stories from Native America, Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Central and South America, and Oceania. The Guide contains extensively annotated entries on 189 books of retellings of myths and hero tales, both ancient and modern, from around the world published between 1985 and 1996. Represented are 1,455 stories suitable for use with young people from mid-elementary through high school. The entries, arranged alphabetically by writer, contain complete bibliographic data, age and grade levels, and evaluative annotations. Seven indexes: title, author, illustrator, culture, story type, name, and grade level, make searching easy. The story type index will enable teachers to select comparative myths and tales from different cultures on more than 50 types of myths and hero tales. Among the many myth types cited are origin of human beings and the world, comparative social customs and rituals, natural and heavenly phenomena, animal appearance and behavior, searches and quests, and tricksters. Among the hero tale types are fools and buffoons, kings and queens, warriors, monster slayers, important female figures, magicians, voyagers and adventurers, and spiritual leaders. The Guide concludes with a bibliography of retellings published earlier that have come to be considered standard works. How to Get Your Child to Love Reading Esmé Raji Codell, 2003-01-01 Offers advice and guidelines on how to expand a child's world through books and reading, introducing three thousand teacher-recommended book titles, craft ideas, projects, recipes, and reading club tips. Around the World with Historical Fiction and Folktales Beth Bartleson Zarian, 2004 As more school districts undergo the painstaking task of curriculum integration, resources that offer children an opportunity to live vicariously in times and places they cannot experience any other way become increasingly necessary. Whether two teachers are covering the same topic in separate classes, e.g., English and history, or designing a thematic unit with the school librarian, this book will assist all parties in the selection of high-quality literature. In this handy guide to nearly 800 award-winning historical fiction for Kindergarten through 8th grade, Beth Zarian literally spans the globe. Entries are first divided into three sections: American history, world history, and myths and folklore, then chronologically from prehistoric times to present day, and finally by grade level. Each entry is accompanied by a short annotation. For anyone wishing to teach historical facts in an entertaining way Around the World with Historical Fiction and Folktales is the only way to travel Books on Wheels Janice McArthur, Barbara McGuire, 1998-08-15 Get books moving off the library shelves and into the hands of children with this integrated package for thematic instruction Sixteen chapters based on such lively themes as Risky Reading adventure stories Horrendous Fun monster stories and Book Line and Sinker ocean world contain introductions to the themes introductory activities booktalks annotated bibliographies and reproducible activity pages that extend learning across the curriculum Activities are coded by grade level A valuable tool for cooperative planning between librarians and teachers this book helps librarians choose present and promote book titles appropriate to specific themes It also helps teachers plan corresponding activities Grades K 3 Trickster Tales, 1996 Stories from cultures including ancient Babylonia China India Eastern Europe Morocco Find Someone Who Nancy J.
