Reengaging History Paul Maurice Clogon, 2005 Since its founding in 1943 Medievalia et Humanistica has won worldwide recognition as the first scholarly publication in America to devote itself entirely to medieval and Renaissance studies Since 1970 a new series sponsored by the Modern Language Association of America and edited by an international board of distinguished scholars and critics has published interdisciplinary articles In yearly hardbound volumes the new series publishes significant scholarship criticism and reviews treating all facets of medieval and Renaissance culture history art literature music science law economics and philosophy Volume thirty one in the new series contains six original and refereed articles that represent a reengagement with history. They focus on a variety of topics ranging from reception theory in Andreas Capellanus and the ideal sovereign in Christine de Pizan to peasant rebel leaders in late medieval and early modern Europe. Don Monson's article makes good usage of Jauss's reception theory and analyzes the third Dialogue of Book I Chapter 6 of De Amore in a thorough and intelligent way. Important aspects of the relationship between scientific Latin treatises and Provençal courtly poetry are neatly demonstrated. Karen Gross examines structural and thematic resemblances between the Aeneid and De Casibus, arguing that Anchises' pageant of future Roman worthies in Aen. VI is connected to the frame structure of De casibus. The author is interested in global similarities, not local verbal echoes, and believes that the structure resonances have implications for how Boccaccio understood the interaction between history and poetry between the living and the dead. Especially thought provoking and original are the discussion of the motif of father-son piety and commemoration and the contrast of Virgil's fortuna in Roman history and Boccaccio's in world history. Daisy Delogu's article on Christine de Pizan is a timely one and also represents reengagement with history.

John Bartlett, 1881 The Romance of the Rose Guillaume de Lorris, Jean de Meun, 1995-07-23 Many English speaking readers of the Roman de la rose, the famous dream allegory of the thirteenth century, have come to rely on Charles Dahlberg's elegant and precise translation of the Old French text. His line-by-line rendering in contemporary English is available again this time in a third edition with an updated critical apparatus. Readers at all levels can continue to deepen their understanding of this rich tale about the Lover and his quest against the admonishments of Reason and the obstacles set by Jealousy and Resistance to pluck the fair Rose in the Enchanted Garden. The original introduction by Dahlberg remains an excellent overview of the work, covering such topics as the iconographic significance of the imagery and the use of irony in developing the central theme of love. His new preface reviews selected scholarship through 1990, which examines, for example, the sources and influences of the work, the two authors, the nature of the allegorical narrative as a genre, the use of first person, and the poem's early reception. The new bibliographic material incorporates that of the earlier editions. The sixty-four miniature illustrations from thirteenth and fifteenth century manuscripts are retained, as are the notes keyed to the Langlois edition on which the translation is based.
