Read My Mind Young Children Poetry And Learning:

Read my Mind Fred Sedgwick, 2002-11-01 In this Sedgwick's latest book he aims to help all those involved with children and their learning through poem writing improve their practice. He argues that through poetry children can learn about the whole curriculum including history and science. The book begins with an introduction outlining the importance of poetry and defining it. It discusses poetry in terms of children's learning and the imagination. Case studies are used to show how children learn about themselves first their bodies and second their thoughts and emotions through the writing of poetry. Using many examples of children's work he considers how children learn about their environment and the relationship between themselves and their environment. Finally he discusses his techniques for getting children to write and provides recommendations for further reading. Fred Sedgwick is a freelance lecturer and writer specialising in children's writing art and personal social and moral education and has been described as the nearest thing I've seen to the Pied Piper. Previously a headteacher in primary schools for 16 years he has published books of poetry for both children and adults.

The SAGE Handbook of Writing Development Roger Beard,Debra Myhill,Jeni Riley,Martin Nystrand,2009-07-09 Writing development is currently the focus of substantial international debate because it is the aspect of literacy education that has been least responsive to central government and state reforms Teaching approaches in writing have been slower to change than those in teaching reading and pupil attainment in writing has increased at a much more modest rate than pupil attainment in reading This handbook critically examines research and theoretical issues that impact on writing development from the early years through to adulthood It provides those researching or teaching literacy with one of the most academically authoritative and comprehensive works in the field With expert contributors from across the world the book represents a detailed and valuable overview of a complex area of study     Thinking About Literacy Fred Sedgwick,2005-08-09 Thinking About Literacy discusses the literacy of children in the infant years The author takes the view that the child is an active learner when he she arrives in school and that it is the school s job to build on what the child already knows The book addresses issues such as spelling writing and children talking and writing about moral matters It has an optimistic view of the potential of children to surprise us with their language and emphasises that literacy is for life not just for an hour     Teaching Literacy Fred Sedgwick,2002-02-01 The teaching of literacy is a high priority for teachers and for governments yet some of the approaches commonly used are very limiting joyless and ultimately ineffective In contrast Fred Sedgwick shows how literacy can be combined with and promoted through a love of reading and children s ability to think and write creatively Using a wide variety of rich resources the author shows how to put creative approaches into practice and illustrates through children s work just how rewarding those results can be     *Jumpstart! Disruptive Inclusion Jen Smith ,2024-03-31 What is Christian adult learning What questions are raised when Christian faith and learning meet Many existing approaches primarily address issues such as curriculum content or teacher character Building on the work of John Hull Disruptive Inclusion approaches the intersection of theology and pedagogy suggesting that the christianness of Christian adult learning is best expressed by the posture adopted by learners not only via what is taught and by whom Specifically Jen Smith claims that a key to Christian adult learning posture is how learners include the unexpected and disruptive in their learning Drawing on key resources such as the biblical narrative Christian tradition liturgy community and her own experiences Jen takes us on a deeply personal and practical journey into disruptive inclusion and invites us to re imagine what effective Christian adult learning might look like in the classroom pulpit and online learning settings

EPZ Teaching Poetry Fred Sedgwick,2003-11-01 Too often the teaching of poetry is divided into the reading of poetry and the writing of poetry This division is strange and illogical because the two activities are not only linked but intermeshed This book will be an attempt to show how indispensable reading poetry is to writing it and vice versa The text will be divided into three sections The first section will be comprised of advice from his own experience on reading poetry to children at KS1 and KS2 The second section will comprise of case studies of children responding to poetry and will show how much children can actually understand The last section will be comprised of a case study of children writing poems
