The A to Z of African American Cinema S. Torriano Berry,Venise T. Berry,2009-09-02 On 4 July 1910 in 100 degree heat at an outdoor boxing ring near Reno Nevada film cameras recorded and thousands of fans witnessed former heavyweight champion Jim Jeffries reluctant return from retirement to fight Jack Johnson a black man After 14 grueling rounds Johnson knocked out Jeffries and for the first time in history there was a black heavyweight champion of the world At least 10 people lost their lives because of Johnson s victory and hundreds more were injured due to white retaliation and wild celebrations in the streets Public screenings received instantaneous protests and hundreds of cities barred the film from being shown Congress even passed a law making it a federal offense to transport moving pictures of prizefights across state lines and thus the most powerful portrayal of a black man ever recorded on film was made virtually invisible This is but one of the hundreds of films covered in The A to Z of African American Cinema which includes everything from The Birth of a Nation to Crash In addition to the films brief biographies of African American actors and actresses such as Sidney Poitier James Earl Jones Halle Berry Eddie Murphy Whoopi Goldberg Denzel Washington and Jamie Foxx can be found in this reference Through a chronology a list of acronyms and abbreviations an introductory essay a bibliography appendixes black white photos and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on actors actresses movies producers organizations awards film credits and terminology this book provides a better understanding of the role African Americans played in film history

Z P J Hoge,2011-09-07 Throughout Rainbows and Rattlenakes Dr Zach Jeffries worked to overcome the trauma of his tortured childhood He thought he had dealt with it and put it in the past The young man was able to begin building a happy quiet life and looking forward to his future That is until a phone call from his sister The news of the death or disappearance of his father forced him to begin to unravel the mystery of his family Even though it threatens his sanity security and his new found happiness he realizes that he has a responsibility to himself his fiancée and his family to investigate He knows he will never be able to rest until he knows the truth The investigation leads him and his Merton family to Massachusetts Texas Arkansas and Louisiana He unravels unhappy truths about his family including adulterous affairs insanity crime and hidden bank accounts sadistic behavior and murder Before the revelations are complete his life is turned inside out and everything he ever believed is challenged Will the months of anguish and pain be worth it all when the mystery is resolved Will he and his sister have any part of their lives intact
