Bader, 1992-01-01 Redesigning Teaching provides concrete case studies of school districts implementing teacher reforms The cases describe the changes give the history and dynamics of each project examine how teachers respond to new policies and procedures and tell how state policy affects local efforts to change teaching The book also suggests that while short term improvements can be accomplished through bureaucracy serious reform requires professionalization The authors identify challenges that state governments school administrators and teachers associations must face if they really want to professionalize teaching A Knowledge Base for Teacher Education and Development Man Tak Chan, Yin Cheong Cheng, Kwok Tung Tsui, 2002

Jacobs, Rebecca West Burns, 2021-04-01 Given the increasing diversity of the United States and students entering schools the value of teacher learning in clinical contexts and the need to elevate the profession national organizations have been calling for a re envisioning of teacher preparation that turns teacher education upside down This change will require PK 12 schools and universities to partner in robust ways to create strong professional learning experiences for aspiring teachers University faculty in particular will not only need to work in schools but they will need to work with schools in the preparation of future teachers This collaboration should promote greater equity and justice for our nation's students The purpose of this book is to support individuals in designing clinically based teacher preparation programs that place equity at the core Drawing from the literature as well as our experiences in designing and coordinating award winning teacher education programs we offer a vision for equity centered clinically based preparation that promotes powerful teacher professional learning and develops high quality equity centered teachers for schools The chapter topics include policy guidelines partnerships intentional clinical experiences coherence curriculum and coursework university based teacher educators school based teacher educators teacher candidate supervision and evaluation the role of research and instructional leadership in teacher preparation While the concepts we share are research based and grounded in the empirical literature our primary intention is for this book to be of practical use We hope that by the time you finish reading you will feel inspired and equipped to make change within your own program your institution and your local context We begin each chapter with a Before You Read section that includes introductory activities or self assessment questions to prompt reflection about the current state of your teacher preparation program We also weave examples a Spotlight from Practice in the form of vignettes designed to spark your thinking for program improvement Finally we conclude each chapter with a section called Exercises for Action which are questions or activities to help you re imagine and move toward action in the re design of your teacher preparation program We hope that you will use the exercises by yourself but perhaps more importantly with others to stimulate conversations about how you can build upon what you are already doing well to make your program even better Praise for Re Designing Programs A Vision for Equity Centered Clinically Based Teacher Preparation Jennifer Jacobs and Rebecca West Burns book Re Designing Programs A Vision for Equity Centered Clinically Based Teacher Preparation is a must read for all teacher educators especially those involved in the creation and or direction of clinically based teacher education programs Their text provides a roadmap for higher education and school based teacher educators to collaboratively design a program that prepares teachers to meet the needs of future students They not only redefine the terms and language we use within clinical practice programs but also encourage us to reflect upon how teachers should be prepared in an equity centered clinically based teacher education program Their text deserves to be on the book shelves of all teacher educators D John McIntyre
