and force Ravel describes how the parterre came to represent a larger more politicized notion of the public one that exposed the inability of the government to accommodate the demands of French citizens An important contribution to debates on the public sphere Ravel's book is the first to explore the role of the parterre in the political culture of eighteenth century France

Landscape Theory Rachel DeLue, James Elkins, 2010-10-28 Artistic representations of landscape are studied widely in areas ranging from art history to geography to sociology yet there has been little consensus about how to understand the relationship between landscape and art This book brings together more than fifty scholars from these multiple disciplines to establish new ways of thinking about landscape in art The French Mind On The Landscape Germán T. Cruz, 2012-09-13

Germán T Cruz is a landscape architect by profession and vocation with a wide path of practical engagement in urban and residential design across the USA and several countries In addition to professional practice from his studio Professor Cruz teaches at the Department of Landscape Architecture in the College of Architecture and Planning at Ball State University where he leads graduate and undergraduate design studios on urban design graphic communications parks regional design and open space as well as lecturing on design theory technology and materials contemporary history of urban design and philosophy of landscape architecture In 2010 he walked on the Road of Saint James through southern France and northern Spain from Le Puy en Velay to Santiago over 3000 km in 66 days The result of this journey was a design meditation and travelogue under the title Walking to Know that was published recently by Xlibris A collection of his poems has also been published in a bilingual edition Spanish English under the title Poemas Veniales Venial Poems Our Beautiful, Dry, and Distant Texts James Elkins, 2010-11-01 Elkins argues that writing is what art historians produce and whether such writing is a transparent vehicle for the transmission of facts or an embattled forum for the rehearsal of institutional relations and constructions of history it is an expressive medium with the capacity for emotion and reflection Therefore it needs to be taken seriously for its own sake it is the testament of art history and of individual historians and it is only weakened and slighted by versions of history that imagine it either as uncontrolled dissemination or as objective discovery and reporting

Site, Sight, Insight John Dixon Hunt, 2016-03-07 Site Sight Insight presents twelve essays by John Dixon Hunt the leading theorist and historian of landscape architecture The collection's common theme is a focus on sites how we see them and what we derive from that looking Acknowledging that even the most modest landscape encounter has validity Hunt contends that the more one knows about a site and one's own sight of it an awareness of how one is seeing the greater the insight Employing the concepts tropes and rhetorical methods of literary analysis he addresses the problem of how to discuss understand and appreciate places that are experienced through all the senses over time and through space Hunt questions our intellectual and aesthetic understanding of gardens and designed landscapes and asks how these sites affect us emotionally Do gardens have meaning When we visit a fine garden or designed landscape we experience a unique work of great complexity in purpose which has been executed over a number of years a work that occasionally achieves beauty While direct experience is fundamental Hunt demonstrates how the ways in which gardens and landscapes are communicated in word and image can be equally important He returns frequently to a cluster of key sites and writings on which he has based much of his thinking about garden making and its role in landscape architecture the gardens of Rousham in Oxfordshire Thomas Whately's Observations on Modern Gardening 1770 William Gilpin's dialogues on Stowe 1747 Alexander Pope's meditation on genius loci the Dessert de Retz Paolo Burgi's Cardada and the designs by Bernard Lassus and Ian Hamilton Finlay

Public Parks, Private Gardens Colta Ives, 2018-03-05 The spectacular transformation of Paris during the 19th century into a city of tree lined boulevards and public parks both redesigned the capital and inspired the era's great Impressionist artists The renewed landscape gave crowded displaced urban dwellers green spaces to enjoy while suburbanites and country dwellers began cultivating their own flower gardens As public engagement with gardening grew artists increasingly featured flowers and parks in their work Public Parks Private Gardens includes masterworks by artists such as Bonnard Cassatt C zanne Corot Daumier Van Gogh Manet Matisse Monet and Seurat Many of these artists were themselves avid gardeners and they painted parks and gardens as the distinctive scenery of contemporary life Writing from the perspective of both a distinguished art historian and a trained landscape designer Colta Ives provides new insights not only into these essential works but also into this extraordinarily creative period in France s history Profit Mark Stoll,2022-11-08 Profit getting more out of something than you put into it is the original genius of homo sapiens who learned how to unleash the energy stored in wood exploit the land and refashion ecosystems As civilization developed we found more and more ways of extracting surplus value from the earth often deploying brutally effective methods to discipline people to do the work needed Historian Mark Stoll explains how capitalism supercharged this process and traces its many environmental consequences The financial innovations of medieval Italy created trade networks that with the European discovery of the Americas made possible vast profits and sweeping cultural changes to the detriment of millions of slaves and indigenous Americans the industrial age united the world in trade and led to an energy revolution that changed lives everywhere But when efficient production left society awash in goods a new sort of capitalism predicated on endless individual consumption took its place This story of incredible ingenuity and villainy begins in the Doge s palace in medieval Venice and ends with Jeff Bezos aboard his own spacecraft Mark Stoll s revolutionary account places environmental factors at the heart of capitalism s progress and reveals the long shadow of its terrible consequences Design Book Review ,1990
