"Something Dreadful and Grand" Stephen Watt, 2015-06-02 Elaborate analogies between Irish and Jewish history between Irish and Jewish subjectivities occur with surprising frequency throughout American literature They recall James Joyce's Leopold Bloom and episodes of Ulysses Douglas Hyde's analogies during the Celtic Revival between learning Hebrew and learning Irish and a myriad of claims of an unusual relationship between these peoples that goes beyond comparisons of their respective diasporic histories But how does one describe this uncanny relationship one often marked by hostility affinity and ambivalence without essentializing people whose origins class affiliation educations life experiences and so on are enormously different Something Dreadful and Grand American Literature and the Irish Jewish Unconscious describes a complex allo-Semitism and allo-Hibernianism through a variety of cultural texts with which immigrant Irish and Jewish Americans were most engaged popular music of the Tin Pan Alley era tenement literature from Anzia Yezierska and James T Farrell through the posthumous publication of Henry Roth's An American Type and proletarian and socialist inflected drama by Elmer Rice Clifford Odets Eugene O'Neill and Arthur Miller as they engaged the Irish drama of such writers as Bernard Shaw and Sean O'Casey In an effort to trace both the genealogy and more recent trajectory of immigrant drama and fiction chapters explore both the post-Famine melodramatic stage of the nineteenth century and a host of more contemporary texts from newer generations of immigrants Throughout the book argues for a circum-North Atlantic culture in which texts from Ireland Britain Irish America and Jewish America contribute substantially to both a modern American literature and to understandings of the terms Irish and Jewish How can we really know what these terms mean as they delimit or erase totally the differences inherent to them Borrowing a term from psychoanalytic and political theory Something Dreadful and Grand explores the larger dimensions of this Irish Jewish unconscious underlying cultural production in America arguing for the centrality of these two diasporic groups to the development of American popular music fiction and especially drama

Relative Races Brigitte Fielder, 2020-09-21 In Relative Races Brigitte Fielder presents an alternative theory of how race is ascribed Contrary to notions of genealogies by which race is transmitted from parents to children the examples Fielder discusses from nineteenth century literature history and popular culture show how race can follow other directions Desdemona becomes less than fully white when she is smudged with Othello's blackface a white woman becomes Native American when she is adopted by a Seneca family and a mixed race baby casts doubt on the whiteness of his mother Fielder shows that the genealogies of race are especially visible in the racialization of white women whose whiteness often depends on their ability to reproduce white family and white supremacy Using black feminist and queer theories Fielder presents readings of personal narratives novels plays stories poems and images to illustrate how interracial kinship follows non heteronormative non biological and non patrilineal models of inheritance in nineteenth century literary culture     Theatre History Studies ,1988     Slavic & Baltic Division of the NYPL Collection ,1988     The Bernhardt Hamlet Gerda Taranow,1996 Critics regarded Sarah Bernhardt's interpretation of Hamlet in 1899 as the revelation of Shakespeare's tragedy in France The Bernhardt Hamlet is the first to investigate that production and to explain its context and its impact upon the cultural life of the time Bernhardt's most significant innovation was her rejection of romantic sensibility in favor of the revenge tradition In assuming a male role she remained within the theatrical tradition of travesti that came to full fruition in the nineteenth century Classically trained the 54 year old Bernhardt refashioned the Hamlet inheritance with insight vigor and originality     The Quarterly Journal of Speech Education ,1926     The Pacific Unitarian ,1918     United States Theatre Robert Silvester,1993
