Marriage and Family Hamilton I. McCubbin, Barbara B. Dahl, 1985 Understanding Marriage, Family, and Intimate Relationships Jerry D. Lehman, 2005 This introductory textbook is for students who are interested in learning about and establishing healthy marriage family and intimate relationships With divorce rates high and relationships fragile books and courses are needed that help students address important issues regarding relationships The readers of this text examine many important and relevant issues through the lens of theory and research and do so using a written format that is readable understandable and easy to apply to one's life It was written so that each chapter has information that readers will find helpful as they attempt to establish and maintain meaningful healthy relationships There are questions throughout each chapter that help readers focus not only on the material but also on how the material relates to their present and past relationship and family situations The text provides material on the research of John Gottman the object relations theory of Harville Hendrix the solution focused approach of Michele Weiner Davis and the PREP approach to conflict management of Markman Stanley and Blumberg These and other topics discussed are very relevant to students concerns and are addressed in greater depth than found in most other texts The emphasis is not just on couple relationships but also on family relationships Therefore in this book there is extensive coverage of family systems theory and the influence of family rules and family structure on the development of families There is also material on how change produces transitions in family life that must be assimilated into the family structure for example when a couple has their first child Thus both couple and family issues are addressed throughout the book For instructors who want to focus their courses on marriage family and intimate relationships this book would be an ideal choice A study guide for students and instructional material for instructors can be obtained by visiting www.understandingrelationships.net Kinshasa in Transition David

Shapiro, Oleko Tambashe, 2003-05 After decades of tremendous growth Kinshasa capital of the Democratic Republic of the Congo is now the second largest urban area in sub Saharan Africa And as the city has grown from around 300 000 people in the mid 1950s to more than five million today it has experienced seismic social economic and demographic changes In this book David Shapiro and B Oleko Tambashe trace the impact of these changes on the lives of women and their findings add dramatically to the field s limited knowledge of African demographic trends They find that fertility has declined significantly in Kinshasa since the 1970s and that women s increasing access to secondary education has played a key role in this decline Better access to education has also given women greater access to employment opportunities And by examining the impact of such factors as economic well being and household demographic composition on the schooling of children Shapiro and Tambashe reveal how one generation s fertility affects the next generation s education This book will be a valuable guide for anyone who wants to understand the complex and ongoing social demographic economic and developmental changes in contemporary sub Saharan Africa

Transitioning to Adulthood in Asia: School, Work, and Family Life Wei-Jun Jean Yeung,Cheryll Alipio, Frank F. Furstenberg, Jr.,2013-03-07 In the past decade or so scholars in the United States have identified the emergence of a new distinct stage of life as adolescence has become protracted and most young people of recent generations take longer to achieve economic and psychological autonomy than they did a half century ago This new life stage in between adolescence and adulthood when young people are in a semiautonomous state has come to be known as early adulthood Main characteristics of this new life stage include a later entry into the work force a longer period of time living in the natal home and a delayed age at marriage and childbearing These trends not only have profound implications for young adults well being and intergenerational relationships but also challenge social institutions such as family schools labor markets and many youth serving institutions

Mandela's Children Oscar A. Barbarin,Linda M. Richter,2013-11-26 There is a gap between the hope for improved social conditions in post apartheid South Africa and the grim reality of black life there is especially striking for South African children who face serious threats to their health and development as a consequence of poverty racism violence and residual social inequality Mandela's Children presents the contrasting conditions of hope and peril that characterize life in South African families schools and communities Using empirical data and qualitative case studies the authors analyze and discuss research on children's behavioral emotional and academic development and how they are influenced by community violence household poverty and family functioning This discussion is balanced by one that considers the competence health and resilience of South African children The Birth Of The Family Jerry M.

Handbook of Family Theories Mark A. Fine, Frank D. Fincham,2013 Organized by content areas rather than by theory this book helps readers gain greater insight into how key theories have impacted today s family research Using the 2000 and 2010 decade in review issues of the Journal of Marriage and Family as a resource the book addresses the most important topics impacting family studies research today The book is organized around the most important domains in the field parenting and parent child relationships romantic relationships conflict and aggression structural variation and transitions demographic variations and families and extra familial institutions Each of the contributors describes how theory has been used to generate new knowledge in the field and suggests future directions for how theory may be used to extend our knowledge base The book helps readers acquire a working knowledge of the key family science theories findings and issues and understand how researchers make use of these theories in their empirical efforts Families with Adolescents

Stephen M. Gavazzi, Ji-Young Lim,2023-10-06 The second edition of this book offers an expanded and updated blueprint for more consistently improved practice emphasizing family process and structure instead of only individual developmental stages Its chapters deftly summarize the recent knowledge base about families with adolescents and explains how to apply these results across mental health and social services disciplines The new edition clearly illustrates family concerns and theoretical perspectives through real world vignettes and cogent use of family assessment measures Chapters offer a broad understanding of how diversity in all its forms including race ethnicity culture religion and sexual orientation has created a much more nuanced understanding of how families with adolescents are able to function within their environment Both major challenges to families and communities form the backdrop of the second edition s focus on forecasting in which the theoretical empirical and intervention literatures necessarily move in service to the health and well being of families with adolescents Featured topics include Central concepts of family development family systems ecological attachment and social learning theories in relation to families with adolescents Influence of the family on adolescent problem behavior mental health concerns substance use issues educational attainment and social competence outcomes Selected studies on parenting behaviors conflict resolution and other major aspects of families with adolescents Application topics in family based intervention and prevention programs Integrating theory research and applications to create a triple threat model Diversity issues surrounding race ethnicity culture religion and sexual orientation Families with Adolescents Second Edition is an essential resource for researchers professors and graduate and advanced undergraduate students as well as professionals and other mental health clinicians practitioners and therapists in clinical child and developmental psychology family studies human development sociology social work education and all allied disciplines International bibliography of research in marriage and the family Joan Aldous,1967
