Ray Hicks:

Ray Hicks Robert Isbell, 2001 Ray Hicks 78 the famous teller of Appalachian Jack Tales is one of America's best loved storytellers In this book he shares a different kind of story a chronicle of his family's experiences in the remote section of the North Carolina mountains where The Life and Times of Ray Hicks Lynn Salsi, 2008 Renowned storyteller Ray Hicks was a certified national treasure He received many prestigious honors in his lifetime including the National Heritage Fellowship Award from the National Endowment for the Arts Best known for his traditional storytelling and also for saving the original Beech Mountain Jack tales brought to the Appalachian Mountains by his ancestors as early as 1776 Hicks was conscious of the role he played in the preservation of oral storytelling Many of those stories are included in The Life and Times of Ray Hicks Born in 1922 Ray lived his whole life in the Appalachian Mountains of North Carolina Although it finally got a refrigerator and electric lights Ray's place never did get a telephone indoor plumbing or a radio or television It seems he knew everything there was to know about living off the land and about his family's history A lot of what he knew is in this new book Hicks made his public storytelling debut in 1951 when a local schoolteacher invited him to her class In 1973 Ray performed at the very first International Storytelling Festival in Jonesborough Tennessee He appeared at every one until he became too weak to attend He died on Easter Sunday in 2003 Based on hundreds of hours of interviews and visits painstakingly pieced together by Lynn Salsi The Life and Times of Ray Hicks comes as close as possible to capturing the way Ray talked Part memoir and part biography The Life and Times of Ray Hicks presents sometimes in Ray Hicks's own words the most important part of his long colorful life a life scarcely less interesting than the Jack Tales he told so well Lynn Salsi is the author of several books including The Jack Tales and Young Ray Hicks Learns the Jack Tales She has received the American Library Association's Notable Book Award six Willie Parker Peace History Book Awards and was named the North Carolina Historian of the Year in 2001 Ray Hicks of Beech Mountain, North Carolina [record Album]. Ray Hicks, 1963

American Folktales: From the Collections of the Library of Congress Carl Lindahl, 2015-03-17 This two volume collection of folktales represents some of the finest examples of American oral tradition Drawn from the largest archive of American folk culture the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress this set comprises magic tales legends jokes tall tales and personal narratives many of which have never been transcribed before much less published in a sweeping survey Eminent folklorist and award winning author Carl Lindahl selected and transcribed over 200 recording sessions many from the 1920s and 1930s that span the 20th century including recent material drawn from the September 11 Project Included in this varied collection are over 200 tales organized in chapters by storyteller tale type or region and representing diverse American cultures from Appalachia and the Midwest to Native American and Latino traditions Each chapter begins by discussing the storytellers and their oral traditions before presenting and introducing each tale making this collection accessible to high school students general readers or scholars Ray Hicks Telling Four Traditional "Jack Tales" Ray

Hicks, 1964 More Mountain People, Places and Ways Michael Joslin, Ruth Joslin, 1992-12 This volume draws its material from the same wealth of mountain culture as the first with stories and photographs of the mountains of today and yesterday creating a vivid picture of a vital way of life

Performance, Culture, and Identity Elizabeth C. Fine, Jean Haskell, 1992-10-20 This volume is based on the premise that artistic performance is epistemological a way of knowing self culture and other The nine essays in this book based on a broad range of ethnic racial and gender groups share a common interest in exploring how performance reveals shapes and sometimes transforms personal and cultural identity Editors Fine and Speer begin by examining the interdisciplinary roots of performance studies and the role of performance studies in the field of communication They also discuss the power of performance to shape personal and cultural identity The first two chapters explore the ritual nature of performance in two different cultural contexts an African American church service and an Appalachian storytelling event of the legendary Ray Hicks In both arenas the performers act as shamans transporting the audience from their everyday secular lives to the higher ground of the mythic spheres of heroic and fantastic events The next three chapters discuss the notion of place and performance in various landscapes the English countryside the Blue Ridge Mountains and the farmland of the Midwest Through analysis of the speech and songs of a modern Sussex yeoman the ghost tales of Appalachian storytellers and the narratives of Midwest farmers coping with hard times the authors reveal a variety of ways in which narrative performances function to preserve people's relationship with the land The last four chapters share a focus on women as storytellers One chapter offers a feminist critique of personal narrative research and challenges normative assumptions about the storytelling behavior of women Another chapter interprets a narration of a Galician woman's typical day to reveal how the performance expresses deeply held attitudes and beliefs of her cultural community Words are not the only medium that women use to tell their stories The next chapter examines the story cloths of Hmong women refugees from Laos as intercultural and dialogical performances The last chapter explores self discovery and identity in the storytelling of a woman in the last years of her life This volume is particularly representative of the ways in which communication scholars approach performance studies but will also interest researchers and students of folklore anthropology sociology theatre and related disciplines

