Macmillan Encyclopedia Of Architects Volume 3:

Cast Iron Architecture In America Margot Gayle, Carol Gayle, 1998-01-06 The first book on the life and work of 19th century American inventor and entrepreneur James Bogardus known for his unique grinding mill and other patented devices However his enduring claim to fame is his cast iron structures forerunners of the modern skyscraper Modern interest in Bogardus stems from the historic preservation movement His four surviving buildings in New York are recognized landmarks Illustrated William Morgan Robert McCarter, William N. Morgan, The Images Publishing Group, 2002 William Morgan is a fundamental modernist whose work has for forty years remained absolutely true to the principles of modern architecture Each of Morgan's designs can therefore be said to have a multitude of precedents from throughout time and not on

Architects to the Nation Antoinette J. Lee, 2000-04-20 This unique book traces the evolution and accomplishments of the office that from 1852 until 1939 held a virtual monopoly over federal building design Among its more memorable buildings are the Italianate U S Mint in Carson City the huge granite pile of the State War and Navy Building in Washington D C the towering U S Post Office in Nashville New York City's neo Renaissance customhouse and such restorations as the ancient adobe Palace of the Governors in Santa Fe In tracing the evolution of the Office and its creative output Antoinette J Lee evokes the nation's considerable efforts to achieve an appropriate civic architecture The First American Women Architects Sarah Allaback, 2008 An invaluable reference covering the history of women architects Church of Notre Dame in Montreal Franklin Toker, 1991 In the extensive new preface Toker examines the approach he took in writing The Church of Notre Dame in Montreal and reflects on the implications of what has been discovered since the book was first published in 1970 Abraham Lincoln Birthplace National Historic Site Robert W. Blythe, 2001 Studies in Tectonic Culture Kenneth Frampton, 2001-08-24 Composed of ten essays and an epilogue that trace the history of contemporary form as an evolving poetic of structure and construction the book's analytical framework rests on Frampton's close readings of key French and German and English sources from the eighteenth century to the present Kenneth Frampton's long awaited follow up to his classic A Critical History of Modern Architecture is certain to influence any future debate on the evolution of modern architecture Studies in Tectonic Culture is nothing less than a rethinking of the entire modern architectural tradition The notion of tectonics as employed by Frampton the focus on architecture as a constructional craft constitutes a direct challenge to current mainstream thinking on the artistic limits of postmodernism and suggests a convincing alternative Indeed Frampton argues modern architecture is invariably as much about structure and construction as it is about space and abstract form Composed of ten essays and an epilogue that trace the history of contemporary form as an evolving poetic of structure and construction the book's analytical framework rests on Frampton's close readings of key French and German and English sources from the eighteenth century to the present He clarifies the various turns that structural engineering and tectonic imagination have taken in the work of such architects as Perret Wright Kahn Scarpa and Mies and shows how both constructional form and material character were integral to an evolving architectural expression of their work. Frampton also demonstrates that the way in which these elements are articulated from one work to the next provides a basis upon which to evaluate the works as a whole. This is especially evident in his consideration of the work of Perret, Mies and Kahn and the continuities in their thought and attitudes that linked them to the past. Frampton considers the conscious cultivation of the tectonic tradition in architecture as an essential element in the future development of architectural form, casting a critical new light on the entire issue of modernity and on the place of much work that has passed as avant garde. A copublication of the Graham Foundation for Advanced Studies and The MIT Press. The Old Executive Office Building, 1984. Grant, Jean Edward Smith, 2002-04-09. In this magnificent biography, Jean Edward Smith skillfully reconciles the disparate conflicting assessments of Ulysses S. Grant, confirming his genius as a general but convincingly showing that Grant's presidential accomplishments were as considerable as his military victories. 40 photos. Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World (2 vols.) Susan Sinclair, 2012-04-03. Following the tradition and style of the acclaimed Index Islamicus, the editors have created this new Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World. The editors have surveyed and annotated a wide range of books and articles from collected volumes and journals published in all European languages except Turkish between 1906 and 2011. This comprehensive bibliography is an indispensable tool for everyone involved in the study of material culture in Muslim societies. Art and Architecture in Italy, 1600-1750 Rudolf Wittkower, Joseph Connors, Jennifer Montagu, 1999-01-01. This classic survey of Italian Baroque art and architecture focuses on the arts in every center between Venice and Sicily in the early high and late Baroque periods. The heart of the study, however, lies in the architecture and sculpture of the exhilarating years of Roman High Baroque when Bernini, Borromini and Cortona were all at work under a series of enlightened popes. Wittkower's text is now accompanied by a critical introduction and substantial new bibliography. This edition, now published in three volumes, will also include color illustrations for the first time. *A.W.N. Schmitt, 2024-04-22. Sullivan-esque offers a visual and historical tour of a unique but often overlooked facet of modern American architecture derived from Louis Sullivan. Highly regarded in architecture for inspiring the Chicago School and the Prairie School, Sullivan was an unwilling instigator of the method of facade composition later influenced by Frank Lloyd Wright, William Gray Purcell and George G. Elmslie, that came to be known as Sullivan-esque. Decorative enhancements with botanical and animal themes, Sullivan's distinctive ornamentation mitigated the hard geometries of the large buildings he designed, coinciding with his form follows function aesthetic. Sullivan's designs offered solutions to problems presented by new types and scales of buildings. Widely popular, they were also widely copied and the style proliferated due to a number of Chicago-based interests.

including the Radford Architectural Company and several decorative plaster and terra cotta companies Stock replicas of Sullivan's designs manufactured by the Midland Terra Cotta Company and others gave distinction and focus to utilitarian buildings in Chicago's commercial strips and other confined areas such as the downtown districts of smaller towns Mass produced Sullivanesque terra cotta endured as a result of its combined economic and aesthetic appeal blending the sophistication of high architectural art with the pragmatic functionality of building design Masterfully framed by the author's photographs of Sullivanesque buildings in Chicago and throughout the Midwest Ronald E Schmitt's in depth exploration of the Sullivanesque tells the story of its evolution from Sullivan's intellectual and aesthetic foundations to its place as a form of commercial vernacular The book also includes an inventory of Sullivanesque buildings Honorable Mention recipient of the 2002 PSP Awards for Excellence in Professional Scholarly Publishing A City in the Making Frederick H.