Liars, Damn Liars, and Storytellers Joseph Sobol, 2023-08-18 Joseph Sobol is one of a select few contemporary scholar practitioners to chart the evolution of storytelling from traditional foundations to its current multifarious presence in American life The years since his classic The Storytellers Journey An American Revival 1999 have brought seismic shifts in storytelling circles Essays gathered here move between cultural history critical analysis and personal narratives to showcase the efforts of traditional and contemporary storytellers to make their presence felt in the world The book begins with an account of recent changes in the storytelling landscape including the growth of a new generation of urban personal storytelling venues sparked by The Moth Next is a suite of essays on Appalachian Jack tales the best known cycle of traditional American wonder tales and an account of its most celebrated practitioners including close encounters with the traditional master Ray Hicks The next set examines frames through which storytellers capture truth historical legendary literary oral traditional and personal Stylistic differences between northern and southern tellers are affectionately portrayed with a special look at the late much loved Alabaman Kathryn Tucker Windham The final section makes the case for informed critical writing on storytelling performance through a survey of notable contemporary storytellers work a look at the ethics of storytelling genres and a nuanced probe of truth and fiction in storytelling settings A tapestry of personal stories social criticism and artistic illuminations Liars Damn Liars and Storytellers is valuable not only to scholars and students in performance folklore cultural studies and theater but also to general readers with a love for the storytelling art

Jack in Two Worlds William Bernard McCarthy, Cheryl Oxford, Joseph Daniel Sobol, 1994 Jack in Two Worlds Contemporary North American Tales and Their Tellers

Kinfolk Parley B Flanery, Jr, 2010-12 Although Kinfolk is primarily about the Flanery family of Floyd County Kentucky it also offers an insightful look at a way of life unique to Appalachian America Kinfolk is certain to make you laugh cry and marvel at the bond that unites this intriguing family It describes in great detail what it was like to farm steep hillsides and mountaintops without the aid of mechanized equipment it illustrates the sport of foxhunting as was performed by mountain men during the middle of the twentieth century it provides a historical look at significant gun battles between feuding families but perhaps most importantly it provides a genealogical chart showing how the Flanery Flannery family is related to the Dinguses the Salisburys the Halberts the Crisps the Hicks the Stephenses and just about every other family in southeastern Kentucky The author has meshed prose poetry and pictures into an informational and entertaining book chronicling his family's history It is a must read for anyone who is related to the Flanerys or who is from Floyd County Kentucky It is also recommended to anyone who is interested in learning what it was like growing up in that part of Appalachia before the advent of four lane highways and modern communication systems

Art in a Democracy Ben Fink, 2023-03-14 Seminal plays and essays reveal the radical origins and approach of Appalachia's Roadside Theater This two volume anthology tells the story of Roadside Theater's first 45 years and includes nine award winning original play scripts ten essays by authors from different disciplines and generations which explore the plays social economic and political circumstances and a critical recounting of the theater's history from 1975 through 2020 The plays in Volume 1 offer a people's history of the Appalachian coalfields from the European incursion through the American War in Vietnam

Sobol s history of the past thirty years of American storytelling In this compelling examination of the contemporary search for myth Sobol explores the social and psychological roots of the storytelling revival and the ever resurgent power of the storyteller Drawing on interviews with dozens of storytellers around the country Sobol paints the revival as part of a larger process of cultural revitalization He traces the growth of the preeminent revival organization the National Association for the Preservation and Perpetuation of Storytelling NAPPS and details the individual passions the organizational politics and the economic social and mythic forces that have combined to transform a ragtag assemblage of enthusiasts into a national and international network of arts professionals A seemingly chance encounter between a restlessly ambitious high school teacher and a coonhunting tale on the car radio sets off a chain of inspirations that changes the face of a small southern town touches lives across America and revitalizes a homely but treasured art form      Host Bibliographic Record for Boundwith Item
